Snarl Of Traffic Is Called One Of Worst In Marin

Median Strip Helps Prevent More Pileups On Highway 101

Twenty persons were injured in traffic accidents as motorists skidded on slippery Highway 101 and other parts of rainswept Marin County yesterday.

Most heavily accident-plagued was the stretch of Highway 101 between the crest of Alto Hill and the Corte Madera overpass, where a new median strip barrier fence is under construction.

Fence posts and cables have been placed but the chain-link fencing has not yet been secured to them. However, the unfinished barrier paid off for the motorist yesterday, declared Sgt. James C. Dukes of the California Highway Patrol.

EXCHANGE NAMES

Dukes said the patrol took reports on 19 accidents from 2:30 to 8 p.m. yesterday, and an unknown number of other persons in accidents exchanged names and continued on. In nearly every case one or more of the vehicles struck the median barrier, Dukes said. In several areas the fence was struck several times at points very close together.

"There is no way to know how many people on the other side would have been struck, and of course some might have been fatally injured, if there had not been a fence there to stop them from going over into the opposite lanes," he pointed out.

SIX TREATED

Dukes said the day was one of the worst he can remember since being in the county. Three men were held over from the patrol's day shift, in addition to the eight units on the evening shift, and at times all units were tied up.

Six persons were treated at Marin General Hospital after a three-car collision on the Alto Hill at 4:35 p.m. Injured were Willard T. McDonald, 42, of 734 Del Ganado Road, San Rafael, bruised on the abdomen; Esther Schatz, 15, fractured finger on the left hand; Garnie Schatz, 18, cut lower lip; Ellen Schatz, 12, bruised on the face; Larry Schatz, 7, bruised on the face and head; James C. O'Connor, 23, of San Francisco, bruised on the back. The Schatz children are from Fort Bragg. They were riding in a station wagon driven by William R. Schatz, 45, of Fort Bragg.

DEPUTY HURT

The patrol reported McDonald, driving a pickup truck, had to veer to avoid another vehicle spinning out of control. The truck struck the O'Connor car. Schatz could not avoid the snarl and hit the McDonald truck.

BATTERED LIFE-SAVER—Partially completed fence down divider of Highway 101 looked like this, viewed south from crest of Alto Hill, today after being hit by numerous cars that skidded during yesterday's heavy rainstorm. Sgt. James C. Dukes of the California Highway Patrol said the fence already had proved its life-saving capacity.

Standards For Formation Unit Are Proposed

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

A set of proposed standards for decisions by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission has been written by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows, executive officer of the commission, and is being studied by commissioners for Thursday's meeting.

The proposal lists changes in an order of preference which would make annexation to an existing city the best possible change, and formation of a new single-purpose special district the worst.

New boundaries should not create an island, corridor or strip, Barrows suggests, and any change which does so should be explained and justified.

Boundaries should not divide an identifiable community or commercial district unless there is need for the improved level of services shown.

If a change in boundaries would have a disrupting operational or economic effect on surrounding areas or governmental units, the necessity for such a change must be explained, Barrows believes, along with reasons why boundaries cannot be further changed to help solve new problems which might be created by the proposal.

If a new agency is to be formed, it must be shown to be economically feasible, and should take into account projected population changes in-

Transit District Study Requested

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to ask the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to authorize a study of feasibility of a transit district and possible means of commuting by water.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr moved the request. He said two-thirds of such a study's cost could be paid for by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. Cost of the study was estimated not to exceed $30,000.

Included was a recommendation that the survey be done by Deleuw and Cather Co., the firm which earlier did a rapid transit study for Alameda County.

Incorporation Of Tiburon Set June 23

At request of the city council-elect of the not-yet incorporated city of Tiburon, the Marin County Board of Supervisors today acted to have the area become a city June 23. (See also story page ..

The action came as supervisors approved the official canvass of the June 2 incorporation election. The board requested county clerk George H. Gnoss or one of his deputies to deliver personally incorporation papers to the office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in Sacramento on June 23.

Four of the councilmen-elect were present, Anne L. Ellinwood only woman on the new council, was not there.

The four men said they wished to meet to pass necessary actions setting up city services on the same day Tiburon becomes a city.

Incorporation will be effective as soon as the papers are received by Jordan.

U.S. Resumes Laos Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States resumed its jet reconnaissance flights over Laos today, and Communist China claimed that fighters escorting the photo planes bombed the Communist Laotian headquarters.

The New China News Agency said six heavily-armed U. S. Navy jets "intruded" into the Khang Khay and Phong Savang areas, dropped bombs and fired rockets. It claimed two fighters were damaged by Red anti-aircraft fire.

U. S. officials said the Navy jets resumed the scouting missions after a one-day suspension. They were given White House authority to fire to protect themselves and the unarmed photo-reconnaissance planes.

Rights Bill Jury Trial Measure Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate wrote a jury trial amendment into the civil rights bill today, then defeated a proposal to knock out provisions for government-financed training in how to handle school desegregation problems.

In the first votes on the bill in more than a month, a roll call of 51-48 approved a jury trial amendment offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.).

It would guarantee jury trials in al criminal contempts arising from the measure except in voting rights cases.

Next the Senate turned down a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to eliminate three sections of the school desegregation title of the bill.

Under these sections, the U. S. Office of Education could arrange for and finance institutes to train school personnel in dealing with desegregation problems, could pay stipends to those attending the institutes, and could make grants to school boards to pay at least part of the cost of local training of personnel to handle desegregation problems and to help the boards hire specialists to advise on such problems.

The vote against this was 56 to 40.

The adoption of Morton's amendment was a defeat for administration forces but they believed it might help them get the Senate to adopt tomorrow a limitation on debate by swaying some Republican votes.

Romney Says Nixon Urging Him To Become Candidate

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (UPI)— Michigan Gov. George Romney today turned down an appeal by former vice president Richard M. Nixon and others that he enter the GOP presidential race against near-nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan reported today that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and some Republican governors had urged him to become a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. (See also stories, page 2).

He told reporters at the National Governors Conference that he was taking the requests "under consideration."

Romney made the statement as he emerged from a conference with Nixon. The former vice president had met earlier with all Republican governors attending the conference.

Nixon told a news conference earlier that there was "a real possibility" the GOP governors would produce a challenger to Sen. Barry Goldwater. He also expressed belief that the Arizona senator would sew up the nomination by this weekend.

Romney, who had held a series of private conferences in the past 24 hours with Nixon in Detroit and Cleveland, said that "Dick and some of the governors have been urging me to become a candidate."

He said Nixon had urged him to follow through on his declaration Sunday that he would do all he could to block Goldwater's nomination unless the senator satisfied him about a number of issues.

Restaurant Owner Found Dead In Room

Dave Marowitz, 60, owner of the West End Villa in San Rafael, was found dead in his room at 12:20 p.m. today at the Bermuda Palms Motel, in San Rafael.

The body was found by his ex-wife Hertha Brandt who had been trying to reach him since the weekend. Marowitz had reportedly been ill for some time. He lived at the motel for the past two years.

Greatest Marin June Rainstorm In History Hits

Marin County was drenched yesterday with the greatest June rainstorm in its history.

In San Rafael the storm broke all records for the entire month, making it the wettest June in the city's history.

The city had a total of 2.25 inches of rain during the storm, for a total of 2.26 inches since June 1, breaking an 80 year June record total of 2.03 inches set in 1884. No rainfall tables prior to 1875 exist.

The rare summer storm, which gathered momentum after noon and continued through the evening, was by far the heaviest June rainstorm on record in the county.

From one to three inches fell throughout the county, with the Mount Tamalpais Fire lookout reporting the heaviest rainfall, an even three inches.

Carroll Snyker of Ross said Weather Bureau records dating back to 1888 show that the highest single June storm was 1.7 inches.

Records taken at Kentfield show the heaviest June rainfall there was 2.10 inches in 1912, he said.

The storm brought minor flooding and caused dozens of traffic accidents, but no extensive damage was reported.

Electric power was off to about 125 customers in the Lagunitas-Forest Knolls area from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. yesterday after a limb, heavy with rain, crossed a power line, reported Leonard O. Robertson, electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

High water flooded two lanes of Highway 101 near Hamilton Air Force Base, slowing homeward-bound commuters.

BROKEN MAIN

A broken water main along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, sent up a 40-foot geyser spouting at about 8:30 p.m. to add to the downpour. The break occurred at a spot where a temporary main was hooked onto a permanent main, reported the San Anselmo Fire Department. The water was cut off without interrupting service to homes, firemen said.

During the height of the storm at 2:30 p.m., the alert sirens at Hamilton Air Force Base sounded when water short-circuited the alarm system. The base was flooded with calls to learn if the alarm was "the real thing."

The storm surprised Marin residents and caused one old-timer, Edwin C. Gieseck of Mill Valley to comment, "I have seen it rain on the Fourth of July in Mill Valley. It's a screwy year, though."

The unexpected storm began clearing this morning. The forecast was partly cloudy tonight and fair and warmer tomorrow.

The storm reportedly moved into the area from the Gulf of Alaska, and dropped unseasonable snow in the Sierra Nevada.

San Rafael and Novato, which had an even two inches of rainfall, received the heaviest fall among the cities in the county.

San Rafael now has a total rainfall of 22.62 for the season as compared to 46.95 for last

Novato School 97-Cent Tax Increase Asked

A preliminary budget for 1964-65 of $2,787,656, calling for a 97-cent tax increase, was presented to the Novato Unified School District board last night by Supt. James G. Bunker.

This budget calls for an increase in the total tax rate from $4.12 to $5.09 per $100 assessed valuation, Bunker said.

The budget is $394,763 more than the $2,231,438 budget of this year. It is based on an estimate of 400 more in average daily attendance, and an increase in 10 per cent in assessed valuation.

Operating tax rate was increased only 23 cents, from $3.49 this year to $3.72 for next year, Bunker said. However, the tax rate for state loan repayments increases from 24 cents to 53 cents, and for local bond redemption from 39 to 84 cents.

The district saild $800,000 in bonds this year, Bunker pointed out in explaining why the bond redemption rate had increased.

The superintendent reported the Novato Unified School District is spending less per student per year than the state average, and less than neighboring districts.

He estimated Novato would spend $372 per student from kindergarten through eighth grade this year, and $537 per high school student. He compared that to $384 for Dixie, $466 for San Jose and $467 for San Rafael from kindergarten through the eighth grade. San Rafael High School District spends $646 per student, he said.

The state average for last year was $451 for elementary grades and $660 for high schools, Bunger said.

Bunker also made a plea for higher teacher salaries. He said "the salary schedule is too low in comparison with the state."

Kaiser Plans Hospital For Northgate Site

Proposal Must Be Approved By Foundation Board

Permanente Medical Foundation will build a Kaiser hospital in San Rafael if a proposed agreement is approved by the foundation's board of directors at a meetlate this month.

Site of the hospital will be at Northgate North, the 10-acre property immediately north of the Northgate Shopping Center, which has been approved by the City of San Rafael for an office building and motel-convention center. When approving the master plan for the "planned community" development, the city council and planning commission provided that a hospital might be an alternative use.

PACT CONFIRMED

Two service stations have already been approved on the 10 acres, leaving slightly over nine acres as a hospital site. It was understood the Kaiser interests might wish to build a hospital up to six stories high as the acreage is smaller than usually considered adequate for a Kaiser hospital.

CLINIC NOW

Permanente Medical Foundation now has a clinic on Fourth Street in San Rafael, and has been seeking a location for a larger clinic in the area. The Northgate North property might be used initially as a clinic site, with a hospital built a few years hence, it was understood.

Wallace Says Law On Rights Wouldn't Last

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people, North and South, are going to resent and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it.

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprize, and when people realize this the law will be repealed.

Wallace said he is convinced that feeling over the racial issue was an important factor in Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California presidential primary June 2.

As for Rockefeller's state, Wallace said: "New York already has all those civil rights laws on the books and New York has more problems today than any other state."

Answering a question, he said he has no plans to organize a nationwide movement to work for repealing the civil rights bill if or when it becomes law. "I won't put myself up for that," Wallace said, "but I'll do my part as best I know how."

Judging from Wallace's out-of-state mail, it appears that he has won much support for his civil rights position.

The letters and telegrams came from virtually every part of the nation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Brazil Leader Banned From Politics

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

Shastri, Indian Cabinet Sworn In

NEW NELHI, (UPI) — Lal Bahadur Shastri was sworn in as independent India's second prime minister today with a cabinet selected to follow the domestic and foreign policies of the late Jawaharlal Nehru.

Wounded Ex-Envoy Out Of Danger

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Roberto Arias, former Panamian ambassador to London, was reported "out of danger today" from four gunshot wounds suffered yesterday in a street corner political argument.

The bullets were fired by Alfredo Jimenez, a former bodyguard of Arias' uncle Arnulfo. The uncle was an unsuccessful candidate for president of Panama in last month's elections.

Church Fire Death Toll Now 15

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fatalities stand at 15 and damage suits at 3.4 million dollars in the wake of the May 23 All Hallows Church fire.

Mahuia Sotoa, 29, and Aouluili Vaesau, 19, died in San Francisco hospitals. Six persons were killed in the fire and nine have died from injuries.

A suit asking 1.7 million dollars on behalf of two widows was filed in Superior Court against the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco. Both women are expecting babies.

The fire in the Catholic church was ignited from a pan of gasoline to be used for fiery swords in the dance at a Samoan gathering.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Barry Confident Ike On His Side

COMBINED AP & UPI

He said in an interview last night that he is convinced Eisenhower, about the only man who could do so, would not interfere in Goldwater's headlong rush toward the 655 delegate votes needed for the nomination.

Goldwater, given an ovation on his arrival at a conference dinner, stayed to hear Eisenhower speak. He talked briefly with Eisenhower and other party leaders while table-hopping, then flew back to Washington.

Goldwater avoided any conferences with Republican governors who have been complaining that his conservative views would make it difficult for him to carry their states as the GOP nominee.

Specifically, he did not make himself available for discussions with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Eisenhower conferred with 15 of the 16 Republican governors on the political situation. Romney missed the meeting but flew in later.

Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas, conference chairman, said he and his colleagues "agreed that the Republican party and Republicans nationally are bigger than any individual."

This seemed to signal the general recognition that Goldwater is close to having the nomination in his pocket.

Rockefeller dropped by Goldwater's table during the dinner.

"Congratulations on that California victory," Rockefeller said. "You and I were the only ones who stuck it out."

(Eisenhower wants the states to force the federal government to balance its budget at least every two years through the never-used device of a constitutional convention.

(Eisenhower urged the governors to initiate amendments to the constitution through the convention system to apply a check on federal power.

(The constitution provides that congress shall call a convention for proposing amendments on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states. Any amendments thus proposed would still have to be ratified by three-fourths of the states. The convention system of amending the constitution has never been used in the 175-year history of the document.

(Eisenhower said that once the convention power was used "those in Washington power centers would never again feel at ease in their restless work to extend the federal reach, or to use tax money to attract votes.")

NOT TOO LATE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for president believe it's late — but not too late — for their man.

"We all realize it's very late," said Rep. Robert J. Corbett (R-Pa.), one of three lawmakers attending a closed-door strategy session in the office of Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), "however, we haven't said it's too late."

But the only concrete result of the session, apparently, was to send word to Scranton that the drive in his behalf cannot make any headway unless he makes a more definitive statement about his candidacy.

NEW JOB

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Ohio Republican State Chairman Ray C. Bliss today appeared almost certain to be named to succeed National GOP Chairman William E. Miller when he gives up the job, probably next month.

Bliss was the first person former President Dwight D. Eisenhower asked to see when he visited Cleveland yesterday. The two discussed the political situation generally in a closed meeting.

It was understood that Bliss, whose Ohio successes have made him a recognized national party leader, gave Eisenhower his ideas on building a strong party and also discussed Eisenhower's role in the coming campaign.

NIXON'S VIEW

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon said last night Sen. Barry Goldwater was the heavy favorite but the Republican presidential nomination "still is not locked up."

Nixon made the statement in a news conference here prior to his third appearance in Michigan.

However, Nixon declined to say who could take the GOP nomination from Goldwater.

Nixon said he does not plan to be a candidate for president or vice president this fall, and said he believed the party would turn to new faces.

LBJ DELEGATES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey howed today.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes —all from Alabama.

Town Fights Flood

MAYO, Yukon Territory (UPI) —Most Mayo residents camped in tents today to escape flood waters which covered more than a quarter of the town. Two rampaging rivers inundated lower sections of the town. Residents worked to shore up dikes along one of the rivers to keep the community from being washed away. Flood waters were still rising.

Johnson Nominates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Lyndon B. Johnson has nominated Leonard Marks Jr. of Palo Alto, Calif., to be an assistant dean of the International Center for the Advancement of Management Education at Stanford University, will succeed Meil E. Harlan, resigned.

Goldwater Fight Seen By Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, his own political stock boosted by an enthusiastic reception on a one-day visit here, last night assessed the fortunes of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater and struck out against the John Birch Society and ultra-conservatism.

Closing his rapid tour of the metropolitan area with a speech at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, Kennedy criticized people who "want to stop history in its tracks" and return to "a comfortable past which, in fact, never existed."

Earlier in the day-long tour of local educational and employment centers, Kennedy said the so-called "stop Goldwater" drive started much too late to be effective, and predicted his own party would be "looking forward" to battling the Arizona Republican in November.

Disavowing any personal political aspirations at this point, the attorney general demonstrated the continued power of the Kennedy name as he moved among crowds, mostly in minority group areas, in his role as chairman of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency.

Khrushchev, Tito Appeal For Red Unity

Khrushchev said in an airport statement that "full identity of views" had been achieved on a "whole range of questions of relations between peoples through the world."

Tito said that "on all subjects we discussed there were no differences and I don't believe any will arise in the future even remotely resembling what we had in the past."

Russian Military Accuses U.S. Of Satellite Spies

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today accused the United States of operating satellites and a network of radio and radar posts to spy on Russian military and space installations.

The Soviet Defense Ministry newspaper Red Star charged that the United States had launched several satellites this year which were shrouded in "strictest secrecy without indications of their time of launching, purpose or orbits."

The U.S. embassy here termed the charges "ridiculous." Foreign observers said the Red Star article appeared to be an attempt at increasing Soviet vigilance and regarded it as Kremlin propaganda.

MONTANA FLOODS RAVAGE STATE

'Greatest Natural Disaster' Kills Eight, Sweeps Away Dams, Bridges; Rain Continues

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Floods described as the worst in memory swept out of Montana's northwestern mountains yesterday, killing at least eight persons, sweeping away dams and bridges and leaving hundreds of residents isolated. Rain pelted the area for the fifth straight day.

Authorities said the death toll included five members of one Blackfoot Indian family.

A girl was reported drowned in Valier, on the Indian reservation, and two motorists were killed when their vehicles plunged into raging stream.

DAMAGE ESTIMATES

Col. Howard McKinney of the Montana National Guard said the floods were the greatest natural disaster the state has ever suffered.

Rescue workers were blocked in many places by washed-out bridges and long stretches of inundated highway. At least 20 bridges and four earthen dams were carried away by the pounding water.

HIT BY SURPRISE

With a sling and hoist, Air Force medics lifted seven persons from perches ranging from tree limbs to roof tops.

In Choteau, all 2,000 residents left their homes to seek shelter overnight in a church and country club on higher ground.

Jim Farrar of Shelby watched 15 horses hurled into a ravine by the torrent. Moments later it caught a herd of cattle and churned them under.

The main floods were on the Sun River, rising in mountains west of Great Falls, and on the Marias River, with tributaries in Glacier National Park.

Both the Sun and Marias feed into the Missouri River.

The Sun, which joins the Missouri at Great Falls, was expected to reach a crest of 20 feet, more than eight feet above flood stage, late today at Great Falls.

Hurricane, Storm Fatal To 11 In Italy

ROME (AP)—A hurricane followed by lashing rainstorms and landslides took at least 11 lives in northern Italy last night and today.

Fishing boats were blown to sea and capsized in the storm-swept upper Adriatic. At least 16 fishermen may have drowned.

A landslide crashed down Mount Olinpino at down, burying five wokrmen at the mouth of a highway tunnel near Lake Como. The bodies were recovered.

SAFETY HELMETS FOR POLICE

Sausalito police yesterday received safety helmets which they are to wear on all calls according to Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck. The helmets are plastic, with black base and light blue top. Said Chief Huck: "There are certain elements of our society that show disrespect to authority of law enforcement officers. There are a number of officers annually injured because of being struck on the head." Result: the helmets. Officer John Higgins is seen wearing his. (Independent-Journal photo)

Street Names Might Change—Fire Mixups

About 25 streets in Fairfax may soon receive new names.

The Fairfax City Council last night looked over a sheet of requested name changes submitted by Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, who said his department and other emergency agencies are worried that duplications of names with nearby cities may lead to a tragedy.

He cited recent cases in which emergency vehicles went to San Rafael, Ross and other communities when they were called to similarly named streets in Fairfax.

Councilmen took no action, since alternate names had not yet been suggested for the streets. But they appeared eager to go through with the request, and Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet suggested councilmen meet with Thornton to work out a list of new names.

Only street mentioned by name was a small part of Ridgeway Avenue, which Donald Banks of 105 Chester Avenue suggested be made part of Willow Avenue. In a letter, Banks said the extension has only three houses on it, and people looking for these homes often go to the wrong end of Ridgeway. The council promised to study this along with Thornton's list.

Earlier doubts about one phase of the countywide uniform animal control ordinance, recently adopted by the council, were nearly settled as councilman introduced an ordinance setting fees of $3 for male or spayed dogs and $5 for unspayed female dogs.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance replacing "ex-officio" with "advisory" members on the city planning commission, and passed an "oral resolution" declaring these advisory members to be the public works director, fire chief, building inspector and Councilman George Pagni.
2. Raised the monthly salary of police officers Edward McClintock and Paul Simpson. McClintock went from $517 to $543, and was given permanent status on the force. Simpson was raised from $543 to $570.
3. Authorized hiring two boys to assist the Park and Recreation Department during the summer at a wage of $1.50 per hour.
4. Decided to take advantage of Marin County's bulk purchasing of gasoline, when they learned the county's recent award to Standard Oil Co. was for a lower price than the city has been paying.
5. Passed resolutions defining the duties of the now-vacant post of street superintendent, defining those of new public works director and city engineer Richard J. Nelson, and authorizing Nelson to hold an oral examination for applicants for the street job, at a date to be determined.
6. Learned that Max Friedman, owner of Marin Town and Country Club and Fair-Anselm Shopping Center, had pledged a quick clean-up of trash along San Anselmo Creek. "After today's rain," a councilman quipped, "all that garbage will float away anyway."
7. Indicated its first budget hearing will be at the June 22 meeting.

Premium Delay; City Doesn't Get Benefits

Startled to learn the Fairfax Women's Club would get the money if its city-owned clubhouse burned, the Fairfax City Council last night held up payment of a $100 premium.

Examining an invoice on insurance renewals for city buildings, Councilman Frank L. Lawrence observed a paragraph stating that any payment in case of fire would be made to the women's club.

This led councilmen to query City Atty. Wallace S. Myers about the legal status of the club's lease, which Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet said he understood was good for 99 years when it was signed nearly 30 years ago. Myers replied that he could not comment without further research.

It was later reported that the women's club reimburses the city for its premium payments, but councilmen said they still objected to another group getting the money if a city-owned building should burn down.

"I'll gladly pay the premiums on your fire insurance if I get the money in case your house burns down," Councilman George Pagni quipped.

The council authorized some $700 in premiums on other buildings, but voted to hold the clubhouse payment until it could learn more about the situation.

Vandals Strike Building Site

Abraham N. Bargaehr, foreman for Herrero Brothers, contractors, reported a construction shack window was broken by two boys, six and eight years old, at the Terra Linda High School construction site.

B. E. Smartt, foreman for Leonardi Electric Co. reported someone pried a lock off the storage shack at the construction site of the Nova Albion School on Don Timoteo Court, between 4:30 p.m. Friday and 8:10 a.m.

Lack Of Quorum

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission did not meet last night because of lack of a quorum. It will next meet on June 22, its next regularly scheduled meeting date, chairman Dean Meyers said today.

AND BICYCLE NOT FOR TWO

Play Ball! But Chief In Fairfax Against Games On City Streets

Fairfax city councilmen were unable to agree last night on whether they should draw up ordinance against playing ball in the street, but decided they did not need one to control the city's only known case of "mother-and-child" bicycle riding.

The idea of a "ball-playing ordinance" was raised by Councilman George Pagni, who said he was acting at the request of Police Chief James Orr.

Pagni noted that San Anselmo has such an ordinance, and suggested it might be a good way to control several problem areas in which police efforts — including stern warnings to parents — failed to break up the ball games.

Orr later stressed that he didn't propose to arrest "every kid who plays catch in the street," but said he was concerned over a few spots where continuous, organized games create a traffic problem.

The council was divided by several conflicting theories. Councilman Robert R. Souza observed that "part of the solution is offering adequate facilities for recreation." Councilman Peter Arrigoni Jr. contended "there are too many ordinances like this on the books already."

Councilman Frank L. Lawrence said he felt the ordinance should prohibit any form of street play, but a motion to this effect died for want of a second.

At that point, Orr said: "I withdraw my request. If this gets in the paper I think my problem will be solved anyway."

The council spent less time dismissing the possibility of amending the bicycle ordinance to exclude, or include, an unnamed housewife who takes her small child for frequent bicycle rides.

They concluded the young mother's excursions are prohibited by the ordinance in its present form. But no one appeared eager to see this clause enforced.

"Does this mean you will close your eyes in this case?" one councilman jokingly asked Chief Orr.

Condition After Burns

Jerome A. Wachowiak of Rohnert Park who suffered first and second degree burns on the face and arms yesterday in a flash fire at Fairchild Semiconductor, 4300 Redwood Highway, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital.

The telephone of tomorrow is being created. Push buttons to replace dials are already in limited use. Frequently used numbers can now be called by inserting a plastic card into a telephone slot and touching a button.

Horse Training Test Trials Will Be Open

The combined training test trials slated for July 18 and 19 by Inverness Equestrians will be open rather than confined to members as stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The error was contained in the last paragraph of a story on the back page of the I-J. It should have stated that the trials would be open, while a 10-day training event preceding the trials would be open only to members.

Under-Sized Lot In Fairfax Splits Council On Zoning Law

Tossed a hot potato by the city planning commission, the Fairfax City Council last night split 3-2 on whether to enforce the city's zoning ordinance in the case of a Rocca Drive man wants to build on a lot which is less than the minimum 5,000 square feet.

Effect of the split vote was to leave the door open so the applicant, H. P. Halverson, could bring in more precise plans at a later meeting.

The case was referred to the council, explained planning commission chairman Daniel M. Miller, to learn whether the city can enforce part of the 1962 ordinance which defines adjoining lots belonging to the same owner as one lot for building purposes, and which forbids sale of these individual lots to create parcels of less than 5,000 feet.

Councilmen were unable to reach agreement, either on Halverson's case, in which he wished to build on a substandard lot at 101 Rocca Drive, or on the general question raised by Miller.

They were even unable to agree as to the exact footage of Halverson's odddly-shaped lot. Councilman George Pagni looked at the map and said it was 4,800 square feet. Councilman Peter Arrigoni Jr. contended it was only 3,200.

Later, the city's new public works director, Richard J. Nelson, went for his drafting tools, came back and announced it was 3,600 square feet.

While Arrigoni repeatedly argued that "the ordinance should be enforced," other councilmn held there was no simple solution, since several other property owners had already been allowed to build on substandard lots, and such lots would be "quarantined" if building were prohibited.

After much discussion, Councilman Robert R. Souza moved to postpone the matter so Halverson could revise his plans, if necessary, to prove he could build on the site.

Tomales School Bus Service Cutback Urged

Supt. Anthony Matulich of the Tomales High School District told the district board last night he will recommend a cutback of bus service.

He said many rural roads in the district are dead-end routes, providing no circuit for the bus. He will recommend that most of these runs be discontinued.

James Palleschi of 5 Corte Comoda, Greenbrae, has been elected president of the Intra-Fraternity Council at the University of California's Davis campus.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Palleschi, he is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School. He is a member of Theta Xi fraternity at the university.

Novato Sanitary Hookups Approved

The Novato Sanitary District Board last night approved plans for two sewer extensions.

The first extension will go up Canyon Road 500 feet to a nursing home under construction by Campbell-Lynn Co. of Bellevue, Wash.; the second is a six-inch main west of the Keith subdivision off Center Road, to serve six homes for Keith A. Mahaffy and others.

J. Warren Nute, engineer in charge reported that the $189,000 enlargement on the Novato treatment plant was approximately half completed. The completion date is Aug. 8, Nute said.

The board studied the $170,000 operating budget, but took no action on it.

Jay Leatherwood, salesman for Ames Ford Sales, reported to San Raafel police yesterday that someone stole a 1956 Ford from in front of the company's building, 619 Francisco Boulevard, sometime between 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday. The car, owned by Ames Ford, was locked.

Doctor Volunteers In Ascherman Case

Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims ruled yesterday that the hearing board has no power to compel testimony.

Dr. Alvin Natanson, who was Ascherman's commanding officer in the Air Force Medical Corps, was subpoenaed before the ruling, but has agreed to appear of his own accord, according to Harold F. Riede, attorney for the Marin Hospital District.

At continuation of the hearing last night, Riede moved for indefinite postponement because of the judge's ruling. Harry Gonick, representing Ascherman, said "every administrative effort" should be exhausted before they gave up. He said some persons had indicated they would voluntarily testify, and he thought they should be contacted.

Riede said both parties in the hearing have stipulated that anyone who volunteers testimony will have the same immunity as if he had appeared before a superior court.

Gonick last night won admission into the record of some 286 cases on which Ascherman had worked, with information on the types. Hearing officer John R. McDonough denied admission of notations on disposition of the cases, however, until it can be determined that someone other than Ascherman made the notations. Riede said he felt the notations were "self serving."

Ascherman said he received splendid cooperation while delivering the baby of Mrs. Joyce Conway at the hospital, and said that was one reason why he wanted to be on the staff.

He denied he had ever offered to split a fee with Dr. Edward Shev, now on the Marin stafff, when Dr. Shev was an orthopedic surgeon at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

Ascherman is seeking a reversal of the hospital board's deniel of surgical privileges at the hospital because of lack of evidence of his medical proficiency.

He has filed suits totalling six million dollars against four San Francisco hospitals which also denied him staff membership.

Judge Rules Hospital Case Testimony Can't Be Forced

Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ruled in effect yesterday that Marin Hospital District has no authority to force testimony in a hearing.

The action came with dismissal by Judge Sims of an order that Dr. Leonard D. Rosenman of San Francisco show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for refusing on May 19 to testify in the district's hearing of Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the district, said following the ruling he will now ask the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco to direct Superior Court to adjudicate the contempt order sought.

He said without full power of subpoena in any hearing before John R. McDonaugh Jr., district hearing officer, only voluntary testimony could be received and purpose of the action could often be stymied.

Harry Gonick, attorney for Ascherman, said other witnesses in the hearing will be guided by yesterday's decision.

Book Policy For Schools Is Received

Mill Valley School District board last night received its first written proposed policy for book selection, which includes procedures by which members of the public may make complaints about book selection methods.

The board will study the policy. Supt. G. R. McConnell said the public is invited to see the policy and make any comments on it to the secretary of the board at 26 Miller Avenue.

Books are selected by the faculty under criteria expressed by American Library Assn.'s Library Bill of Rights and the American Assn. of School Librarians' School Library Bill of Rights.

The policy says in effect, said McConnell, "This is the kind of book we want and, if anyone does not like it, here is what he can do about it." Criticisms are to be made to the superintendent in writing, are reviewed by the director of instruction, then may be referred to a board of five employees and outside persons. The report then goes to the superintendent for decision and an appeal may be made to the board. The Board's decision is final.

The policy is similar to that used in Tamalpais High School District.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

1. Called for bids on painting of Tamalpais Valley School, furnishing stage draperies for Old Mill School, and a lease on district-owned residence at 627 Eastwood Way, Tamalpais Valley.
2. Accepted resignation of Mrs. P. E. Thompson, Marin Terrace School secretary, who plans to study for a teaching credential.
3. Employed Mrs. Leslie A. Stone and Shirley A. Dietel as teachers for 1964-65.
4. Agreed to pay substitute teachers $22 per day next year rather than the present $20.
5. Heard that under the recently passed Unruh Bill the district will receive $33,000 at $10 per kindergarten through eight grade pupil and $11,000 at $10 per first through third grade child, starting July 1.

County Pay Hearing Data Is Changed

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to change the date for consideration of salary changes for county employees from Monday to the afternoon of June 29.

The action came at request of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who is vacationing in Mexico. Chairman William A. Gnoss said he felt action on salaries would have to wait anyway, and that time would have to be spent bringing Leydecker up to date if he were missing when the hearing was held.

Leydecker said he expects to be back in Marin County June 17.

Supervisor George H. Ludy at first opposed the delay, saying Leydecker should have known he would be needed for the meeting. Ludy added that June 29 will be at the end of budget discussions, and at that time the effect might be to cut back on salary increases because money will already have been promised elsewhere.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell said $175,000 is included in the proposed budget for salary increases.

Breathing Trouble —Baby To Hospital

James F. Aitken, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Aitken of 109 Taylor Avenue, San Raafel, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after being rushed to the hospital at 1:20 p.m. yesterday when he was having difficulty breathing.

A resuscitator unit of the Fairfax Fire Department was called at 12:25 p.m. to the home of Mrs. Arthur Pla, 2310 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, where the child was being cared for, according to the fire department.

$100,000 Is Sought For Auto Injuries

Jack A. Henderson of 4 Willow Avenue, Corte Madera, has filed a $100,000 personal injury damage suit against John P. McDonough of Petaluma as result of a May 14 traffic accident in Novato.

Henderson, who filed the suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court, alleges McDonough was reckless and negligent in a vehicle he was driving struck McDonough on Monte Maria Avenue at 7 Cambridge Street. Henderson said he suffered rib, lung and facial injuries.

Deputy Warren L. Truitt, 59, who is also a retired highway patrolman, suffered bruises of the abdomen, and Marie Truitt, 55, was bruised and cut on the back.

Truitt said he was driving northbound, was suddenly struck from the rear, and his car went over the divider, landing in the southbound lanes. The driver of the other car, John W. Murphy, 42, of 160 Via Casitas, Greenbrae, was cited for unsafe speed.

A San Francisco couple, Julius D. Perlite, 65, and his wife, Mabel, 53, were taken to Marin General Hospital after a two-car collision on Highway 101 a quarter mile north of Greenbrae. Perlite was bruised on chest and abdomen, and his wife had a fractured right leg and multiple bruises. Both were transferred to Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco where they were reported "looking good" today.

Perlite's car and one driven by Albert von der Werth, 20, of 222 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, collided after Perlite failed to make a curve, and his car went over the divider into oncoming lanes.

Robert D. Weinman, 39, of 888 Greenberry Lane, Lucas Valley, was in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today with multiple facial cuts suffered in a three-car collision at 6:45 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 south of the San Rafael overpass.

Homer A. Drady, 55, of Sonoma, was bruised and cut in the same accident. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The patrol said Weinman was unable to stop for traffic halted on the highway and his car went into a broadside skid, striking the Drady car in the rear. Also involved in the accident was a car driven by Donald F. Stenloff, 49, of Tiburon, which was struck in the rear.

Two San Francisco women were treated at San Rafael General Hospital after the car in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement on the Highway 101 San Rafael overpass, hit the guard rail, and ended up on the divider.

Alice Zepeda, 34, suffered a cut right knee, and Mary Harvey, 28, was cut inside the mouth. The patrol reported the driver, Joyce M. Shelfo, 24, of 403 Chapman Drive Corte Madera, also was injured but the hospital had no report on her.

A Stockton couple, John V. Paravagna, 76, and Pauline Paravagna were taken to the office of a Point Reyes Station doctor after their car ran off the Point Reyes-Petaluma road into a bank yesterday morning. Paravagna said he applied brakes and lost control on the wet road. He was cited for failure to maintain control.

An 8-year-old girl, Ann Brooke, was reported injured in an accident on Highway 101 a quarter mile south of the Corte Madera overpass at 3 p.m. She was a passenger in a car driven by Susan Brooke Van Cleve, 24, of 60 Madrona Avenue, Belvedere.

The driver told the patrol she saw an accident at the bottom of the hill, applied brakes and her car skidded into the fence. No information was available on the child's injuries, and hospitals had no report on her.

Alfred I. Gardner, 37, of 601 Louise Street, Novato, was struck by a pickup about 9 p.m. on Highway 101 near the Marinwood overpass. The driver of the truck failed to identify himself. Gardner's car was knocked into a ditch. He was taken to Novato General Hospital, then decided to see his own doctor in San Rafael.

Michael Gensburger, 27, of Petaluma, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the right knee after he was involved in a three-car collision about 3 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 in Corte Madera.

The patrol said a car driven by Herbert M. Hanson Jr. 39, of 297 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, swerved to the left, braked and went into a slide. It hit the Gensburger car and knocked it into a car driven by Jack Felton, 67, of San Francisco.

side the boundaries and in nearby areas. If there is a general plan for the area, the proposal should follow that plan, Barrows continues.

When new services must be provided by changes in boundaries, the best possible change is annexation to a city, Barrows suggests, but almost as good would be annexation to an existing district for which the county board of supervisors is the governing body.

Next preferred would be annexation to a multiple purpose district or annexation to an autonomous single purpose district. If none of these changes will provide the needed service, a new taxing jurisdiction may be recommended, Barrows says.

If a new agency is required, a county service area, which is run by the board of supervisors, is preferred, followed by incorporation of a new city, formation of a multiple purpose district, and, last, formation of a single purpose district.

Sprinkler System Bid Is Accepted

Sausalito School District trustees last night approved a contract for installation of a fire sprinkler system, starting June 15, at Central School, by Approved Automatic Sprinkler Co., San Francisco, for $27,900.

The board approved a revised 1964-65 budget for the child care center, Marin City, of $29,500. Current year's budget is $20,040. The increase is due to increased participation, said Supt. Marcus F. Davis.

A school psychologist, Margaret Moreau of Petaluma, was hired on a two and one-half day basis for the 1964-65 school year. Formerly the district contracted with the county schools office for a psychologist one day per week.

ENGINEER'S FLAT FEE IS PROPOSED

Mill Valley City Manager Looks Upon Idea As Transition To Fulltime Post

It was proposed to the Mill Valley City Council at its budget session last night that City Engineer Stanley M. Bala be paid on a flat fee basis the same as the planning consultant and city attorney, to receive $675 per month.

The fee, said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, would cover such things as small street jobs, small subdivisions and sewer agreements, but major projects would still be done on a contract basis through the firm of Bala and Strandgaard.

Balmer said he looks upon the change as a transitional step between the consulting engineer the city now has and a fulltime engineer he hopes the city will have in the future. He said he would like to recommend a fulltime engineering staff for fiscal year 1965-66.

Bala now receives $8.03 per hour. An overall figure of $10,000 was proposed to be budgeted for city engineer services. This would include the $675 flat fee and the remainder, $1,900, would be a contingency fund to take care of extra services which might be requested.

A full council was present at the discussion held at Municipal Golf Clubhouse. No final action was taken, the next budget session to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

Discussing streets, Mayor Michael Wornum said he would like to see the "seed fund," which he said seems to have disappeared, remain in the budget. The fund was set up last year to enable the city to assist citizens who wish to set up assessment districts for improving streets. Balmer said the money in the current budget was not spent and will be carried over.

Robert Rudebeck, one of about 10 in the audience, asked if it would be possible to have one street per year resurfaced, saying he sees "general deterioration" taking place in the streets.

Balmer said an overlay is planned this year on Sunnyside Avenue from East Blithedale to Miller avenues. Mayor Wornum said a great deal of money will be spent on Miller Avenue widening, East Blithedale Avenue extension widening, and the extension of Sycamore Avenue to the yacht harbor. The budget shows $94,362 for the street department.

Balmer said a study will be made during 1964-65 of contracts of districts being served by the Mill Valley sewer plant. "I feel the present ones are not good for the city," he said. Wornum suggested installation of flow meters to register how many gallons per month are sent from outlying districts such as Alto, Homestead, Almonte and Kay Park.

A 6 and one-half per cent increase is proposed in the budget for salaries for certain positions, Balmer said, but no action will be taken on salaries pending an appeal being made by the Mill Valley City Employees Assn. on a salary survey by the state cooperative personnel service.

The chamber of commerce has asked for $2,500 in the budget, a $500 increase. The junior chamber of commerce asked for $400, of which $300 would be spent for the Dipsea Race and $100 to complete a gravity car to be displayed at the fall arts festival in Old Mill Park and perhaps later, placed on permanent display in Lytton Square parking lot.

The council decided it will go into closed session, but set no time, to discuss the city manager's salary, now $12,500. (State law forbids closed sessions to discuss salaries.)

"We hope to come up with some modernization in the finance department such as machine accounting or centralized purchasing," said Balmer. He said Finance Director Thomas T. Behnke's title is being vacated temporarily to become chief accountant with added duties of the treasurer.

More money is being asked for the city attorney because of several court cases, Balmer said. "I believe with better administration we can keep things from going to court," he said.

Improvements in city hall, including moving the planning office downstairs, are estimated at $2,000. The civil defense budget is proposed at $95.

Some councilmen indicated they would like to keep the one-cent tax for drainage control. Balmer said he asked for none this year because he needed every tax cent he could get to pay for major improvements.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said he did not think the proposed $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate is "sacred."

Bonds for the new library were discussed but no decision made as to whether they would start being paid for in 1964-65 or the following year. Balmer said the first payment might come from the building site fund of $47,000, already in hand.

Capital improvements, totaling $868,545, include a final payment of $20,000 for the proposed second firehouse at Alto, a community center sewer line, Miller Avenue widening and planting, Old Mill Park improvements, rebuilding golf course greens, Sycamore Avenue extension, two new trucks and one police car, small craft marina work, street bulkheads, Manor Drive and Cascade Avenue sewer lines, and a Willow Avenue foot bridge.

The city manager urged an extra $100 in the city council fund so the council might take part in the National Municipal League Conference Nov. 18-21, at which there will be sessions with local agency formation commissions in California.

Park Madera Building Plan Gains

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night approved a design review submitted by Robert A. J. Clark for a building across from the market in the Park Madera Shopping Center.

The building would include a coffee shop and small stores. The commission asked for a cash bond to assure landscaping.

The commission set a public hearing at the next meeting, July 13, on Ralph Giovanniello's appeal regarding a small residential lot. The board of adjustment ruled that the lot was too small for use as a home site.

Commissioners continued a public hearing on a proposed slope policy that would set size minimums for hillside lots and call for preservation of trees. The board also put off discussion of the design review section of the zoning ordinance and sign regulations until the next meeting.

Norman Eaton was elected chairman of the commission, to take office next month. He will replace Cecil W. Thomas. William Sheehan was elected vice-chairman, replacing Jennings Smith. Eaton and Smith were reappointed to the board of adjustment.

All commissioners except Thomas were present.

Supervisors Hold Back Fire Contract

Approval of a contract between the county and the federal government for fire protection in Muir Woods National Monument and Point Reyes National Seashore was held up for a week by the Marin County Board of Supervisors today at request of fire chief Louis J. Bloom.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would not be too happy with a contract which would provide merely for payment to the county of an amount to reimburse the actual fighting of individual fires.

He said he wanted instead an arrangement similar to that with the state, where a lump sum is paid for the year, regardless of the specific service.

County administrator Alan Bruce pointed out that the present arrangement would require no increase in equipment or staff, but Behr said the need for an improvement in service would come eventually.

Lord Beaverbrook, British Newspaper Giant, Succumbs

LONDON (UPI)—British newspaper publisher Lord Beaverbrook died today. He was 85.

The Canadian-born publisher and statesman died at his English country home 15 days after his birthday.

Neither the cause nor the time of his death were immediately known at the Daily Express newspaper which made the announcement.

Beaverbrook, born in Canada, as Max Aitken, died at Cherkley, his home near Leatherhead in Surrey.

Just a few days before the 85th birthday party given by Lord Thomson of Fleet in his honor, Beaverbrook quipped that the Daily Express could have boosted its profits by nearly six million dollars a year "if it could get rid of me."

"I am constantly keeping the receipts down and the expenses up," he said cheerfully at the time.

But this was a view not shared by the colleagues of the last and most colorful of the "Press Lords" who dominated British journalism in the first half of this century.

From his wheel chair he kept four secretaries busy and maintained contact with his editors at the Daily Express, the Sunday Express and the Evening Standard, his three main newspapers.

Beaverbrook once credited "a tremendous capacity for work" with enabling him to hold seven government posts, write 12 books and make more than 10,000 speeches, in addition to achieving his brilliant business career.

LORD BEAVERBROOK
Death At 85

He visited Britian in 1910 when he was 31, became interested in British politics and got himself elected as a Conservative member of Parliament.

Sometime later in the House of Commons, he met Winston Churchill and formed a lifelong friendship which had its effect on British history—particularly his unstinting efforts to produce the planes which helped win the Battle of Britian in World War II.

Tear Gas Used As Negroes Defy Officers

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Police poured tear gas into a Negro church today after civil rights demonstrators began smashing out windows and hurling rocks, bottles and furniture at officers.

At least 10 Negroes and one white policeman were hurt, none seriously.

Negroes poured out of the First African Baptist Church choking on the acrid gas and rushed into the downtown area 11 blocks from the church.

Police tried to contain them without success. Then officers began a methodical search of alleys and side streets rounding up the demonstrators.

An estimated 500 Negroes were packed in the church prior to staging a downtown demonstration. Protest marches have been held daily in this eastern Alabama university town, 50 miles southwest of Birmingham, but marchers have dispersed upon police orders in previous demonstrations.

Shotgun Is Missing From Belvedere Home

A shotgun, described "almost as a collector's item" and valued at $300, has been reported missing from the home of Grant Leibert of 5 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, according to the police.

The double-barreled Parker shotgun disappeared in the past three weeks from the house, which had been left unlocked, Leibert said.

OFF FOR FRANCE

Turkish Boy Inspires Marinites To Travel

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

A Turkish boy's visit to America has inspired a Los Ranchitos teen-ager to go on a trip to France, with a first good look at his own country thrown in for good measure.

It sounds complicated, but it is an accurate description of the journey which began yesterday for 16-year-old Daniel R. DeKay of 14 Oakview Drive.

Dan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay, will leave New York June 30 for a two-month trip to France, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living.

In the meantime, he plans to take two weeks to see such cities as Chicago, New York and Washington, D.C., where he will call on Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.). He will celebrate his 17th birthday Friday in Chicago.

His longest stay will be in New York, where he will visit relatives and, of course, see the World's Fair. On June 26, he is to report at Putney, Vt., where Experiment officials will brief him and some 2,000 other young Americans on their forthcoming travels to 35 countries.

For the first month, if his trip follows the Experiment's usual pattern, Daniel will live in the home of a French family. But his parents say they do not yet have any idea to what part of France he will be sent.

After that, he probably will travel around France, accompanied by nine or 10 other Americans and, perhaps, young members of his host family.

Daniel's efforts to make the trip began last fall when he was one of several Terra Linda High School students who applied for a part in the Experiment.

But his mother feels the idea really had its origins a year before that when a Turkish teen-ager named Ahmet Esirtgen came into the DeKay home under another program, sponsored by the American Field Service.

DANIEL R. DeKAY
On account of Ahmet

Esirtgen spent the 1962-63 school year at Terra Linda, and he and Danield became good friends. They have kept in touch since then, and Ahmet, who lives in Istanbul, has promised to try to get to France to see Daniel sometime this summer.

Daniel's previous travels took him across the borders to Canada and Mexico, but no farther east than Nevada, his mother said, so his train ride to Chicago and New York will be nearly as much of an adventure as the European journey to follow.

Bolinas Volunteer Firemen Install

Elias Rempelos was installed by the Bolinas Fire Protection District Commission. Peter Martin and Donald R. Pepper remain as first and second assistants.

Commissioners made plans for their annual clean-up day June 20 when volunteers and other citizens clean up grass and brush and other fire hazards from around the town, followed by a noon luncheon prepared by their wives at the community center.

Real Estate Tax Foe Makes Appeal

Daniel F. Deedy, secretary of the Marin County Real Estate Board, appeared before the county board of supervisors today to argue against a 3 per cent sales tax on real estate proposed by Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Hit hardest by such a tax, said Deedy, would be the young man with a family buying a home. It would be one more burden, he contended, for the purchaser in addition to taxes, insurance and closing costs.

Supervisor Behr said the main intent of the proposed tax was to cut the property tax. He said there would have to be penalties applied to local taxing jurisdictions which raised their budgets after the tax was imposed.

Deedy said similar taxing plans have been killed in the state legislature. Behr retorted that the previous plans had simply been new ways to gain tax money, not ways of cutting property taxes.

Under Behr's proposal, the sales tax money would be divided among local taxing jurisdictions based on their average receipt percentage of locally collected property taxes for the previous five years.

Behr said the state legislature would have to approve the plan, and counties should have local option on whether to use the tax.

Deedy pointed out that most real estate sales in the county are made to customers already living in Marin. Behr contended that in terms of value, the major amount of money in real estate sales probably comes from outside the county for sales of large tracts of raw land.

Even so, said Deedy, the sales tax paid by the developer for the land would eventually become part of the cost of the home sold to a struggling Marin family.

Chairman William A. Gnoss said he would like to see persons over 65 years of age excused from paying school taxes.

The only way to cut the tax cost overall, commented Supervisor William D. Fusselman, is to cut spending.

Board Orders Vet Memorial Plans Started

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today approved a letter ordering the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation to start work on plans for a 1.7-million-dollar memorial building for the fairgrounds.

W. P. Duhamel, speaking for the veterans' committee promoting the project, said some disagreements still must be ironed out with the architect. He said he felt the problems could be solved before preliminary plans would be presented in September.

Duhamel said the architect is planning a 38,000-square foot exhibition hall, without a stage which could be used by the performing arts. He said the original intent was to have the building, although it had a flat floor, usable for performing arts.

Financing for the hall, approved previously, calls for joining of county-collected veterans' memorial tax funds and state pari-mutuel racetrack funds, with the building to be located on the fairgrounds.

Information On Wolfe Grade Proposal Sought

Directors of the Kentfield Civic League, at an informal meeting last night, asked league president Allen G. Wright to get more information from the Marin County Public Works Department on the proposed extension of Wolfe Grade.

Wright said directors do not want to take a stand on the proposal until they know more about it.

The group also discussed the 12-story retirement home approved last week by the Larkspur City Council on the hillside next to Marin General Hospital. Wright said directors agreed this was a Larkspur problem, but residents of Kentfield will be looking at the tall building.

Directors feared Larkspur's action might "open the flood gates" for similar developments, Wright said.

Crafts Program Change Supported

The Novato Unified School District board last night decided to support changes in the crafts program proposed by Principal Robert Wisgerhof for Novato High School.

This came after a complaint was registered by Mrs. D. W. Maitland og 63 Nova Lane, Novato. She wanted the crafts course continued through all four grades of high school.

Wisgerhof said his plan was to teach crafts to freshmen and then have students go into other courses such as painting, sculpture, etc.

At student request, a second year of crafts will be offered during the next school year, however, he reported.

Prison Gates To Open For Mill Valley Youth

Nevada State Prison gates will open in August, to free a 20-year-old Mill Valley youth who by then will have served 30 months for his role in the murder of a Reno grocer in 1961.

Jeffery Kelsey Connell of Mill Valley and companions Chester Blub, 20, and Frederick Worrell, 19, both of Reno, have been reaffirmed for parole by the Nevada State Parole Board, despite objections of Washoe County Dist. Atty. William Raggio.

Parole board members yesterday turned down Raggio's request that they reconsider their earlier decision to parole the youths.

The three youths applied for parole last November, but were turned down. Then the board cut short the usual 12-month waiting period and allowed the young men to be heard again last month — and granted parole.

Raggio said it was beyond his comprehension how they could be considered ready for release into society after serving such a small portion of their 10-years-to-life sentence. Parole board chairman Rev. Joseph Pritchard declared the board is concerned not only "with how much time an inmate has done, but what he has done with his time."

Rev. Pritchard said the board thoroughly investigated the case before unanimously voting for the release.

The three had attempted to rob Reno grocer Clarence L. (Jack) Griffis, 54, in his store on March 3, 1961. Worrell, armed with a .22-caliber revolver, fired two shots when Griffis resisted the stickup. The three youths fled.

The victim's widow, Mrs. Belva Griffis, was held in Reno's jail for four months, charged with the slaying. She was released when cleared by lie detector tests, shortly before the youths were arrested.

Connell had been living with his twice- divorced mother, Mrs. Betty Buckles, in Mill Valley. When arrested, he described how he had gone to Reno to see his father, but ran out of money. He encountered the other boys, whom he knew previously, and they decided on the stickup.

The term "bridegroom" comes from Anglo-Saxon England. It was the custom for the husband to wait on his bride at the wedding feast and he was called the groom, or servitor.

Hospital Group Picks Architect For New Building

Trustees of San Rafael General Hospital Foundation last night named Sausalito architect William Stephen Allen to design the proposed four-million-dollar hospital to be built in north San Rafael.

The new building will replace the present hospital on Mission Avenue that was built in 1892 and expanded in 1928.

Allen, with offices in San Francisco, was associated with the S. Robert Anshen, who died in the office May 24 after a mysterious fire in his Marin home the night before.

Allen was one of 26 architects who applied for the job and among nine interviewed.

The firm of Anshen and Allen designed the Good Samaritan Hospital in San Jose three years ago. The firm has won about 30 awards of merit and excellence in the past 13 years.

Icepick Death Trial Starts —Robbery Count Plea Denied

Trial of Robert Lee Jones, 25, and John Lee King, 28, jointly charged in the March 27 brutal slaying of Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito, began today in Marin Superior Court with selection of a jury.

No jurors from the panel of more than 150 had been chosen by noon, however. Sixty-eight panelists were present when extra sessions court convened before Judge Joseph G. Wilson at 10:45 a.m. The remainder are scheduled to appear tomorrow.

Just prior to today's session, Judge Wilson in a private conference with defense attorneys denied a motion for severance of a joint robbery count from the murder count.

Jones and King, held without bond in Marin County jail since their Hawaii arrest, appeared in court today neatly attired in dark businessmen's suits and ties. Alone at the defense table while their attorneys — Peter Allen Smith, public defender for King, and Thomas P. Boyd for Jones — conferred in the judge's chamber, the pair chatted in relaxed and amicable manner for over half an hour.

Following the conference, defense attorneys said they have a joint peremptory challenge total—the right to reject potential jurors—of 20, and an additional five each, or a total of 30.

The body of Corbett, 30, was found in his apartment in an icepick and bludgeoning slaying. Trail of his credit cards led around the country and to Hawaii.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

Two men were fined $166 each in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

They are Everette Vernon Clarke, 42, of Petaluma, and Robert George Laidley, 32, of 34 Meadow Way, Fairfax. Clarke was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 on June 4. Laidley was arrested by the patrol on Golden Gate Bridge on May 9.

A TRIBUTE— TO OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our schoolbooks, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-TA meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements!

Tomales Faculty Depleted By Fourth

Members of the Tomales High School District board, their own numbers depleted to three, learned last night that a fourth of the teaching staff has resigned.

With a faculty of 12, it takes only three teachers to make one-fourth. Resigning are Margaret Fitzgerald, physical education and mathematics; Mary Richardson, English, and Max Pausch, mathematics.

Supt. Anthony Matulich, who is taking a sabbatical leave during the next school year, told the board the teachers will leave to take other posts.

Miss Richardson and Miss Fitzgerald had resigned earlier. Pausch submitted his resignation last night. He will teach next fall at Vallejo Junior College.

Only three trustees were present. John M. Mattos, recovering from pneumonia, was absent. Dr. Frederick Saam, who is moving out of the district, submitted his resignation a month ago.

Matulich told the board that three persons have asked to be considered as a replacement for Saam. They are Robert Giacomini and Richard Velloza Jr., both of Point Reyes Station, and Mrs. F. R. (Jean) Adams of Inverness.

The board scheduled a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday to interview these three applicants and select one to be recommended for the vacancy.

Trustees last night heard physical education teachers Carl R. Anaclerio and Edmuch Iacopi make a bid for extra pay for time spent at football, basketball and baseball games, and for noon duties at the gymnasium.

Anaclerio was asked to research policy at other schools similar to Tomales where coaching is done during the regular school period and the only extra duties come with coaching at games in the afternoon or evening.

Board president Louis Zanardi and clerk Roy Parks agreed that extra duty at games is part of the contract and should not get extra pay.

Matulich also opposed the extra pay request. But the board agreed to give the matter more study after seeing reports on other high schools.

Anaclerio said the time spent by coaches during noon supervision at the gymnasium should also receive extra pay and the money could come from the special community services tax. He contended coaches are not really getting a duty-free lunch period as required in the education code.

The board approved an agreement with Matulich on his sabbatical leave next school year. He will study at University of California at Berkeley, planning to complete work on a doctorate in school administration.

Knocknaboul Letter Will Be Discussed

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Community Center to further discuss a letter to be sent jointly with the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District to residents of the Knockaboul area.

The letter was approved a month ago, but has been held up for changes by the recreation group, according to community services district secretary Annette Bode. The board is also expected to set a date for a budget hearing.

San Anselmo Artist Works Exhibited

An exhibition of drawings, watercolors and paintings by Charles Eckart of 51 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, is on display at Yosemite Park and Curry Co. at 55 Grant Avenue, San Francisco, through July.

Most of the works deal with Yosemite Park, where Eckart was reared. A few, however, portray San Francisco architecture.

Builder Booked For Bad Checks

Morland Leslie Turk, 37, of 126 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested by San Anselmo police at his home yesterday on a warrant charging him with writing two worthless checks totaling $100.64.

Turk, who said he was a self-employed contractor, was booked in county jail at 7:20 p.m. and released later on $1,650 bail to appear at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said Turk was charged with giving the checks in payment to two painters he had employed.

Trustees Agree Curriculum Report Needs Special Study

Trustees of Tomales High School District last night agreed that a special session will be needed to discuss a lengthy report on curriculum prepared by a citizen committee and university consultants.

Roy Parks, one of three trustees who met with the faculty on the report, said last night that some of the recommendations may go into effect next fall, while others will take more time. He said it must be decided what will be done first.

Supt. Anthony Matulich said teachers were interested in the recommended modification of the orientation course. This includes such things as driver training, first aid and health education.

The curriculum report suggested these be cut back, freeing more time for other subjects.

Matulich said teachers thought the time gained could be used for remedial reading, study hall or counseling.

The faculty also discussed the recommended cut in extra curricular activities. The report said "heavy pruning" of some of these activities might be helpful.

Trustees agreed to put the report on the agenda of a special meeting set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday. If there is time after other business, the board will discuss the report then.

Tomales High School District also:

1. Approved a preliminary budget of $260,050 for the next fiscal year. Current budget total is $246,809.
2. Learned from architect George Quesada that bids on the first phase of rehabilitation will be asked late next month or early in August. The auditorium and about 15 per cent of the main building will be repaired this summer and the rest of the main building and the shop next summer under a bond a program approved by voters.
3. Voted in favor of an approximate 5 per cent increase in salaries for non-teaching personnel. The action will boost the starting salary for a bus driver from $380 to $400 per month, for a clerk from $300 to $315, and for a cafeteria worker from $250 to $260.
4. Asked that a letter be written State Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan (D-Sonoma) thanking him for his opposition to the recently approved Unruh Bill, and another letter to Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) questioning his support of the bill.

Hospital Seeks Male Volunteers

Male volunteers are being sought by San Rafael General Hospital to serve in emergencies, disasters and in ways of interest to the new men's division of the hospital's volunteers.

"An invitation is cordially extended to any former corpsmen of the armed forces who retain an interest in the phase of work in which they participated while in the service," Arthur G. Burns, hospital administrator, said today.

Organizational meeting of the new group will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Monday in the hospital's dining room. Men wishing to attend the meeting are asked to notify the hospital, which is located at 1120 Nye Street, in advance, Burns said.

Mrs. Terwilliger's Acre Loses An Ugly Beer Can

Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of Mill Valley gave her three surprises yesterday: an acre of land, a lunch, and an empty beer can.

The acre is not really Mrs. Terwilliger's. It is land which is to be called the "Elizabeth Terwilliger Acre" at the Audubon Canyon Ranch on Bolinas Lagoon. Friends of the naturalist-conservationist are contributing $800 for the land as part of the overall 885 acres of land yet to be paid for in full at the ranch.

The lunch was given by members of two hiking groups which Mrs. Terwilliger heads.

The beer can, fancily wrapped, was found in the middle of the acre and was described by J. Blount Mull, hiker, bird watcher and master of ceremonies, as "the first income from the acre." (Mrs. Terwilliger is known for insisting that beauty spots be kept clean and for leaving a camp area clean, or more clean, than it was on arrival.)

Mull, formerly of Colorado, said he and his wife settled in Marin after discovering its beautiful woods and sea areas and its number of nature and conservation groups.

"And then we came onto the strangest name, Elizabeth Terwilliger," said Mull. "After a while, I decided it was like a bird song, one of the most mellifluous combination of words I have ever heard."

Three years ago, the Mulls joined the Monday Hikers and, said Mull, "We haven't missed any hikes unless we were out of town or sick in bed."

Dr. Paul T. Wilson read from a bound inscription, given to Mrs. Terwilliger from the two hiking clubs, and described Mrs. Terwilliger as one who has "devoted so much time and effort to expansion and preservation of our natural resources." About 70 persons attended, slides were shown and Mull said the next such event would probably have to be held in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

Many Thefts Reported To Police

Kenny Family Homes of San Leandro reported Saturday that burglars broke into a model house at 1073 Lea Drive and took a chest of drawers, a refrigerator, two bedspreads and a bowl.

Stella Mindle of 127 West End Avenue reported two outdoor chairs, valued at $50, were taken from her sun deck between 5 p.m. Saturday and 11:30 a.m. yesterday.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Under The Gaslight' Is A Very Good Time

By KARL BARRON

Sausalito Little Theater's revival of Augustin Daly's melodrama "Under the Gaslight" is described on the program as "fun without vulgarity." It is just that.

The melodic strains of the nickelodeon, the virtuous heroine, the sinister villain, the peanuts and the olios take you back to the Gay Nineties and the simple life. A time when there was a good guy, a bad guy, you could tell the difference, and virtue always won out.

This magic was prestidigitated last weekend at SLT's Bridgeway playhouse, and will continue on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 throughout the summer. An alternating cast allows the actors some free weekends.

Penny Vieregge's direction leaves no room for error. She has touched her players with a whimsical quality, achieved by having them play it with seeming sincerity — the dialogue itself sounds ridiculous enough today. Yet, "Under the Gaslight" in its day stood along with Boucicault's "Streets of New York" as a virtuoso piece of theater.

Hats off to Joan McKinney for her very funny, and very believable Old Judas, the villain's helpmeet, and to Martha Wax, who made the heroine a sweet and fragile young woman.

Neill Whitman's Snorky, the returned Civil War veteran, was a gem of characterization and makeup. The rest of the excellent cast we saw included Richard Reutlinger, Joanne Leahy, Miles Merians, Irene Pritzker, Jerry Sprague, Mark Hatfield, Stephanie Zucker, and Bonnie Trite.

Leonard Jared supplied the music on the tinny piano, and co-directed with Jetaun Fisher, the olios. The two entre-acts we caught introduced by Chuck Royster, were both show-stoppers. The Dunn Boys, Paul and Dick, sing up a storm of traditional whisky-drinking songs to guitar accompaniment, and Barbara Meilson, who also plays guitar, uses it to set a lyrical background for her delightful French songs.

Sets designed by Gerry Frye are a joy to see. The river scene complete with moving water and the villain rowing his boat ashore is hilarious and especially clever.

At one point it became a contest to see who worked harder — cast or audience. Both loved it, and by summer's end, "Under the Gaslight" should have produced a town full of accurate peanut throwers, and fast dodging actors.

NUMBER ONE AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRY—At the Smith Brothers Ranch, only five miles from downtown San Rafael, dairy worker Arlindo Bautisca milks more than 500 cows every afternoon using automatic milking equipment. Marin's dairy industry is 12th largest in the state and produces milk products valued at 10 million dollars a year from about 160 ranches spread over more than half of Marin's land area.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin A Bedroom Community? Well, Just Count The Cows And Sheep

Marin County, spread over about a third of a million acres, is frequently referred to as a "bedroom county."

But it could also be described as a "kitchen county"—for its 175,600 residents, in spite of continually increasing tract and subdivision developments, are concentrated in areas totaling something like a mere 50,000 acres.

All the rest, consisting of pasture and range land, forest and wood land, crop land and water areas, has more milk cows than people — about 27,000 of them. To this you can add another 13,000 dairy calves and heifers, maybe 4,000 beef cattle and calves, more than 20,000 sheep and lambs, and a comfortable supply of chickens and pigs.

According to Richard T. Straw, Marin County agricultural commissioner, this livestock industry constitutes over 90 per cent of the gross agricultural value of the county, of which 75 per cent is derived from milk products. it is his contention that the dairy industry will always be number one in our agricultural program. And that it will be a long, long time before some 283,000 acres of wide open spaces are entirely overrun by humans.

For the county's 160 dairy ranches, dairying is a 10-million dollar industry, making us the 12th largest milk producing county in the state. And California has some distinction itself in the national statistics, ranking fourth in milk production and fifth in number of milk cows on farms.

So when you're told this month that June is National Dairy Month, be reminded that it has particular significance for Marin.

MARIN REAL ESTATE sales continued upward in May, according to figures from the Multiple Listing Service which showed $6,279,684 for the month. This was about 7 per cent higher than May sales of last year, though there were slightly fewer sales in number.

J. MURRAY FOX of Tiburon has joined the Matson Navigation Co. freight division as special projects analyst. He was formerly Pacific Coast general sales manager for Sea-Land Service, Inc., and before that served with American President Lines and United States Lines.

REMODELING is just about wound up at Maggie Grant's ticket agency and book store in the Greyhound bus depot, Mill Valley. It's resplendent with new painting, retiled floor and new lighting fixtures. Mrs. Grant has reduced her supply of mass-circulated magazines and has expanded her department of paperback books.

MOTORCRAFT. James Douglas Cox, automotive specialist, and Joan J. Ryan, sales consultant — at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael have been graduated from a retail selling course conducted by the San Francisco Ford Marketing Institute . . . Congratulations to Bianco Motors, Inc., San Rafael on the layout of its new used car lot at Fourth and E Streets. We'd been told Bianco had something special in mind in car lots, and must admit it was done in excellent taste . . . Customers of Lou Hernandez, wheel alignment and brake specialist won't find him on Lindaro Street anymore. His new shop is at 428 Woodland Avenue—right where it meets Bayview and B Streets.

SAM ROCKLIN of San Anselmo, who represents the liquor division of McKesson and Robbins in Marin County, tells this story about a new product given him to sell at bars, restaurants and stores—Newport vodka. The fact that it didn't have a Russian or foreign-sounding name concerned him at first—until at one place he happened to place a bottle on the back bar, with the label facing the mirror. The proprietor glanced at it hurriedly, caught the reversed letters in the reflection—and that did the trick. He ordered five cases.

Vigorous Late Rally Lifts Market Higher

Stocks met renewed buying power just above the 800-level in the Dow Jones industrial average and traders picked up stock which had been battered down in recent sessions.

The session started with a slight decline, steadied and turned mixed. Airlines began to rally at mid-session, and were followed gradually by other groups.

Trading was heavy in the final hour.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.2 million shares compared with 0.01 million yesterday.

Gains and losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point.

Airlines rallied from recent sharp losses. Northwest Airlines gained nearly 3; Western, TWA and Pan American more than a point each.

Gains of 2 or better were scored by Xerox, IBM, Polaroid and U. S. Smelting.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was the most active stock and in late dealings had recovered about 2 points of yesterday's 6⅜-point loss.

Down a point or more were such stocks as Consolidated Cigar, McLouth Steel, National Lead and Norfolk and Western.

Up about a point were Cerro, Central Data and Reynolds Tobacco.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Contracts Mean More Hiring

BURBANK (AP) — New and expanding programs will require hiring of several hundred workers in the next three months, say spokesmen for Lockheed Aircraft Co.

The new workers will include 400 to 500 engineers and scientists for the firm's supersonic transport program, spokesmen said.

Lockheed and Boeing Corp. of Seattle were the two airframe manufacturers awarded six-million-dollar government contracts for drawing board and wind tunnel work on the new super transport.

A spokesman for the International Association of Machinitst said the Lockheed plant is hiring about 300 structural assemblers and 100 office and miscellaneous workers.

Work Started On Huge Kiln

MILWAUKEE — Work has started on the longest cement kiln in the Western Hemisphere, a 622 foot tubular oven 18 feet in diameter, Allis-Chalmers has reported.

If it were to stand vertically, the steel shelled kiln would be 67 feet taller than the Washington National Monument.

Merton M. York, general manager of the Allis-Chalmers Process Equipment and Systems Division, said the kiln is being built at West Allis, Wis., for the Universal Atlas Cement Division, United States Steel Corp.

Tiburon Selects Attorney For City

The Tiburon City Council-elect held its second public meeting in the Del Mar School library last night, assisted by Peter Allen Smith, San Rafael attorney, whose services it has unofficially obtained as city attorney.

The councilmen selected Smith, president of the Marin County Bar Assn., on Sunday when they held two informal meetings to find a city attorney, the council's temporary chairman, Gordon W. Strawbridge, told the audience of 12.

Leland H. Jordan, also a San Rafael attorney, had agreed to act as temporary attorney, but only if a more permanent arrangement could not be made at once, according to Councilman Anne Ellinwood.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs was empowered to speak on behalf of the city-to-be on Tiburon planning matters scheduled this afternoon before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Councilmen agreed they want a planning commission selected and ready to go when Tiburon becomes a city.

Hannahs said, "Even at bottom efficiency, it would be better than the county has been hitting lately." John S. Hoffmire and Hannahs are the subcommittee on planning.

A "freeze" on building activities has been favored by Miss Ellinwood and a "modified freeze" by Hannahs.

The council is considering appointing a temporary manager-advisor by June 23, with a permanent city manager to be named later. Councilmen Leo Souza and Miss Ellinwood comprise a subcommittee to seek a city manager.

The city clerk will most likely have to be a separate appointment, according to Smith, since the clerk must be a resident of the city.

Annexation rumblings have been heard from Belvedere, according to Strawbridge, who said he had heard from somebody, "This was going to be pushed through."

Smith advised the new council that a delay in the declaration of Tiburon as a new city would not affect the boundary dispute adversely.

In regard to "lawlessness," Miss Ellinwood pointed out that Tiburon is not leaving the county, it will still have the county services of welfare and health, for example.

Strawbridge said, Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol "phoned and said not to worry, they will continue patrolling and giving out tickets on Main Street."

Loma Verde Assn. Seeks Members On Novato Board

The Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. last night recommended two of its members to serve on the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission.

They are Warren M. Tracy of 425 Alameda Del Prado and Calvin P. Horn Jr. of 224 Calle De La Selva. The Novato city council had asked for names from that area as candidates for the commission.

The homeowners also voted to ask Paul Trousdale, Loma Verde developer, for a parcel of land for a Little League park and recreational facility. There are now 400 boys in Little League in Loma Verde and the present park will be taken with the expansion of the school.

The association also voted to write Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. asking for extended service to San Rafael.

Reed School Board Will Review Budget

Reed School District trustees will review the 1964-65 tentative budget tonight at 8 o'clock in the Del Mar School lecture-music hall.

Robert Gaw, principal of Del Mar, will report on next year's program for the seventh and eighth grades, and the board will tour the school, which is almost completed.

DOLORES GROSSI
West Marin's Queen

Livestock Show Queen Announced

Dolores Grossi of Inverness, a senior at Tomales High School, will reign as queen over the West Marin Junior Livestock Show June 27 and 28.

Her sponsoring club, the Tomales Future Farmers, sold the most show tickets in her behalf in a contest with four other queen contestants. The contest ended last night.

Miss Grossi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grossi, plans to attend Sonoma State College next fall to begin her studies for a career in nursing.

She and the four runners-ups, who will serve as princesses, will lead the West Marin Junior Livestock Show Parade down the center of Point Reyes Station June 28.

Other contestants and their sponsoring clubs are Susan Clapp, Point Reyes-Olema 4-H Club; Linda Dolcini, Nicasio 4-H Club; Kristine Eckenroad, Tomales 4-H Club, and Theresa Nielsen, San Geronimo Valley 4-H Club.

Even thieves prefer the reassuring clank of hard money. When a bank was robbed in White Sulphur Springs, Mont., the bandit lugged away 20,000 silver dollars. He made his getaway in a truck.

West Marin School Budget Will Go Up

Trustees of the West Marin School District last night approved a preliminary budget for next fiscal year of $162,000, well above the current total of $134,000.

The increase is due mainly to the addition of another teacher and a fulltime custodian.

The board adopted the budget as recommended by Supt. Howard F. Brose except for one $2,300 item which was deleted. This was for his recommended conversion of the breezeway at West Marin School into a library.

The board deleted the item after some discussion and objection which centered mainly on the temporary nature of the project.

Margaret Harris of Bolinas was employed to teach Spanish and remedial courses in the upper grades, at $5,825 per year. She recently returned from a job in Chile, where she taught English to Spanish-speaking students.

Mrs. Lois F. Mini, sixth grade teacher at West Marin, resigned to go to Colombia for two years of teaching in an elementary school there.

The board also accepted the resignation of bus driver Richard Sloan, who is returning to college to study for a teaching credential.

Trustees promised to see what could be done to continue the music program at West Marin School. Two weeks ago the board agreed the program would have to be discontinued. This was after the part-time teacher resigned and negotiations with other participating school districts broke down.

Two parents appeared last night to protest the discontinuance.

The board agreed to install a new fire alarm system at Inverness School, replacing one that has given trouble for some time.

Concert Tribute Set For Tiburon

First of a summer series of weekly concerts by television and recording artist Korla Pandit of Kentfield will include a tribute to the newly incorporated city of Tiburon and its city council.

The piano and organ concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Tiburon Playhouse.

Pandit, who moved to Marin County from Los Angeles five years ago, said he hoped to make the weekly concerts a permanent fixture.

Part of the proceeds from the performance will go toward a scholarship fund to aid promising students in Pandit's Tiburon music studio.

Formation Unit To Be Topic For Mayors' Meeting

Richard Carpenter, executive director and general counsel for the League of California Cities, will speak on "Local Agency Information—The Commission and the Law" at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen June 24 at Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley.

This announcement was made last night by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer at a meeting of the Mill Valley City Council on the 1964-65 budget.

"Will we invite the (Marin County Local Agency Formation) commission?" asked Councilman Albert E. White.

"I think that would be a good idea," said Balmer.

The commission last month turned down the City of Mill Valley's request to annex 255 acres of marshland between Camino Alto and Highway 101.

Burned Prisoner Off Critical List

San Quentin Prison inmate Cornelius N. Smith, 32, who doused his clothing with paint thinner and set himself afire Friday, was no longer on the critical list at the prison hospital today, according to Dale B. Frady, associate warden.

Smith, who suffered third degree burns on the shoulders, arms, head, face and neck, was in satisfactory condition today and "doing well," Frady said.

Felon Held For Robbery After Escape

The Indejendent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that Martin was returned to Soledad.

Martin was arrested by San Rafael police Sunday after he allegedly attempted to rob the Regal gasoline service station at Fifth and Lincoln Avenues with a toy pistol.

He was captured in a used car lot at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue minutes after the attempt, police reported.

Pigeons Average 47 MPH In Race

North Road Racing Pigeon Club members' birds averaged more than 47 miles per hour in last weekend's 300-mile race from Klamath Falls, Ore., despite a one-day delay in start due to bad weather.

First and second places in the first race went to birds owned by Dr. Robert Burke, 5 Indian Road, San Rafael. The second race was won by a bird belonging to Leo Enright, 7 Grove Avenue, Corte Madera.

Country Club Estates Group Objects To Subdivision Plan

Approximately 45 residents of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates last night protested the proposed tentative map for Marin Golf and Country Club Heights before the Novato Planning Commission.

The commission continued the item until its June 22 meeting. Commissioners agreed to take a trip over the area with representatives of the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates Homeowners Assn. at 5 p.m. today.

Residents objected to added traffic which would be generated by the proposed subdivision of 44 acres with a street connecting Capilano Drive and Eagle Drive. They also objected to the size of the lots, which would range from 10,000 square feet up to a half acre. Andrew B. Talbot submitted the tentative map of the subdivision.

Objections were also made by West Novato residents to the proposed master plan for planned single family development on 21 acres in Pleasant Valley. The item was continued until July 13.

A three-lot subdivision on Ridge Road 200 feet from Farvue Road, approved for R. E. Sarraille, Robert and Virginia Russell were granted rezoning from single family to multiple family for a lot at 1032 Fourth Street.

The commission denied a request by T. A. Lusher to split a lot on McClay Road south of Center Road.

Dark Praises Pitchers; Marichal On Mound Tonight

Pitching, says Manager Alvin Dark, is the major factor in his San Francisco Giants' lead in the National League and he sends the No. 1 man of his staff against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 8:15, at Candlestock Park.

Right-hander Juan Marichal, with an 8-1 record and 2.32 earned-run average, opposes young Cardinal southjaw Ray Sadecki who is 5-4 and 4.18.

A slugging club the past few seasons, the Giants don't go as strong for the big bomb this campaign as they capture the close ones — 10 triumphs by one run.

"We gave up close to 30 home runs to get better defense and pitching," Dark declared yesterday before the Giants-Cardinals game was rained out. "We're going with what we've got.

"Depth of pitching is the big improvement. That's the big difference."

A look at the list shows what Dark means. Even though Billy O'Dell's back trouble has sent his earned run average soaring to 7.31 so far, the staff has an average of 2.92.

Veteran reliever Billy Pierce leads with 1.50 appearing in 17 2-3 innings. Ken MacKenzie has been 1.70 for the 5⅓ he's worked since being recalled from Tacoma.

All the others have pitched 35 or more innings. Gaylord Perry has a 2.25 ERA, Bob Shaw 2.30, Ron Herbel 2.80, Bob Bolin 3.20, Jack Sanford 3.30 and Bob Hendley 3.34.

The Giants traded the home run potential when they gave up Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey in the trade with the Braves that brought Shaw and Hendley.

Compensating for the power, Shaw has been the relief mainstay with a 5-3 record. Hendley has been a starter and has a 4-4 mark.

More gratifying perhaps have been the showings of Herbel and Perry, both products of the Giants bonus and farm systems and each 3-1.

"Perry has pitched good all year," says Dark of the 6-foot 4 right-hander who received an $80,000 bonus for signing in 1958 but hasn't previously lived up to his potential. Brother Jim, who didn't get the big bonus, meanwhile has been a longtime American League stalwart.

Herbel also received a bonus in 1958 and has labored in the minors since then.

"He's getting a chance to pitch and he's pitching well," explained Dark. Had O'Dell not been hurt, Herbel might not have had the starting chances which have already seen him turn in a pair of shutouts. Herbel and Hendley pitch in tomorrow's double header, making up for the rainout. They'll face Bob Gibson and Glen Hobbie.

Dark continues to look for his club to start hitting, explaining. "I keep thinking we're going to bust out and score eight or nine runs and beat somebody 8-2 or 9-2, but I don't know when it will be. It's a long time since it happened."

The last time the Giants won by more than three runs was when they beat Pittsburgh 8-3 on May 22. Since then they've won three games by one run, four by two and one by three.

Maybe managers don't win many ball games with brain work. There is no doubt they sometimes lose ball games by over-managing. In any event, Alvin Dark is entitled to a bow for the way he maneuvered against Gene Mauch at Philadelphia last weekend.

Dark used a total of 15 pitchers in the three games and every time he made a move it eliminated potent Philly batting power. He disposed of three powerful lefthanded bats in the first game of the series by strategic use of two of his southpaws, Bily Pierce and Ken MacKenzie.

Of course, it took Harvey Kuenn's two-out pinch single in the 11th of that game and a following triple by Chuck Hiller to produce the 5-3 win. But there might not have ever been an 11th except for Dark's maneuvering in the eight and ninth.

Pierce entered in the eighth and Wes Covington made his exit since that lefthanded swinger is no more successful against southpaw pitching than Willie McCovey. In the ninth, after Cap Peterson pinch hit for Pierce, MacKenzie entered the game and both Johnny Hernnstein and Clay Dalrymple bowed out as Mauch sent righthanders to the plate for them.

MACKENZIE HAD to pitch to Hernnstein's pinch hitter, rookie Danny Cater, and struck him out. But he didn't have to pitch to Dalrymple or Dalrymple's pinch hitter, Roy Sievers. As soon as Mauch sent Sievers to bat for Dalrymple, Dark brought Bob Shaw in.

The simplicity and beauty of Dark's moves lay in the fact that none was hurried or frantic. He had anticipated them by ordering bullpen warmups by Pierce and MacKenzie while Gaylord Perry still was on the mound in the seventh and doing a superb job.

"I NEVER saw Alvin manage a better game," said Chub Feeney. "Every move he made was the right one and more importantly every move turned out right. Usually, one of several moves will backfire on you."

It was a rare tribue because vice presidents of ball clubs normally take managerial moves in stride without comment.

As good as Dark's maneuvering was in the series opener against the Phillies, his use of four pitchers in the first inning of the finale was masterful. Bob Hendley, the Giant starter, hit the first Philly to come to bat, walked the next one, and was drilled for a single by the third.

IT LOOKED like the Phillies would break the game wide open in the first inning and Mauch tried to do it. There was one Philly run across and two on when Bob Bolin came to Hendley's relief. Bolin gave Richie Allen nothing good to hit while walking him to load the bags.

Mauch then sent Covington to bat for Cater. Dark brought in MacKenzie and the southpaw popped up Covington. Now, Dark brought in Perry to pitch to Sievers and Gus Triandos. Sievers tagged Perry for a run-producing sacrifice fly. But that was all the Phillies got out of that big potential first inning in the finale because Perry next struck out Triandos.

Thus, Dark kept the game under control and the Giants went on to win it in their third come-from-behind victory.

Ernie Nevers Scores Ace But Misses $17,000 Rolls

An ace at the wrong time? Don't bring up the subject to to Ernie Nevers of Tiburon, the ex-Stanford grid great.

Shooting a practice round yesterday for the Harrah's Club Invitational golf tournament, during a drizzle at the Paradise golf course at Stateline, Nev., Nevers knocked in a hole-in-one on the 212-yard second hole. He was using a 3-iron.

The tourney was scheduled to start yesterday, but rain, hail, snow and sleet stopped the proccedings shortly after it got started. So the golfers used the day for a practice round.

If the tournament had been played yesterday, Never's ace would have been worth a prize of a Rolls Royce worth $17,000.

Tournament officials hope to restart the tourney tomorrow. And as for Nevers, he'll just have to get another ace.

The Yankees will open their spring training exhibition season against Baltimore at Fort Lauderdale on March 14 and end it in Richmond, Va., on April 12.

Corinthian Y. C. Shows Off New Look At Open House

BY ELEANOR FREEMAN

The Corinthian Yacht Club of Tiburon held open house over the weekend commemorating the completion of its remodeling program. Club officers and members were host to hundreds of admiring guests.

Among those in charge of tours were Commodore Edgar Wade and Vice Commodore Charles White of San Francisco; Brooke Halsey, director, Tiburon; Ray Zimmerman, Corte Madera, membership chairman; and Rear Commodore Marin Matosich of San Mateo. Matosich is praised by fellow club members as: "Our financial man-of-know-how who had a lot to do with the success of this affair."

Second oldest club on the Pacific coast Corinthian Yacht Club is held in enviable esteem by many less fortunate geographically situated clubs. Rich in position on a point of land, it dominates the scene with white-pillared dignity. Girded by broad decks, every window frames a gorgeous for-real mural.

Ed Wade reminisced, "Considerable land has been added to that original purchase" and with a distant look in his eye, continued, "That first clubhouse was a rustic, cabin-like building. Membership was something like 50 boaters. Currently it stands at 357."

The present jubilation marks a dream-come-true; nowever, there are still some projected ideas to be completed. The building is strengthened, Halsey explained. The ballroom with its long upper deck, gleaming floors and stage, can now support the weight of 1,380 persons. The building actually contains 28,000 square feet of usable space. To this cubby-holes have been torn out and rededicated to the theme of spaciousness. Tenacles of inter-com are everywhere, producing music and a paging system.

Skippers are alloted feminine-free privacy in quarters of their own. They can shower anytime, day or night; or relax in comfort.

There are break-water protected berths and many spaces for dry-docking; also gear and clothes lockers.

Brooke Halsey is proud of the children's room. TV, magazines and an available snackbar keep the small-fry happy. "Young, interested boaters are the backbone of any yacht club," he affirmed.

"Decor credit goes to Audrey Emmons, partner-associate of Hooper Associates of San Francisco," said Halsey. "Her plans submitted to the board were completely acceptable and she was placed in full charge."

The San Francisco Seals will train at the Cow Palace this year and play two National Hockey League teams in exhibitions there.

Seals officials announced yesterday that they had arranged a game with the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs on Oct. 4 and a game with the Boston Bruins for a date to be announced later.

San Francisco also announced that it had sold wing Gerry Brisson to the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League and signed two promising rookies from Fort Williams, Ont. They are Lorne (Rocky) Caruso, 21, a defenseman, and Bob Ames, 21, a wing.

MISSES NO HITTER, BUT . . .

Koufax Hurls His 3rd Straight Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no hitter last night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had staticians scrambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

Elsewhere in yesterday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3, Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

8 Marin Swimmers Win Honors In Junior Olympics

Six swimmers from the San Rafael Swim Club and two from the Marin Pirates won honors in the finals of the Pacific Assn. Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympic short course championships held this past weekend in Sacramento.

From the San Rafael club, Dave Poponce placed second in the boys 11-12 50-yard breaststroke (34.8); Robin Bachrach placed second in the 9-10 girls butterfly (34.4); Toponce took a fifth in the 100 breast (1:19.4), and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Mike McLennan, Dave Strauss, Denny Arms and Rick Tegeler took sixth for the 15-17 group.

Marin Pirates finalists were Deirdre Bullis who won fourth place for 11-12 girls 50-yard butterfly (31.8) and Teresa Carlisle who won second place in the 11-12 girls 50 breast (36.1) and third in the 100-yard breast (1:19.4).

Fullback Pat Donnelly of Navy was the top ground gainer in the classic Army-Navy game. He carried 17 times and gained 103 yards. He scored the Middies' three touchdowns in a 21-15 victory.

Young Fairfax Team Expects Big Things In Marin League

(Second in a series dealing with prospects of teams entered in the Marin County Semi-Pro Baseball League.)

By RICK SKINNER

A showcase of local talent will be featured when the Fairfax Garage nine takes the field next Sunday to open the 1964 Marin Semi-Pro Baseball league season.

Dividing the coaching duties with Stan Geruphty for the Fairfax team, Ed DeMaestri "hopes to be up with the top" at the conclusion of league play.

The garage team is sponsored by Ed's father, Babe, and is made up of 17 Marin boys, almost all of them drawing from baseball teaching gleaned from county high schools and the College of Marin.

Babe DeMaestri, a veteran of many years as both a player and coach, says he will field a line-up almost entirely made up of .300 hitters.

Vince Pallavicini, Bob Ostaggi, Laddy Richardson and Gary Johnson will share hurling assignments for Fairfax. Ostaggi, rated "tops" by mentor DeMaestri, will be one of the factors in a Fairfax attempt for the championship, if he can come back from a two-year lay-off. He's a southpaw.

Pallavicini played outfield two years for Lakeland of the Florida League under contract with the Detroit Tigers. This year he participated in spring training in the California League for the New York Mets system, but was cut from the roster. An all-Marin Athletic League left-hander from Drake in 1961, Vince can pitch, hit and play the outfield with equal excellence.

Richardson, who lives in Woodacre, is a 1962 Drake High School graduate. He's a promising youngster with all the ability to make it big.

Johnson, a newcomer to the team, hails from Vallejo High School where he was All-North Bay League as a pitcher in 1961 and 1962.

Starting first baseman Bill Gallagher should bring back some pleasant memories. Bill was an ace basketball player for Drake in 1957 and 1958 and was named to the All-Star team in the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley both years. An alumnus of College of Marin, Bill showed his prowess was not limited to the hardwood when, after winning all-league honors in the North Bay League as an outfielder in 1958, he hit .350 in competition with the San Francisco Giant Rookies semi-pro team. After a stint in the service and four years on the University of San Francisco baseball team, Gallagher returns to the Marin sports scene with an abundance of talent and a lot of spirit.

Ray Little and Dennis Gerughty will split the duties behind the plate. Little attended both Marin Catholic and Drake while Dennis, also out of Drake, went on to play for College of Marin.

Dennis' brother Larry, all-league second baseman for the Pirates this year, is competing with Rich Curry of Fairfax for the keystone spot. Curry is described by DeMaestri as a "pesky ballplayer, always on the bases." He is given a slight nod by DeMaestri right now, but since he bats left and throws right, the right-handed Gerughty will be given a chance against southpaw pitching.

Hamish Tyler will hold down the third base spot. The Woodacre youth is now attending San Francisco State and was an all-league performer last year before his graduation from Drake.

Shortstops Al Bovee and Bill Finn are battling for that spot. Bovee, rated "a good competitor" by his mentor, can be counted on to play a hard game, Finn, a student at College of Marin, also did a little hurling this year for the Tars.

In the outfield, along with Ostaggi and Pallavincini, the Fairfax nine can call on either Keith Chapman or Al Ruoff Jr. to start.

Another DeMaestri, Danny, will give depth and spirit to the Fairfax team. Danny, a student at Drake, can take over short or second base duties and still hit around the .300 mark.

The team sports an average age of just 18, but almost every man on the squad has had at least one year of semi-pro ball under his belt.

This winter, in the San Francisco Recreation League, the Fairfax group finished fourth in a league of eight teams.

SURGERY FOR PODRES; OUT FOR SEASON

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Johnny Podres, a Dodger "clutch" pitcher for 10 seasons, will undergo surgery Thursday for an elbow injury and will miss most, if not all, of the remaining season.

An "ununited piece of bone" aggitated from its position in his left elbow when he was struck by a pitched ball April 25 in Milwaukee has permitted Podres just two brief pitching appearances early this season.

"He will be extremely fortunate if he can pitch again this year," said Dr. Robert Kerlan, who announced his decision last night to operate after weeks of treatment on the 31-year-old southpaw.

Ex-Spitball Pitcher Stricklett Succumbs

SANTA CRUZ (AP) — Elmer Stricklett, 87, former major league baseball pitcher who claimed he invented the spitball, died Sunday night in his home. Stricklett, a native of Glasco, Kan., pitched for the old Brooklyn Dodgers from 1905-1907.

Boat Preparedness Can Be Helpful

CHICAGO (AP)—It's a good idea to carry a few basic tools and extra parts if you have an outboard motor boat. Engineers suggest pliers, screwdriver, spark plug wrench, drive pins, cotter pins, extra spark plugs and a spare propeller.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Not all leaders are born

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964.

It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six. 4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

June So Far Fine For Kite-Flying, Sailboating—But Not For Fishing

STEVENS

According to the poet, June is the month "When, if ever, come perfect days." Wonder if he meant kite-flying or sailboating? Sure didn't mean fishing around here. On Sunday the salmon boats took one look at the Pacific and returned to port. The bait boys after bass in the upper San Pablo stayed away in mobs, and the eager anglers who drove to the Delta region failed dismally.

The above doesn't mean, however, that the fish have left their former haunts. On Saturday the salmon trollers recorded an average of a fish-and-a-half per rod, according to Caruso's place at Sausalito. Bob Davison, head of the bait department did report, though, a fair to good live-bait job with striped bass in the Racoon Straits—nice fish to 18 pounds. Not a terrific run, but an estimated two-fish per boat.

THE NEWS is also good anent plug-casting from shore at Dillon's Point. Suetta Lagrone reported lots of fish being taken by pluggers that range from 7 to 15 pounds, but very few taken on bait. Frank Joseph of Joseph's at Rodeo reported the trollers, when able to get out after them, are making the grade. "Perhaps a bit less frenzied than it was, but still good near the Union Oil Wharf as well as in the deeper water," said Frank.

THE SOUTH BAY, in the general vicinity of Hunter's Point, and in the San Leandro Channel has continued yielding some good to excellent live-bait fishing as well os divided-leader trolling with jigs and pet spoons.

YOU WILL not by consulting your tide book that there was a one-foot-four minus this morning, will be a one-foot-eight tomorrow and again on Thursday; Friday a one-foot-seven and a one-foot-four on Saturday. You want a mess of abalones or clams? Then get out and get after them.

San Anselmo Tops Benicia Semi-Pros

Right-hander Russ Honeyman pitched a four-hitter, striking out fourteen and walking only two Sunday to give the San Anselmo Merchants a 7-0 victory over the Benicia Merchants in a practice semi-pro game at San Anselmo.

Second sacker Larry Kline handled eight chances flawlessly and collected two hits to share some of the spotlight with Honeyman.

Marin Star Now 5-2 In Cal League

Ron Cole of Mill Valley, pitcher for the Modesto Colts of the California League, picked up another victory hurling six innings of one game in the last reported week by Player Periscope of Novato.

The victory boosted his win-loss mark to 5-2 in 49 innings pitched. He has allowed 38 hits, 17 walks and has struck out 42 batters. His earn run average is 3.12.

Ron Blum of Larkspur, shortstop for St. Cloud, Minn., of the Northern League, batted .262 for the week to bring his average up to .222 for the season. He had 11 hits 42 at bats, with one triple and one double.

Gerry Ard of Fairfax, shortstop for the Modesto Colts, batted .269 for the week, (7 for 26) to bring his average to .230 on the year.

EIGHT HOMERS

John Boccabella, first baseman for Salt Lake City of the AAA Pacific Coast League, batted .240 for the week, with 6 hits in 25 at bats. His hits included a home run, his eighth of the season, and a triple, his second.

Boc, who hails from San Anselmo, is now batting .222 for the season (40 for 180), with 24 runs batted in and 20 runs scored.

Ken Anderson, outfielder for Greenville, S. C., of the Western Carolina League, had only 3 hits in 22 at bats for the last reported week for a meager .136 mark. The San Rafael youth now is hitting at a .245 clip (30 for 118) for the season.

KEITH KRIEGER

USC Leads Miss. In NCAA Opener Halted By Rain

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The NCAA baseball tournament resumes today in the middle of a game which was interrupted by yesterday's rainstorms.

The Trojans were holding a 3-1 lead over Mississippi after 4⅓ innings last night. Officials ruled the game would continue from that point tonight.

Tam's Krieger Named Prep Of Week; Coach Predicts A Four-Minute Mile

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Keith Krieger, a boy who sat out last track season with a broken ankle and this year placed seventh in the California Interscholastic Federation meet's mile run, has been selected Prep-of-the Week by the Independent - Journal sports staff.

Krieger, a senior at Tamalpais High School, is looking toward graduation next Sunday with the fine feeling of knowing he's one of the top milers among the state's prep distance men. He ran a 4:27.0 mile last Saturday for seventh place, but ran a 4:17.5 the day before in a qualifying heat, The state meet was held in massive Los Angeles Coliseum.

"This boy has a great future ahead of him," says his coach at Tam, Bruce Grant. "I am positive he will be a four-minute miler."

It was actually the first track and field season this year in which Krieger participated. His freshman and sophomore years at Tam he competed on the swimming team. Last year a broken right ankle kept him out of action, so he finally got around to competing on the Tam track and field team this year. He had participated three years on the Indians' cross country team, however, and was one of the best in the county.

Keith, who will be 18 on June 26, doesn't confine his talents to the athletic field. A scholar with a 3.0 grade point average at Tam, he has won a grant from the California State Scholarship Commission, a scholarship that will pay the tuition at the college or university of his choice in California.

"It's between USC or UCLA," said Keith. "I still have two weeks to decide."

And as far as track is concerned, those two universities always have strong cinder teams, so the coaching staffs must be keeping their fingers crossed in hopes of landing such a good mile prospect.

And to stay in shape, Krieger plans to do a lot of running during the summer. If he keeps up his rate of improvement as he did during the track and field season, he'll start getting near that four-minute mark.

Keith was born in San Francisco where his family lived before moving to Mill Valley nine years ago. The family home is at 148 Sycamore. Keith's father, Harry, is a shoring carpenter for Stanley Flowers Co. in San Francisco.

He also is interested in golf, but when questioned about his scores, he simply answered with a smile.

His golf scores don't have to be very hot, for his times running the mile make up for any high scores he may encounter on the golf course.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Many Pre-Nuptial Parties Honoring Marty Tobener

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Many parties are being given for Martha Claire (Marty) Tobener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tobener of Corte Madera. Marty will be married to James Brodie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith of Red Bluff June 20. Marty went with Mr. and Mrs. Smith to attend the graduation of her fiance from Portland University and Mrs. Smith gave a large tea at her home for her future daughter-in-law.

Marty's sister, Mrs. Joel Kiff (Rennee Tobener) will give a luau Friday at her new home in Corte Madera, honoring the bride-elect. A luncheon and shower were given in Marty's honor by Mrs. Michael O'Brien of Mill Valley and Miss Gerry Wicks of Corte Madera, who will be bridesmaids at the wedding. The party was held at the O'Brien home. Mrs. Frank Buscher of Larkspur was hostess at a large party at her home to honor Marty. One of the guests, Mrs. F. Martyn (Chris) Meech, whose husband is the Canadian consul, told of exciting experiences when they lived in Ghana. Mr. and Mrs. Meech, who have been staying in Larkspur, leave July 1 for Ottawa.

PAT SALL, who will be married to Anthony McMullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester McMullen of Kentfield, June 20, at St. Sebastian's Church in Greenbrae, was honored at a bridal shower and luncheon Saturday at the Hill Top Restaurant in Novato. Hostesses were a number of Pat's bridal attendants, including Mrs. Sheldon Mills, Joan McMullen, sister of the future bridegroom, who will be maid of honor, Miss Sue Kuizenga and Jerri Hunter, also Mrs. Frank Gloistein, San Anselmo, who will be in charge of the guest book at the wedding reception to be held at Peacock Gap Country Club. Guests at the luncheon were Anthony's mother and Pat's mother, Mrs. Fred Sall of Walnut Creek, Mesdames Larry Callan, Robert Olson, Oscar Gloistein, Louis Galetti, Harold Geary, Stephen Geary, Leo Catalano, Ambrose Briare. Thomas Walsh, Robert Larrison, Aldino Bargieni, Misses Linda Olson, Joyce Ruggeri and Nancy Bargieni. When Anthony and his bride return from their honeymoon trip they will reside in San Anselmo.

LAST WEEKEND was party time in Marin. I enjoyed mine, however, not in Marin but as the guest of Mrs. Milton (Bertha) Tonini, formerly of Ross, at her delightful Princeton Inn in El Granada, San Mateo Co. The inn is right on the Pacific shore and a five million dollar breakwater protects the small craft from the ocean. From the windows of the inn I had a marvelous view of the Pacific and watched the fisherman as they brought in their catches, many nets were filled with crabs. Big parties were given each night at the inn, with an orchestra playing for dancing. Bertha promises she will return to Marin to arrange a garden tour to benefit Ross Branch, Needlework Build, for which she worked so hard for many years.

The Fred Scatenas of Ross entertained at a cocktail party Sunday afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jones of Kent Woodlands gave a large cocktail party Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY EDDY of Ross gave a brunch Saturday at their home honoring their daughter, Barbara, member of this year's graduating class from Redwood High School. The 24 girls told of plans for the summer. Natalie Lewis, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John G. Lewis of Ross, will go to Europe. Natalie, who has just graduated from Katharine Branson School, will travel through western Europe with her parents, her brother, Ed, who attends Trinity College in Connecticuut and Steve, who has just graduated from Ross School. Eldest son of Captain and Mrs. Lewis, John, who has another year of study at Brown University, Providence, R. I., will not go to Europe now. He will be married in September to Sheila Heydt of New York City.

Another RHS graduate at the party, Michele Bettette of Larkspur, will go to Austria, in the Experiment of International Living. Betsy Crawford, a graduate of Dominican Upper School and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Crawford of Ross, and Barbara Eddy will go into the High Sierra this summer. Other Redwood graduates at the brunch were Candy Cain of Greenbrae and Laurel Macauley of Ross, who will make their debut at the Marin Ball in December, Janet Ostaggi of Ross and Barbara Beard of Belvedere.

THE LESLIE TURNERS of San Rafael are flying to Europe Thursday. Their plane will land in England and they will go on to tour Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Monte Carlo and France. While they are away their son, Dean, who will be a sophomore at San Francisco State College will be at home for the summer vacation.

Egypt, Nile Highlights Of Bakers Two Month Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Baker Jr. have returned to Sausalito after two months of travel.

One of the highlights of their trip, was Egypt and the upper Nile. They particularly enjoyed their cruise on the adriatic to Greece and its islands up to Istanbul and the countryside at Delphi, Crete and Rhodes.

"In Athens we saw Irene and Victor Wollmann, who will probably not return to Sausalito until the end of the year, and in London we were staying with relatives who took us to a performance of the complete 'Swan Lake' at Covent Garden, and sitting right in front of us were the James Smiths from Sausalito."

The Bakers spent several weeks in London and Scotland and also were in Copenhagen.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

I suppose almost every mother worries about thumb-sucking at one time or another. But most experts agree that if not overdone, it's perfectly normal, rarely harmful. Things that may cut down excessive thumbsucking:

If a young baby sucks his thumb lustily, it could be that he needs more time at breast or bottle.

Toddlers can often be distracted from thumbsucking with 2-way games or do-something toys.

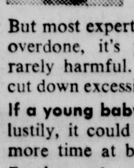
Babyhood basic. All-age babies benefit from specially prepared cereals for the special food values they supply. Gerber Baby Cereals are enriched with iron, calcium and B-vitamins . . . nutrients needed every day. Gerber Cereals are also prepared with your baby's eating pleasure in mind. Flavors are pleasantly mild, the way babies prefer them . . . the texture extra-nice to the tongue. And they stir to smooth perfection in seconds . . . stay that way right down to the last satisfying spoonful.



•

Regulating idea. When your baby is ready to go on a 3-meals-a-day schedule, you'll find a change of scene or a bit of attention will help him wait out a half hour or so to meet his new schedule. Babies are adaptable and will usually settle for attention if the wait isn't too long.

•

Growing idea. Your baby gains more in height and weight the first year than the next two put together. That's why it's important to see that he gets plenty of protein foods... the great "helping hands" of growth. There's Threat Of Danger If Pay-TV Ban Is Voted

Should Pay-TV be treated as a "public utility" and subjected to governmental control?

At least one member of the California Public Utilities Commission thinks so.

The guarantee of these freedoms constitutes recognition of the absolute necessity for freedom of thought and freedom of expression and freedom of communication, if our form of representative self-government is to serve us best.

Some years ago in the dawn of our electronics age there was serious thought given to "piping" your daily newspaper into your home (if you wished to subscribe to and pay for the service).

It would arrive via a telephone line and appear as a facsimile on a machine which would convert the electronic impulses into a visible likeness of a newspaper.

"Instant newspaper" might best describe it in the current idiom.

All the technical problems involved were not overcome, but they unquestionably could be now that technology has advanced so far.

If by some fluke California voted next November to ban Pay-TV, would the ban extend to the electronic distribution of newspapers and therefore violate the spirit of our constitutional guarantees?

If Pay-TV is to be considered a public utility subject to all sorts of governmental regulation, would the same regulatory bodies under the same authority be able to regulate newspapers distributed by identical means?

We think there is a very great danger inherent in banning or unnecessarily controlling a means of communication —which is all that Pay-TV really is.

We hope this danger comes to be more generally recognized before Californians go to the polls in November to vote on the possible elimination of this means of communication.

BOOM OR BUST

California To Test Controversial Pay TV In Homes, At Ballot Boxes

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The biggest pay-TV gamble of all is approaching its scheduled opening date—July 1—amid such sound and fury, political repercussions and a huge dream of a new era in entertainment.

It will not be merely a hit or a miss, but rather a boom or a bust. For the West Coast operation — in Los Angeles and San Francisco—is a multi-million-dollar business aiming for eventual national saturation.

IT ALL DEPENDS on whether the public will buy the programs—with baseball the big come-on — and on whether anti-pay-TV voters have enough strength to ban it in November. If Subscription Television, Inc. (STV), fails, big-scale pay-TV may well be hard to resurrect for a long time.

The San Francisco operation, which is not as far advanced as the Los Angeles setup, may not get under way until mid-August.

STV has its main headquarters in Santa Monica, not far from Los Angeles. Its boss is Sylvester (Pat) Weaver, the creative former president of NBC.

The pay-TV firm hoped to have about 20,000 homes wired (it does not operate over the airways) by July 1, but various complications are expected to cut this opening number to between 7,000 and 8,000.

THE AREA THAT is being wired is an indication that, at least at the start, STV is not really going to depend heavily on cultural attractions to bring in the loot. Though there may be a number of these attractions, down-to-earth programming is the immediate requirement because the area in question is not what might be termed the high-rent district.

The battle of pro- and anti-pay-TV forces has been truly fierce, encompassing advertising, petitions, letters-to-the-editor and name-calling.

Proponents of pay-TV argue that this is a free enterprise venture and has a right to be accepted or rejected by the public as any other business. They claim it will have little effect on the programming of commercial television.

OPPONENTS MAINTAIN that viewers will soon wind up paying for what they now get free because the huge financial potential of pay-TV will lure the biggest stars and shows to the new medium.

These opponents, who include the theater owners who once vociferously opposed commercial television, defend the current system as "free-TV."

The opponents have succeeded in getting enough signatures to put a proposed initiative which would outlaw toll television in California on the November election ballot.

The Screen Actors Guild is for pay-TV, envisioning new jobs and perhaps a renaissance of the movie business, with costs recouped in a single showing of a film.

"Each month subscribers will receive a program guide listing in detail the program offered on each of STV's three channels," says an STV ad. "The cost of each program will be indicated, along with a 'sample period' during which the viewer can look at a portion of the program without charge, and decide whether or not he wants to pay admission. . . .

"At the end of the sample period, the program selector will 'query' each set to determine which, if any, channel is in operation; and a central computer will record the subscriber's name and charge. Billing will be monthly, by mail, like the telephone or water bill. No coins, meters, tapes or servicemen."

ALL SHOW BUSINESS is waiting, perhaps eventually to snicker, perhaps to be conquered.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Chairman William D. Fusselman said the Marin County Board of Supervisors might complete purchase of 50 acres in Santa Venetia and take an option on the remainder of a 140-acre site for a county fairgrounds.

After more than seven years of debate, the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board authorized preliminary architectural survey for sncotruction of a $100,000 shop-warehouse building near the toll plaza.

20 YEARS AGO

Rev. Reginald D. Rosson was named rector for St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

Marin County Real Estate Board members voted all-out support to put the county "over the top in record time" in the Fifth War Loan campaign.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Marin College Site And The Assessor

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A recent news article revealed that the College of Marin is in the process of acquiring 333 acres of land in northern Marin . . . at a total cost of $860,000. This seemed like a staggering sum to pay for undeveloped land and stimulated a little investigation.

We noted that the board of trustees of the College of Marin had been seeking land for three years.

Going back to 1960-61, we found that the original 437 acres, which includes the 333 acres, had been assessed at no more than $10,120 land value (based on an appraisal of approximately $44,000), and taxed at less than $1,100 a year. Suddenly in 1963-64 the assessed value went up to $155,250 (appraised at $675,000) and the tax became $14,000. . . .

I doubt if any among us think that the land value actually jumped from $44,000 to either $675,000 (assessor's appraisal) or $860,000 (sale price) overnight.

. . . In this particular case there were several years during which the landholder's tax should have been increasing as his land value went up —i. e., the community which created this increase should have been benefitting from it tax-wise. Instead, when the tax suddenly jumped up to a realistic value, the owner dumped the property . . . at over $800,000 more than the value on which he had been paying taxes. And who does he sell it to? The taxpayers of Marin, the very people who created the increased value of the land. If the tax had been climbing in proportion to the increasing land value (as the law intends), not only would the owner have been interested in selling sooner to the college, but he would have sold at a far lower price. . . .

It is gratifying that when our own county assessor, Mr. Bert Broemmel, appraises property he does it well. We must back him fully—and so must the board of supervisors . . . when land owners seek to exert pressure for unjust lower assessments.

We must do more! We must strongly urge Mr. Broemmel to seek effective ways of regularly adding the yearly increases in land values to the assessed roll. One means of doing this might be to decrease the personnel assigned to assessing new improvements . . . using the men thus freed for appraising land.

Another method . . . would be the use of computers. . . .

Canal's Orphan Status Deplored

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Some time ago you published a fine editorial pointing out some of the problems of the San Rafael Canal. It drew attention once again to the apathy of the city council and the county board of supervisors to this waterway. It is distressing to note that, because of the lack of interest by the local government, it has been necessary for a few of the businessmen along the canal to press the federal government for funds to even maintain the canal.

It is possible that many of the local citizens do not realize the benefits that San Rafael and the county receive from this heavily used waterway. In addition to the demand for waterfront real estate for residences, there are many businesses whose lives depend upon this waterway being kept usable.

The many boat shops, the marine service stations, the boat sales organizations and the boat berthing harbors, through their own expenditures and their employees' purchases, contribute tremendously to the area. In addition, local stores, real estate brokers, automobile service stations, etc., all receive business from out-of-towners who come to the canal businesses for their boating needs.

In addition, the city and county receive good incomes from taxes on real property, personal property and sales taxes. With almost a million-dollars-a-year value of boats sold by the various boat sales offices adjacent to the canal, the city receives a considerable sum from sales taxes alone.

It is about time that the boating industry and the recreational boaters receive some direct return for the taxes they pay. Therefore, in my opinion, it behooves the city and county government to include the San Rafael Canal in their planning and to include expenditures not only to maintain the channel but to improve it.

Marin County has a wonderful waterfront area and the efforts being made to preserve it are commendable. The growth and development of the San Rafael Canal, a long - established waterway that produces both good recreational area and a revenue return, deserves first consideration. Anything that your paper can do to encourage local government participation would be worthwhile and a real civic endeavor.

George's Vote Counts Stir Tiburon Critic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"George" should hide his head, instead of boasting about his "fine job" and "lack of challenge" in tabulating election results. And I mean both George IBM 1401 and George County Clerk Gnoss.

All morning June 3, our five winning Tiburon Council candidates were announced on KTIM as Strawbridge, Hoffmire, Ellinwood, Nash and Souza, in that order. The results were provided by the two Georges. By noon, we understand, our local newspaper editor, Mr. Abrams, had caused much double-checking because of discrepancies between county and local totals.

The Georges had erred in three men's totals—Mr. Megan, Mr. Nevers and Mr. Nash. The changes moved Mr. Nash from the winners' circle and put Mr. Souza and Mr. Hannahs up to spots 4 and 5.

One of the Georges also was forced June 2 to correct his running errors in our precinct lists; voters inside our incorporated limits were being denied ballots and outsiders given them. Both Georges owe public apologies to Mr. Nash and Mr. Hannahs for teasing them into and out of the council that morning.

Foregoing that, at least the Georges could stop bragging about their "flawless performances."

BENNETT CERF

E. D. ASSELIN tells about a superstitious Vermonter named Homer who had a horror of Friday the thirteenth, broken mirrors, spilled salt, and the like. He also had a dead crow hanging on a nail above his barn door. "It keeps the poisonous reptiles off my place," he explained. "But, Homer," protested a visitor, "there isn't a poisonous reptile within hundreds of miles of this spot."

President Aims Heavy Guns At Goldwater's Claim We're Weak

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, far in advance of the political conventions, in effect opened his presidential campaign with a speech on American might last week.

It served three different purposes: It was a warning to the Communist world, a reassurance to allies, and a reply to Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has been consistently critical of American defenses.

It was so detailed, Johnson's talk can be considered a basic reply to any attacks the Republican Party may try to make when the campaign gets going.

In talks Goldwater has made since the start of 1964 and most recently in a booklet—"Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out on the Issues"—the senator has attacked this country's defense set-up in general and its missiles in particular.

The Johnson administration wasted no time going after Goldwater when he began his attack last January with the statement that U. S. intercontinental ballistic missiles were "undependable."

He got a fast answer from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, whom Johnson has blessed consistently. McNamara called Goldwater "politically irresponsible" and his statement "damaging to national security."

Goldwater has attacked him ever since. But on the same day Goldwater made his statement, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said he is confident the United States has "just as good missiles as there are in the world."

Goldwater, acknowledging the importance of missiles, complained this country is getting rid of its manned bombers and by the 1970s will be relying on missiles alone.

He said: "We cannot put our sole reliance on missile systems as against a mixed force—missiles, manned aircraft, and naval vessels of all types."

Johnson said this country has more than 1,000 fully armed ICBM and Polaris missiles fired from submarines ready for retaliation, and he added: "The Soviet Union has far fewer and none ready to be launched beneath the seas."

"We have more than 1,100 strategic bombers. . . . The Soviet Union, we estimate, could with difficulty send less than one-third of this number over targets in the United States."

And Johnson made this sweeping statement: "In every phase of national strength America today is stronger than it has ever been before. It is stronger than any adversary or combination of adversaries. . . ."

Goldwater said, "We are lagging behind in weapons technology and in the development of new systems."

Johnson said: "In the past several years we have begun many important new weapons systems." He listed some of them.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Cover-Up Claimed On Embassy 'Bug' Fuss

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The State Department is keeping from Congress and the public the most shocking part of the hidden microphones in the U. S. embassy in Moscow.

ON DIRECT ORDERS from Secretary Dean Rusk, the department's security officers have clamped a lid on evidence showing that the Kremlin's deep penetration of our embassy was the worst security disaster suffered by the U. S. since the Korean War; all U. S. secret codes and policy papers dealing with U. S. - Soviet relations were compromised.

Every secret decision made by President John F. Kennedy during the 1962 Cuban missile confrontation was known by Premier Nikita Khrushchev hours, and at times days, before they were implemented or made public.

"Khrushchev didn't need a 'hot line' during the Cuban missile crisis," one security officer reported after making the investigation. "All his agents had to do was intercept the cables being sent to Ambassador Foy D. Kohler by Secretary Rusk outlining the courses of action planned by the president. To confirm his decoded findings, the Soviet leader could listen in on the conversations of U. S. embassy officials over the hidden mikes."

When the present building was turned over to the U. S. authorities in 1952, the Russians retained about one-third of it for their own use. They moved a tremendous amount of electrical equipment into "their part of the U. S. embassy."

THIS COMPROMISING situation, never revealed to either Congress or the public, was tolerated by such noted ambassadors as Charles E. ("Chip") Bohlen and Llewellyn Thompson until the Russians finally agreed to move out of the building in 1962.

At a cost of $150,000 to American taxpayers, the Russians then rebuilt "their" wing, loading it with cameras and secret listening devices, some of which are still within the walls.

Although U. S. security officers already have uncovered 65 hidden microphones, their inspection of the building is still less than 50 per cent complete. They still must take apart the ceilings and floors.

The State Department's investigators stress that Secretary Rusk is suppressing their findings to protect the public images of Ambassadors Bohlen, Thompson and Kohler, the top U. S. Soviet experts whose policies have supposedly baffled the Russians the past 12 years.

"IT WOULDN'T look very good to admit that . . . these experts really never baffled Khrushchev," a security officer pointed out. "The recommendations of these ambassadors were recorded by the Russians when they dictated to their secretaries. They were known to Khrushchev before the messages were coded and cabled to Washington."

The Russians let Finland bring in its own material and labor to construct its embassy, but would never grant the U. S. the same concession.

Universe Is Very Big, BIG Place

BOSTON (UPI) — So you wonder just how big the universe is? Well, Hayden Planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science gives you an idea with the following facts:

There are 100 billion stars (including the sun) in our Milky Way galaxy.

The nearest star to earth, other than the sun, is Alpha Centauri. If you were traveling 600 m.p.h. in a jet airliner, it would take 4.7 million years to reach it.

To reach the nearest spiral galaxy beyond our Milky Way would take more than two million years if you were traveling at the speed of light (186,000 miles per second).

Writer's Mother Gets High Praise For Continuing Interest In Life

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The greatest tribute a child can pay to its parents for the gift of life is to outlive them.

I have existed beyond my father a quarter of a century, but I doubt I can outwear my mother.

SHE GETS STRONGER with the years.

Going on 77, she is fair-complexioned as a milkmaid, still delicate of ankle, but so rotund and robust that it is all her loving children can do to put their arms around her.

She came here from Ireland when the world was young and fair, was ambushed by love, bore five kids without loss—all over 40 and complaining — and has survived the inroads of an Irish temper, a touch of diabetes, and four decades of high blood pressure in good health. Her current foe is rheumatism—and she has a low opinion of it.

"Some days I can hardly move," she remarks, "but where do I want to go anyway except to stay here?"

ONE OF THE THINGS I admire most about my mother, who only went to the third grade in Ireland but educated herself by enjoying people and reading the Kansas City Star, is her human deftness. She is the finest philosopher and most sure-footed family politician I ever knew.

She doesn't just sit on the fence. She patrols both sides of a situation. Any situation.

When she was younger if something displeased her, she fixed her eye on the ceiling and denounced the floor in loud tones.

BUT NOW SHE says, "You must learn to live with life."

Now she says, no matter what happens, "Well, considering the people involved, what else could a sensible person expect?"

Now she says, no matter what her children do, "Well, I brought you up this far. Now you're on your own."

Her children are now too old and dull to attract her keen attention, and she bends her ever-youthful mind to what happens to her grandchildren.

"PLEASE, GRANDMA," they say—when she asks too much about what they are doing. But it is her interest in the young that keeps her from being old.

Perhaps the thing I admire most about my mother is her utter individualism.

Neither God nor the devil can control her mind. She is warm-hearted but free-speaking. What she thinks she says, and what she says she thinks.

LIFE FASCINATES her, but she is unafraid of the truth that long existence has brought her nearer to death.

This last Memorial Day, I visited with her at the cemetery where my father and some other members of the family are buried. The place was alive with remembrance and fragrant with flowers.

My father is buried near a roadway, and the turf above him and his kin is rather thin from the tread of strangers.

"They have to walk across our people to get to theirs," my mother said.

'Mayor' Of Ignacio Takes Minor Setback On San Jose Sign Issue

THE INDEFATIGABLE booster of Ignacio, the unofficial mayor, Frank Galli, has been taking somewhat of a ribbing lately. He succeeded in getting the name of the realigned portion of San Jose Boulevard named Ignacio Boulevard.

That is, it was approved by the Novato City Council and appears so on the new city maps. However, the wheels in the Division of Highways turn very slowly and the plans for the present overpass were drawn up long before the change.

NOW THE STATE is erecting signs indicating the overpass as "San Jose Boulevard." So Frank is getting kidded again that the signs indicate San Jose, and not Ignacio.

But his work was not in vain. The Division of Highways will change the signs from San Jose Boulevard Exit to Ignacio Boulevard Exit, according to Frank. It may take a few weeks, but the change will be made, he said.

THERE IS A NEW sport starting in Novato, and we hope that it doesn't go too far until some place is set aside for it. As yet, it has no official name, but if it did, it would probably be called "skate board water skiing."

The way it works so far is this—one takes a board, similar to the ones mechanics use to crawl under cars, and puts old roller skates on it. Then a water ski rope is tied to a motor scooter. The person stands on the board and "board skis" behind a slow-moving scooter.

So far, no accidents have been reported with this, but we can see a potential danger in it. A motorist would see a scooter and perhaps not the person being towed behind it. Or the scooter would go through an intersection in front of a car, only to have the person being towed pulled in front of the car. The possibilities of such a sport being dangerous are many.

LET'S HOPE THAT it does not get too popular until some place off the public streets is found for it.

Well, it's final now. The Novato High School band is not going to march in the Western Weekend parade, said Robert Wisgerhof, principal of the high school.

"I'VE TALKED to the band leader and the student band leader and they have decided against it," Wisgerhof said. He said it was a combination of little things that prevented the band from marching.

"I suppose we could have thrown the doors open and let some of the kids march, but we would rather not have them march than do a poor job," he said.

That is going to take a lot of fun out of the parade, both for the students, who like to march in it, and the parents, who wanted to see their children in the parade.

Now, had Shakespeare lived in Marin County, he might have written: "There's something rotten at Hamilton Air Force Base."

Well, logic would say that there was, because the Defense Surplus Sales Office on June 2 advertised that it had "bones and meat trimmings, and cooked grease" to be sold on bid sale. Said bones and meat trimmings and cooked grease could be inspected until June 19.

Now, in that three weeks' time—pheeewww!!!

Dog Films, Slides Will Be Shown

Australian industrialist and all-breed dog judge William Spillstead and his wife will be guests of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club at its June meeting tonight.

The Spillsteads will show slides and movie films they have taken of dog shows in their trips around the world. The meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. at the Marin County Civic Center, in the third-floor chamber of the planning commission.

... about financial success. The first step towards this much-sought-after goal is the basic protection of the family through Life Insurance.

Should you buy now? Or can it be put off safely if both husband and bride are working? The wise thing is to buy now. Postponement till you're older means higher premiums and the risk of poor health striking in the meantime. Someday too, that second income may stop, making it doubly important that a new mother be guaranteed a living income—an income enabling her to devote full time to raising that precious new addition.

The best buy for the young family is permanent insurance. It provides that most important guarantee of family income. In addition, it's a savings plan providing cash in an emergency and funds for long-range objectives such as a university education for a son.

Today is Tuesday, June 9, the 161st day of 1964 with 205 to follow.

The moon is new; the morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn; the evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1943, Congress passed an act providing for "pay-as-you-go" income tax deductions, authorizing employers to withhold income tax payments from weekly salary checks of their employees.

In In 1948, President Harry S. Truman touched off a controversy when he labeled the 80th congress "the worst we have ever had."

A thought for the day—novelist Victor Hugo said: "The sublimest song to be heard on earth is the lisping of the human soul on the lips of children."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Expert Knows Right Hand From Left When Playing

The advantage of studying foreign languages is that you know how to say "Goodbye" in the proper language if the person standing next to you happens to fall overboard.

It might be even better to study something else (perhaps a bridge column) to prevent the accident altogether.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts.

This forcing raise shows strong trump support (four or more) with a total count of 13 to 16 points. You have 11 points in high cards and should count 3 points for the singleton.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

West opened the queen of diamonds, and East signalled encouragement with the five. This was a polite gesture, but West was overboard.

REFUSED DIAMOND

South refused the first diamond, won the second, and drew three rounds of trumps. He ruffed dummy's last diamond and ran the three clubs, ending in dummy.

With the stage thus set, declarer led a heart from dummy. East played low, of course, and South played the nine.

West was now beyond rescuing. If West led hearts, South would win a trick with the king. If West led anything else, dummy would ruff while South got rid of a heart. Either way South would lose only two hearts and one diamond.

MUST ADMIT

We must admit that East was polite at the first trick. If East were vigorous and effective, he would play the king of diamonds on his partner's queen.

This play would prevent West from falling overboard.

ONE HEART

West takes one heart trick with the Jack and exits safely with a club or diamond. South must eventually give up two more heart tricks.

Even if South wins the first diamond trick, he must lose a diamond later. East makes sure to win this with the ten in order to lead a heart.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

FLAME IN STONE — This is sculptor Donald Starr's sketch of stone carving of "eternal flame" which College of Marin student executive council proposes to place on campus as a memorial to John F. Kennedy.

Eternal Flame Sculpture Due College

The College of Marin will have a sculpture of the eternal flame on President John F. Kennedy's grave if plans of sculptor Donald Starr work out.

The college's student executive council has approved Starr's sketch of the flame, and the proposal is to be considered by the college board of trustees.

Starr lives at 61 Foothill Road, San Anselmo, and has been a Marin resident about 10 years. Before coming here, he was art teacher at Roseburg (Ore.) High School. He has been a professional sculptor.

He has offered to donate time, labor and materials for the project. The flame-in-stone, he said, will be four to five feet high.

Student leaders hope the sculpture will be placed under a Japanese Elm on the campus, where a temporary memorial plaque for the late president is located.

WATCH FOR DOWNBEAT—Winifred Baker, conductor and founder of the Winifred Baker Chorale, raises her baton at a rehearsal for the June 17 performance of Elgar's oratorio "The Dream of Gerontius." It will be performed in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael, at 8:30 p. m.

Chorale Sets Premier Work

On June 17, the Chorale will present the Marin premiere of a major choral work written in 1901 by Sir Edward Elgar, "The Dream of Gerontius," based on a poem by Cardinal Newman. It will be performed at 8:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael.

Last February, the Chorale gave the West Coast premiere of Menotti's "The Death of the Bishop of Brindisi," and their program for 1964-65 calls for another in addition to the Elgar work.

Featured in "The Dream of Gerontius" are baritone Cary Barford of Fairfax, singing the Priest and the Angel of the Agony; San Francisco tenor Orva Koskinson as Gerontius; and soprano Margery Tede as the Angel. Two years she was the sorceress in the Chorale's performance of "Dido and Aeneas."

Tickets will be available at the door, from members of the chorale and at various Marin County book and music stores.

College Of Marin Expects Record Of 2,200 Students

A record 2,200 fulltime students are expected to enroll for fall semester classes at the College of Marin. Of that number, 1,550 have already reserved their classroom seats.

The flood of students is expected to put particular pressure on science laboratories, special purpose classrooms and cafeteria and parking facilities, President Stephen E. Epler said.

The college will hire 16 more teachers to handle the increase of students. Four general classrooms, two in the new physical education complex and two adjoining the new photography laboratory, will be available. Greater use may also be made of the seven classrooms in the college's San Anselmo center.

Classes will continue to be redistributed, with more scheduled for late afternoon and at noon. More fulltime students also are expected to enroll for noon, late afternoon and evening classes.

Snarl Of Traffic Is Called One Of Worst In Marin

Median Strip Helps Prevent More Pileups On Highway 101

Twenty persons were injured in traffic accidents as motorists skidded on slippery Highway 101 and other parts of rainswept Marin County yesterday.

Most heavily accident-plagued was the stretch of Highway 101 between the crest of Alto Hill and the Corte Madera overpass, where a new median strip barrier fence is under construction.

Fence posts and cables have been placed but the chain-link fencing has not yet been secured to them. However, the unfinished barrier paid off for the motorist yesterday, declared Sgt. James C. Dukes of the California Highway Patrol.

EXCHANGE NAMES

Dukes said the patrol took reports on 19 accidents from 2:30 to 8 p.m. yesterday, and an unknown number of other persons in accidents exchanged names and continued on. In nearly every case one or more of the vehicles struck the median barrier, Dukes said. In several areas the fence was struck several times at points very close together.

"There is no way to know how many people on the other side would have been struck, and of course some might have been fatally injured, if there had not been a fence there to stop them from going over into the opposite lanes," he pointed out.

SIX TREATED

Dukes said the day was one of the worst he can remember since being in the county. Three men were held over from the patrol's day shift, in addition to the eight units on the evening shift, and at times all units were tied up.

Six persons were treated at Marin General Hospital after a three-car collision on the Alto Hill at 4:35 p.m. Injured were Willard T. McDonald, 42, of 734 Del Ganado Road, San Rafael, bruised on the abdomen; Esther Schatz, 15, fractured finger on the left hand; Garnie Schatz, 18, cut lower lip; Ellen Schatz, 12, bruised on the face; Larry Schatz, 7, bruised on the face and head; James C. O'Connor, 23, of San Francisco, bruised on the back. The Schatz children are from Fort Bragg. They were riding in a station wagon driven by William R. Schatz, 45, of Fort Bragg.

DEPUTY HURT

The patrol reported McDonald, driving a pickup truck, had to veer to avoid another vehicle spinning out of control. The truck struck the O'Connor car. Schatz could not avoid the snarl and hit the McDonald truck.

A Ukiah deputy sheriff and his wife were in good condition at Marin General Hospital after their car was struck form

BATTERED LIFE-SAVER—Partially completed fence down divider of Highway 101 looked like this, viewed south from crest of Alto Hill, today after being hit by numerous cars that skidded during yesterday's heavy rainstorm. Sgt. James C. Dukes of the California Highway Patrol said the fence already had proved its life-saving capacity.

Standards For Formation Unit Are Proposed

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

A set of proposed standards for decisions by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission has been written by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows, executive officer of the commission, and is being studied by commissioners for Thursday's meeting.

The proposal lists changes in an order of preference which would make annexation to an existing city the best possible change, and formation of a new single-purpose special district the worst.

New boundaries should not create an island, corridor or strip, Barrows suggests, and any change which does so should be explained and justified.

Boundaries should not divide an identifiable community or commercial district unless there is need for the improved level of services shown.

If a change in boundaries would have a disrupting operational or economic effect on surrounding areas or governmental units, the necessity for such a change must be explained, Barrows believes, along with reasons why boundaries cannot be further changed to help solve new problems which might be created by the proposal.

If a new agency is to be formed, it must be shown to be economically feasible, and should take into account projected population changes in-

Transit District Study Requested

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to ask the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to authorize a study of feasibility of a transit district and possible means of commuting by water.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr moved the request. He said two-thirds of such a study's cost could be paid for by the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. Cost of the study was estimated not to exceed $30,000.

Included was a recommendation that the survey be done by Deleuw and Cather Co., the firm which earlier did a rapid transit study for Alameda County.

Incorporation Of Tiburon Set June 23

At request of the city council-elect of the not-yet incorporated city of Tiburon, the Marin County Board of Supervisors today acted to have the area become a city June 23. (See also story page ..

The action came as supervisors approved the official canvass of the June 2 incorporation election. The board requested county clerk George H. Gnoss or one of his deputies to deliver personally incorporation papers to the office of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan in Sacramento on June 23.

Four of the councilmen-elect were present, Anne L. Ellinwood only woman on the new council, was not there.

The four men said they wished to meet to pass necessary actions setting up city services on the same day Tiburon becomes a city.

Incorporation will be effective as soon as the papers are received by Jordan.

U.S. Resumes Laos Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States resumed its jet reconnaissance flights over Laos today, and Communist China claimed that fighters escorting the photo planes bombed the Communist Laotian headquarters.

The New China News Agency said six heavily-armed U. S. Navy jets "intruded" into the Khang Khay and Phong Savang areas, dropped bombs and fired rockets. It claimed two fighters were damaged by Red anti-aircraft fire.

U. S. officials said the Navy jets resumed the scouting missions after a one-day suspension. They were given White House authority to fire to protect themselves and the unarmed photo-reconnaissance planes.

Rights Bill Jury Trial Measure Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate wrote a jury trial amendment into the civil rights bill today, then defeated a proposal to knock out provisions for government-financed training in how to handle school desegregation problems.

In the first votes on the bill in more than a month, a roll call of 51-48 approved a jury trial amendment offered by Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky.).

It would guarantee jury trials in al criminal contempts arising from the measure except in voting rights cases.

Next the Senate turned down a proposal by Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) to eliminate three sections of the school desegregation title of the bill.

Under these sections, the U. S. Office of Education could arrange for and finance institutes to train school personnel in dealing with desegregation problems, could pay stipends to those attending the institutes, and could make grants to school boards to pay at least part of the cost of local training of personnel to handle desegregation problems and to help the boards hire specialists to advise on such problems.

The vote against this was 56 to 40.

The adoption of Morton's amendment was a defeat for administration forces but they believed it might help them get the Senate to adopt tomorrow a limitation on debate by swaying some Republican votes.

Romney Says Nixon Urging Him To Become Candidate

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND (UPI)— Michigan Gov. George Romney today turned down an appeal by former vice president Richard M. Nixon and others that he enter the GOP presidential race against near-nominated Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan reported today that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and some Republican governors had urged him to become a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination. (See also stories, page 2).

He told reporters at the National Governors Conference that he was taking the requests "under consideration."

Romney made the statement as he emerged from a conference with Nixon. The former vice president had met earlier with all Republican governors attending the conference.

Nixon told a news conference earlier that there was "a real possibility" the GOP governors would produce a challenger to Sen. Barry Goldwater. He also expressed belief that the Arizona senator would sew up the nomination by this weekend.

Romney, who had held a series of private conferences in the past 24 hours with Nixon in Detroit and Cleveland, said that "Dick and some of the governors have been urging me to become a candidate."

He said Nixon had urged him to follow through on his declaration Sunday that he would do all he could to block Goldwater's nomination unless the senator satisfied him about a number of issues.

Restaurant Owner Found Dead In Room

Dave Marowitz, 60, owner of the West End Villa in San Rafael, was found dead in his room at 12:20 p.m. today at the Bermuda Palms Motel, in San Rafael.

The body was found by his ex-wife Hertha Brandt who had been trying to reach him since the weekend. Marowitz had reportedly been ill for some time. He lived at the motel for the past two years.

Greatest Marin June Rainstorm In History Hits

Marin County was drenched yesterday with the greatest June rainstorm in its history.

In San Rafael the storm broke all records for the entire month, making it the wettest June in the city's history.

The city had a total of 2.25 inches of rain during the storm, for a total of 2.26 inches since June 1, breaking an 80 year June record total of 2.03 inches set in 1884. No rainfall tables prior to 1875 exist.

The rare summer storm, which gathered momentum after noon and continued through the evening, was by far the heaviest June rainstorm on record in the county.

From one to three inches fell throughout the county, with the Mount Tamalpais Fire lookout reporting the heaviest rainfall, an even three inches.

Carroll Snyker of Ross said Weather Bureau records dating back to 1888 show that the highest single June storm was 1.7 inches.

Records taken at Kentfield show the heaviest June rainfall there was 2.10 inches in 1912, he said.

The storm brought minor flooding and caused dozens of traffic accidents, but no extensive damage was reported.

Electric power was off to about 125 customers in the Lagunitas-Forest Knolls area from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. yesterday after a limb, heavy with rain, crossed a power line, reported Leonard O. Robertson, electrical superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

High water flooded two lanes of Highway 101 near Hamilton Air Force Base, slowing homeward-bound commuters.

BROKEN MAIN

A broken water main along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, sent up a 40-foot geyser spouting at about 8:30 p.m. to add to the downpour. The break occurred at a spot where a temporary main was hooked onto a permanent main, reported the San Anselmo Fire Department. The water was cut off without interrupting service to homes, firemen said.

During the height of the storm at 2:30 p.m., the alert sirens at Hamilton Air Force Base sounded when water short-circuited the alarm system. The base was flooded with calls to learn if the alarm was "the real thing."

The storm surprised Marin residents and caused one old-timer, Edwin C. Gieseck of Mill Valley to comment, "I have seen it rain on the Fourth of July in Mill Valley. It's a screwy year, though."

The unexpected storm began clearing this morning. The forecast was partly cloudy tonight and fair and warmer tomorrow.

The storm reportedly moved into the area from the Gulf of Alaska, and dropped unseasonable snow in the Sierra Nevada.

San Rafael and Novato, which had an even two inches of rainfall, received the heaviest fall among the cities in the county.

San Rafael now has a total rainfall of 22.62 for the season as compared to 46.95 for last

Novato School 97-Cent Tax Increase Asked

A preliminary budget for 1964-65 of $2,787,656, calling for a 97-cent tax increase, was presented to the Novato Unified School District board last night by Supt. James G. Bunker.

This budget calls for an increase in the total tax rate from $4.12 to $5.09 per $100 assessed valuation, Bunker said.

The budget is $394,763 more than the $2,231,438 budget of this year. It is based on an estimate of 400 more in average daily attendance, and an increase in 10 per cent in assessed valuation.

Operating tax rate was increased only 23 cents, from $3.49 this year to $3.72 for next year, Bunker said. However, the tax rate for state loan repayments increases from 24 cents to 53 cents, and for local bond redemption from 39 to 84 cents.

The district saild $800,000 in bonds this year, Bunker pointed out in explaining why the bond redemption rate had increased.

The superintendent reported the Novato Unified School District is spending less per student per year than the state average, and less than neighboring districts.

He estimated Novato would spend $372 per student from kindergarten through eighth grade this year, and $537 per high school student. He compared that to $384 for Dixie, $466 for San Jose and $467 for San Rafael from kindergarten through the eighth grade. San Rafael High School District spends $646 per student, he said.

The state average for last year was $451 for elementary grades and $660 for high schools, Bunger said.

Bunker also made a plea for higher teacher salaries. He said "the salary schedule is too low in comparison with the state."

Humboldt Establishes Civil Service System

EUREKA (AP)—An ordinance establishing a civil service system for Humboldt County employees was approved Tuesday by the board of supervisors, contingent on voter approval in November.

About 700 to 800 employees would come under the system.

Kaiser Plans Hospital For Northgate Site

Proposal Must Be Approved By Foundation Board

Permanente Medical Foundation will build a Kaiser hospital in San Rafael if a proposed agreement is approved by the foundation's board of directors at a meetlate this month.

Site of the hospital will be at Northgate North, the 10-acre property immediately north of the Northgate Shopping Center, which has been approved by the City of San Rafael for an office building and motel-convention center. When approving the master plan for the "planned community" development, the city council and planning commission provided that a hospital might be an alternative use.

PACT CONFIRMED

Two service stations have already been approved on the 10 acres, leaving slightly over nine acres as a hospital site. It was understood the Kaiser interests might wish to build a hospital up to six stories high as the acreage is smaller than usually considered adequate for a Kaiser hospital.

CLINIC NOW

Permanente Medical Foundation now has a clinic on Fourth Street in San Rafael, and has been seeking a location for a larger clinic in the area. The Northgate North property might be used initially as a clinic site, with a hospital built a few years hence, it was understood.

The life sentence was recommended by the jury that received the case yesterday afternoon. The jury of eight men and four women had the option of recommending a sentence of death or life imprisonment or to leave the sentence to the judge.

Wallace Says Law On Rights Wouldn't Last

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama says that if the civil rights bill is enacted, "it will be repealed in two to four years."

"I'm not advocating disobedience of any law," Wallace said in an interview. "But people, North and South, are going to resent and resist this. It will take a police state to enforce it.

"It's a severe attack on private property and free enterprize, and when people realize this the law will be repealed.

Wallace said he is convinced that feeling over the racial issue was an important factor in Sen. Barry Goldwater's victory over Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the California presidential primary June 2.

As for Rockefeller's state, Wallace said: "New York already has all those civil rights laws on the books and New York has more problems today than any other state."

Answering a question, he said he has no plans to organize a nationwide movement to work for repealing the civil rights bill if or when it becomes law. "I won't put myself up for that," Wallace said, "but I'll do my part as best I know how."

Judging from Wallace's out-of-state mail, it appears that he has won much support for his civil rights position.

The letters and telegrams came from virtually every part of the nation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Brazil Leader Banned From Politics

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—New political turmoil threatened Brazil today because of the purge of Juscelino Kubitschek, banned from politics for 10 years to keep him from getting the presidency again.

President Humberto Castello Branco signed a decree ousting Kubitschek from his Senate seat and removing the political rights of the powerful political leader who had been the leading contender for the presidency in October 1965.

The suave former society surgeon joined more than 200 persons whose political rights have been suspended since President Joao Goulart and his leftist regime were overthrown April 1. Former Presidents Goulart and Janio Quadros, who resigned in August 1961, also have lost political rights.

Shastri, Indian Cabinet Sworn In

NEW NELHI, (UPI) — Lal Bahadur Shastri was sworn in as independent India's second prime minister today with a cabinet selected to follow the domestic and foreign policies of the late Jawaharlal Nehru.

Wounded Ex-Envoy Out Of Danger

PANAMA CITY (UPI)—Roberto Arias, former Panamian ambassador to London, was reported "out of danger today" from four gunshot wounds suffered yesterday in a street corner political argument.

The bullets were fired by Alfredo Jimenez, a former bodyguard of Arias' uncle Arnulfo. The uncle was an unsuccessful candidate for president of Panama in last month's elections.

Church Fire Death Toll Now 15

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Fatalities stand at 15 and damage suits at 3.4 million dollars in the wake of the May 23 All Hallows Church fire.

Mahuia Sotoa, 29, and Aouluili Vaesau, 19, died in San Francisco hospitals. Six persons were killed in the fire and nine have died from injuries.

A suit asking 1.7 million dollars on behalf of two widows was filed in Superior Court against the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco. Both women are expecting babies.

The fire in the Catholic church was ignited from a pan of gasoline to be used for fiery swords in the dance at a Samoan gathering.

POLITICAL ROUNDUP

Barry Confident Ike On His Side

COMBINED AP & UPI

CLEVELAND, Ohio — Sen. Barry Goldwater left the 56th annual Governors Conference feeling confident that ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower will not upset his bid for the GOP presidential nomination.

He said in an interview last night that he is convinced Eisenhower, about the only man who could do so, would not interfere in Goldwater's headlong rush toward the 655 delegate votes needed for the nomination.

Goldwater, given an ovation on his arrival at a conference dinner, stayed to hear Eisenhower speak. He talked briefly with Eisenhower and other party leaders while table-hopping, then flew back to Washington.

Goldwater avoided any conferences with Republican governors who have been complaining that his conservative views would make it difficult for him to carry their states as the GOP nominee.

Specifically, he did not make himself available for discussions with Govs. George Romney of Michigan, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

Eisenhower conferred with 15 of the 16 Republican governors on the political situation. Romney missed the meeting but flew in later.

Gov. John Anderson Jr. of Kansas, conference chairman, said he and his colleagues "agreed that the Republican party and Republicans nationally are bigger than any individual."

This seemed to signal the general recognition that Goldwater is close to having the nomination in his pocket.

Rockefeller dropped by Goldwater's table during the dinner.

"Congratulations on that California victory," Rockefeller said. "You and I were the only ones who stuck it out."

(Eisenhower wants the states to force the federal government to balance its budget at least every two years through the never-used device of a constitutional convention.

(Eisenhower urged the governors to initiate amendments to the constitution through the convention system to apply a check on federal power.

(The constitution provides that congress shall call a convention for proposing amendments on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states. Any amendments thus proposed would still have to be ratified by three-fourths of the states. The convention system of amending the constitution has never been used in the 175-year history of the document.

(Eisenhower said that once the convention power was used "those in Washington power centers would never again feel at ease in their restless work to extend the federal reach, or to use tax money to attract votes.") makes a more definitive statement about his candidacy.

NEW JOB

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Ohio Republican State Chairman Ray C. Bliss today appeared almost certain to be named to succeed National GOP Chairman William E. Miller when he gives up the job, probably next month.

Bliss was the first person former President Dwight D. Eisenhower asked to see when he visited Cleveland yesterday. The two discussed the political situation generally in a closed meeting.

It was understood that Bliss, whose Ohio successes have made him a recognized national party leader, gave Eisenhower his ideas on building a strong party and also discussed Eisenhower's role in the coming campaign.

NIXON'S VIEW

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon said last night Sen. Barry Goldwater was the heavy favorite but the Republican presidential nomination "still is not locked up."

Nixon made the statement in a news conference here prior to his third appearance in Michigan.

However, Nixon declined to say who could take the GOP nomination from Goldwater.

Nixon said he does not plan to be a candidate for president or vice president this fall, and said he believed the party would turn to new faces.

LBJ DELEGATES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has been quietly piling up Democratic delegate votes while the political spotlight focused on the Republican presidential race. He already has more than half the number needed for his expected nomination.

The President now has 671 first-ballot votes stemming from primaries, state convention actions or personally stated preference, an Associated Press survey howed today.

There has been little doubt that Johnson—although he has not yet announced his candidacy—will win the nomination on the first ballot, perhaps by acclamation.

The only avowed candidate, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama, has 38 first-ballot votes—all from Alabama.

NOT TOO LATE

"We all realize it's very late," said Rep. Robert J. Corbett (R-Pa.), one of three lawmakers attending a closed-door strategy session in the office of Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), "however, we haven't said it's too late."

But the only concrete result of the session, apparently, was to send word to Scranton that the drive in his behalf cannot make any headway unless he makes a more definitive statement about his candidacy.

Town Fights Flood

MAYO, Yukon Territory (UPI) —Most Mayo residents camped in tents today to escape flood waters which covered more than a quarter of the town. Two rampaging rivers inundated lower sections of the town. Residents worked to shore up dikes along one of the rivers to keep the community from being washed away. Flood waters were still rising.

Johnson Nominates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Lyndon B. Johnson has nominated Leonard Marks Jr. of Palo Alto, Calif., to be an assistant dean of the International Center for the Advancement of Management Education at Stanford University, will succeed Meil E. Harlan, resigned.

Goldwater Fight Seen By Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, his own political stock boosted by an enthusiastic reception on a one-day visit here, last night assessed the fortunes of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater and struck out against the John Birch Society and ultra-conservatism.

Closing his rapid tour of the metropolitan area with a speech at the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, Kennedy criticized people who "want to stop history in its tracks" and return to "a comfortable past which, in fact, never existed."

Earlier in the day-long tour of local educational and employment centers, Kennedy said the so-called "stop Goldwater" drive started much too late to be effective, and predicted his own party would be "looking forward" to battling the Arizona Republican in November.

Disavowing any personal political aspirations at this point, the attorney general demonstrated the continued power of the Kennedy name as he moved among crowds, mostly in minority group areas, in his role as chairman of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency.

Khrushchev, Tito Appeal For Red Unity

Khrushchev said in an airport statement that "full identity of views" had been achieved on a "whole range of questions of relations between peoples through the world."

Tito said that "on all subjects we discussed there were no differences and I don't believe any will arise in the future even remotely resembling what we had in the past."

Russian Military Accuses U.S. Of Satellite Spies

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union today accused the United States of operating satellites and a network of radio and radar posts to spy on Russian military and space installations.

The Soviet Defense Ministry newspaper Red Star charged that the United States had launched several satellites this year which were shrouded in "strictest secrecy without indications of their time of launching, purpose or orbits."

The U.S. embassy here termed the charges "ridiculous." Foreign observers said the Red Star article appeared to be an attempt at increasing Soviet vigilance and regarded it as Kremlin propaganda.

MONTANA FLOODS RAVAGE STATE

'Greatest Natural Disaster' Kills Eight, Sweeps Away Dams, Bridges; Rain Continues

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Floods described as the worst in memory swept out of Montana's northwestern mountains yesterday, killing at least eight persons, sweeping away dams and bridges and leaving hundreds of residents isolated. Rain pelted the area for the fifth straight day.

Authorities said the death toll included five members of one Blackfoot Indian family.

A girl was reported drowned in Valier, on the Indian reservation, and two motorists were killed when their vehicles plunged into raging stream.

DAMAGE ESTIMATES

Col. Howard McKinney of the Montana National Guard said the floods were the greatest natural disaster the state has ever suffered.

Rescue workers were blocked in many places by washed-out bridges and long stretches of inundated highway. At least 20 bridges and four earthen dams were carried away by the pounding water.

HIT BY SURPRISE

With a sling and hoist, Air Force medics lifted seven persons from perches ranging from tree limbs to roof tops.

In Choteau, all 2,000 residents left their homes to seek shelter overnight in a church and country club on higher ground.

Jim Farrar of Shelby watched 15 horses hurled into a ravine by the torrent. Moments later it caught a herd of cattle and churned them under.

The main floods were on the Sun River, rising in mountains west of Great Falls, and on the Marias River, with tributaries in Glacier National Park.

Both the Sun and Marias feed into the Missouri River.

The Sun, which joins the Missouri at Great Falls, was expected to reach a crest of 20 feet, more than eight feet above flood stage, late today at Great Falls.

Hurricane, Storm Fatal To 11 In Italy

ROME (AP)—A hurricane followed by lashing rainstorms and landslides took at least 11 lives in northern Italy last night and today.

Fishing boats were blown to sea and capsized in the storm-swept upper Adriatic. At least 16 fishermen may have drowned.

A landslide crashed down Mount Olinpino at down, burying five wokrmen at the mouth of a highway tunnel near Lake Como. The bodies were recovered.

SAFETY HELMETS FOR POLICE

Sausalito police yesterday received safety helmets which they are to wear on all calls according to Police Chief Kenneth H. Huck. The helmets are plastic, with black base and light blue top. Said Chief Huck: "There are certain elements of our society that show disrespect to authority of law enforcement officers. There are a number of officers annually injured because of being struck on the head." Result: the helmets. Officer John Higgins is seen wearing his. (Independent-Journal photo)

Street Names Might Change—Fire Mixups

About 25 streets in Fairfax may soon receive new names.

The Fairfax City Council last night looked over a sheet of requested name changes submitted by Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton, who said his department and other emergency agencies are worried that duplications of names with nearby cities may lead to a tragedy.

He cited recent cases in which emergency vehicles went to San Rafael, Ross and other communities when they were called to similarly named streets in Fairfax.

Councilmen took no action, since alternate names had not yet been suggested for the streets. But they appeared eager to go through with the request, and Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet suggested councilmen meet with Thornton to work out a list of new names.

Only street mentioned by name was a small part of Ridgeway Avenue, which Donald Banks of 105 Chester Avenue suggested be made part of Willow Avenue. In a letter, Banks said the extension has only three houses on it, and people looking for these homes often go to the wrong end of Ridgeway. The council promised to study this along with Thornton's list.

Earlier doubts about one phase of the countywide uniform animal control ordinance, recently adopted by the council, were nearly settled as councilman introduced an ordinance setting fees of $3 for male or spayed dogs and $5 for unspayed female dogs.

The Fairfax City Council Also:

1. Introduced an ordinance replacing "ex-officio" with "advisory" members on the city planning commission, and passed an "oral resolution" declaring these advisory members to be the public works director, fire chief, building inspector and Councilman George Pagni.
2. Raised the monthly salary of police officers Edward McClintock and Paul Simpson. McClintock went from $517 to $543, and was given permanent status on the force. Simpson was raised from $543 to $570.
3. Authorized hiring two boys to assist the Park and Recreation Department during the summer at a wage of $1.50 per hour.
4. Decided to take advantage of Marin County's bulk purchasing of gasoline, when they learned the county's recent award to Standard Oil Co. was for a lower price than the city has been paying.
5. Passed resolutions defining the duties of the now-vacant post of street superintendent, defining those of new public works director and city engineer Richard J. Nelson, and authorizing Nelson to hold an oral examination for applicants for the street job, at a date to be determined.
6. Learned that Max Friedman, owner of Marin Town and Country Club and Fair-Anselm Shopping Center, had pledged a quick cleanup of trash along San Anselmo Creek. "After today's rain," a councilman quipped, "all that garbage will float away anyway."
7. Indicated its first budget hearing will be at the June 22 meeting.

Premium Delay; City Doesn't Get Benefits

Startled to learn the Fairfax Women's Club would get the money if its city-owned clubhouse burned, the Fairfax City Council last night held up payment of a $100 premium.

Examining an invoice on insurance renewals for city buildings, Councilman Frank L. Lawrence observed a paragraph stating that any payment in case of fire would be made to the women's club.

This led councilmen to query City Atty. Wallace S. Myers about the legal status of the club's lease, which Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet said he understood was good for 99 years when it was signed nearly 30 years ago. Myers replied that he could not comment without further research.

It was later reported that the women's club reimburses the city for its premium payments, but councilmen said they still objected to another group getting the money if a city-owned building should burn down.

"I'll gladly pay the premiums on your fire insurance if I get the money in case your house burns down," Councilman George Pagni quipped.

The council authorized some $700 in premiums on other buildings, but voted to hold the clubhouse payment until it could learn more about the situation.

AND BICYCLE NOT FOR TWO

Play Ball! But Chief In Fairfax Against Games On City Streets

Fairfax city councilmen were unable to agree last night on whether they should draw up ordinance against playing ball in the street, but decided they did not need one to control the city's only known case of "mother-and-child" bicycle riding.

The idea of a "ball-playing ordinance" was raised by Councilman George Pagni, who said he was acting at the request of Police Chief James Orr.

Pagni noted that San Anselmo has such an ordinance, and suggested it might be a good way to control several problem areas in which police efforts — including stern warnings to parents — failed to break up the ball games.

Orr later stressed that he didn't propose to arrest "every kid who plays catch in the street," but said he was concerned over a few spots where continuous, organized games create a traffic problem.

The council was divided by several conflicting theories. Councilman Robert R. Souza observed that "part of the solution is offering adequate facilities for recreation." Councilman Peter Arrigoni Jr. contended "there are too many ordinances like this on the books already."

Councilman Frank L. Lawrence said he felt the ordinance should prohibit any form of street play, but a motion to this effect died for want of a second.

At that point, Orr said: "I withdraw my request. If this gets in the paper I think my problem will be solved anyway."

The council spent less time dismissing the possibility of amending the bicycle ordinance to exclude, or include, an unnamed housewife who takes her small child for frequent bicycle rides.

They concluded the young mother's excursions are prohibited by the ordinance in its present form. But no one appeared eager to see this clause enforced.

"Does this mean you will close your eyes in this case?" one councilman jokingly asked Chief Orr.

"I didn't say that," said the chief.

Horse Training Test Trials Will Be Open

The combined training test trials slated for July 18 and 19 by Inverness Equestrians will be open rather than confined to members as stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

The error was contained in the last paragraph of a story on the back page of the I-J. It should have stated that the trials would be open, while a 10-day training event preceding the trials would be open only to members.

Under-Sized Lot In Fairfax Splits Council On Zoning Law

Tossed a hot potato by the city planning commission, the Fairfax City Council last night split 3-2 on whether to enforce the city's zoning ordinance in the case of a Rocca Drive man wants to build on a lot which is less than the minimum 5,000 square feet.

Effect of the split vote was to leave the door open so the applicant, H. P. Halverson, could bring in more precise plans at a later meeting.

The case was referred to the council, explained planning commission chairman Daniel M. Miller, to learn whether the city can enforce part of the 1962 ordinance which defines adjoining lots belonging to the same owner as one lot for building purposes, and which forbids sale of these individual lots to create parcels of less than 5,000 feet.

Councilmen were unable to reach agreement, either on Halverson's case, in which he wished to build on a substandard lot at 101 Rocca Drive, or on the general question raised by Miller.

They were even unable to agree as to the exact footage of Halverson's odddly-shaped lot. Councilman George Pagni looked at the map and said it was 4,800 square feet. Councilman Peter Arrigoni Jr. contended it was only 3,200.

Later, the city's new public works director, Richard J. Nelson, went for his drafting tools, came back and announced it was 3,600 square feet.

While Arrigoni repeatedly argued that "the ordinance should be enforced," other councilmn held there was no simple solution, since several other property owners had already been allowed to build on substandard lots, and such lots would be "quarantined" if building were prohibited.

After much discussion, Councilman Robert R. Souza moved to postpone the matter so Halverson could revise his plans, if necessary, to prove he could build on the site.

Tomales School Bus Service Cutback Urged

Novato Sanitary Hookups Approved

The Novato Sanitary District Board last night approved plans for two sewer extensions.

The first extension will go up Canyon Road 500 feet to a nursing home under construction by Campbell-Lynn Co. of Bellevue, Wash.; the second is a six-inch main west of the Keith subdivision off Center Road, to serve six homes for Keith A. Mahaffy and others.

J. Warren Nute, engineer in charge reported that the $189,000 enlargement on the Novato treatment plant was approximately half completed. The completion date is Aug. 8, Nute said.

The board studied the $170,000 operating budget, but took no action on it.

Doctor Volunteers In Ascherman Case

Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims ruled yesterday that the hearing board has no power to compel testimony.

Dr. Alvin Natanson, who was Ascherman's commanding officer in the Air Force Medical Corps, was subpoenaed before the ruling, but has agreed to appear of his own accord, according to Harold F. Riede, attorney for the Marin Hospital District.

At continuation of the hearing last night, Riede moved for indefinite postponement because of the judge's ruling. Harry Gonick, representing Ascherman, said "every administrative effort" should be exhausted before they gave up. He said some persons had indicated they would voluntarily testify, and he thought they should be contacted.

Riede said both parties in the hearing have stipulated that anyone who volunteers testimony will have the same immunity as if he had appeared before a superior court.

Gonick last night won admission into the record of some 286 cases on which Ascherman had worked, with information on the types. Hearing officer John R. McDonough denied admission of notations on disposition of the cases, however, until it can be determined that someone other than Ascherman made the notations. Riede said he felt the notations were "self serving."

Ascherman said he received splendid cooperation while delivering the baby of Mrs. Joyce Conway at the hospital, and said that was one reason why he wanted to be on the staff.

He denied he had ever offered to split a fee with Dr. Edward Shev, now on the Marin stafff, when Dr. Shev was an orthopedic surgeon at Mount Zion Hospital in San Francisco.

He has filed suits totalling six million dollars against four San Francisco hospitals which also denied him staff membership.

Judge Rules Hospital Case Testimony Can't Be Forced

Marin Superior Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. ruled in effect yesterday that Marin Hospital District has no authority to force testimony in a hearing.

The action came with dismissal by Judge Sims of an order that Dr. Leonard D. Rosenman of San Francisco show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court for refusing on May 19 to testify in the district's hearing of Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the district, said following the ruling he will now ask the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco to direct Superior Court to adjudicate the contempt order sought.

He said without full power of subpoena in any hearing before John R. McDonaugh Jr., district hearing officer, only voluntary testimony could be received and purpose of the action could often be stymied.

Harry Gonick, attorney for Ascherman, said other witnesses in the hearing will be guided by yesterday's decision.

Book Policy For Schools Is Received

Mill Valley School District board last night received its first written proposed policy for book selection, which includes procedures by which members of the public may make complaints about book selection methods.

The board will study the policy, Supt. G. R. McConnell said the public is invited to see the policy and make any comments on it to the secretary of the board at 26 Miller Avenue.

Books are selected by the faculty under criteria expressed by American Library Assn.'s Library Bill of Rights and the American Assn. of School Librarians' School Library Bill of Rights.

The policy says in effect, said McConnell, "This is the kind of book we want and, if anyone does not like it, here is what he can do about it." Criticisms are to be made to the superintendent in writing, are reviewed by the director of instruction, then may be referred to a board of five employees and outside persons. The report then goes to the superintendent for decision and an appeal may be made to the board. The Board's decision is final.

The policy is similar to that used in Tamalpais High School District.

The Mill Valley School District board also:

1. Called for bids on painting of Tamalpais Valley School, furnishing stage draperies for Old Mill School, and a lease on district-owned residence at 627 Eastwood Way, Tamalpais Valley.

2. Accepted resignation of Mrs. P. E. Thompson, Marin Terrace School secretary, who plans to study for a teaching credential.

3. Employed Mrs. Leslie A. Stone and Shirley A. Dietel as teachers for 1964-65.

4. Agreed to pay substitute teachers $22 per day next year rather than the present $20.

5. Heard that under the recently passed Unruh Bill the district will receive $33,000 at $10 per kindergarten through eight grade pupil and $11,000 at $10 per first through third grade child, starting July 1.

County Pay Hearing Data Is Changed

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to change the date for consideration of salary changes for county employees from Monday to the afternoon of June 29.

The action came at request of Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who is vacationing in Mexico. Chairman William A. Gnoss said he felt action on salaries would have to wait anyway, and that time would have to be spent bringing Leydecker up to date if he were missing when the hearing was held.

Leydecker said he expects to be back in Marin County June 17.

Supervisor George H. Ludy at first opposed the delay, saying Leydecker should have known he would be needed for the meeting. Ludy added that June 29 will be at the end of budget discussions, and at that time the effect might be to cut back on salary increases because money will already have been promised elsewhere.

County Auditor - Controller Michael Mitchell said $175,000 is included in the proposed budget for salary increases.

Breathing Trouble —Baby To Hospital

James F. Aitken, 10-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Aitken of 109 Taylor Avenue, San Raafel, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital after being rushed to the hospital at 1:20 p.m. yesterday when he was having difficulty breathing.

A resuscitator unit of the Fairfax Fire Department was called at 12:25 p.m. to the home of Mrs. Arthur Pla, 2310 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, where the child was being cared for, according to the fire department.

$100,000 Is Sought For Auto Injuries

Henderson, who filed the suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court, alleges McDonough was reckless and negligent in a vehicle he was driving struck McDonough on Monte Maria Avenue at 7 Cambridge Street. Henderson said he suffered rib, lung and facial injuries.

Deputy Warren L. Truitt, 59, who is also a retired highway patrolman, suffered bruises of the abdomen, and Marie Truitt, 55, was bruised and cut on the back.

Truitt said he was driving northbound, was suddenly struck from the rear, and his car went over the divider, landing in the southbound lanes. The driver of the other car, John W. Murphy, 42, of 160 Via Casitas, Greenbrae, was cited for unsafe speed.

A San Francisco couple, Julius D. Perlite, 65, and his wife, Mabel, 53, were taken to Marin General Hospital after a two-car collision on Highway 101 a quarter mile north of Greenbrae. Perlite was bruised on chest and abdomen, and his wife had a fractured right leg and multiple bruises. Both were transferred to Mary's Help Hospital in San Francisco where they were reported "looking good" today.

Perlite's car and one driven by Albert von der Werth, 20, of 222 Evergreen Avenue, Mill Valley, collided after Perlite failed to make a curve, and his car went over the divider into oncoming lanes.

Robert D. Weinman, 39, of 888 Greenberry Lane, Lucas Valley, was in satisfactory condition at San Rafael General Hospital today with multiple facial cuts suffered in a three-car collision at 6:45 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 south of the San Rafael overpass.

Homer A. Drady, 55, of Sonoma, was bruised and cut in the same accident. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

The patrol said Weinman was unable to stop for traffic halted on the highway and his car went into a broadside skid, striking the Drady car in the rear. Also involved in the accident was a car driven by Donald F. Stenloff, 49, of Tiburon, which was struck in the rear.

Two San Francisco women were treated at San Rafael General Hospital after the car in which they were riding skidded on wet pavement on the Highway 101 San Rafael overpass, hit the guard rail, and ended up on the divider.

Alice Zepeda, 34, suffered a cut right knee, and Mary Harvey, 28, was cut inside the mouth. The patrol reported the driver, Joyce M. Shelfo, 24, of 403 Chapman Drive Corte Madera, also was injured but the hospital had no report on her.

A Stockton couple, John V. Paravagna, 76, and Pauline Paravagna were taken to the office of a Point Reyes Station doctor after their car ran off the Point Reyes-Petaluma road into a bank yesterday morning. Paravagna said he applied brakes and lost control on the wet road. He was cited for failure to maintain control.

An 8-year-old girl, Ann Brooke, was reported injured in an accident on Highway 101 a quarter mile south of the Corte Madera overpass at 3 p.m. She was a passenger in a car driven by Susan Brooke Van Cleve, 24, of 60 Madrona Avenue, Belvedere.

The driver told the patrol she saw an accident at the bottom of the hill, applied brakes and her car skidded into the fence. No information was available on the child's injuries, and hospitals had no report on her.

Alfred I. Gardner, 37, of 601 Louise Street, Novato, was struck by a pickup about 9 p.m. on Highway 101 near the Marinwood overpass. The driver of the truck failed to identify himself. Gardner's car was knocked into a ditch. He was taken to Novato General Hospital, then decided to see his own doctor in San Rafael.

Michael Gensburger, 27, of Petaluma, was treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts on the right knee after he was involved in a three-car collision about 3 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 in Corte Madera.

The patrol said a car driven by Herbert M. Hanson Jr. 39, of 297 Throckmorton Avenue, Mill Valley, swerved to the left, braked and went into a slide. It hit the Gensburger car and knocked it into a car driven by Jack Felton, 67, of San Francisco.

AGENCY

side the boundaries and in nearby areas. If there is a general plan for the area, the proposal should follow that plan, Barrows continues.

When new services must be provided by changes in boundaries, the best possible change is annexation to a city, Barrows suggests, but almost as good would be annexation to an existing district for which the county board of supervisors is the governing body.

Next preferred would be annexation to a multiple purpose district or annexation to an autonomous single purpose district. If none of these changes will provide the needed service, a new taxing jurisdiction may be recommended, Barrows says.

If a new agency is required, a county service area, which is run by the board of supervisors, is preferred, followed by incorporation of a new city, formation of a multiple purpose district, and, last, formation of a single purpose district.

Sprinkler System Bid Is Accepted

Sausalito School District trustees last night approved a contract for installation of a fire sprinkler system, starting June 15, at Central School, by Approved Automatic Sprinkler Co., San Francisco, for $27,900.

The board approved a revised 1964-65 budget for the child care center, Marin City, of $29,500. Current year's budget is $20,040. The increase is due to increased participation, said Supt. Marcus F. Davis.

A school psychologist, Margaret Moreau of Petaluma, was hired on a two and one-half day basis for the 1964-65 school year. Formerly the district contracted with the county schools office for a psychologist one day per week.

ENGINEER'S FLAT FEE IS PROPOSED

Mill Valley City Manager Looks Upon Idea As Transition To Fulltime Post

It was proposed to the Mill Valley City Council at its budget session last night that City Engineer Stanley M. Bala be paid on a flat fee basis the same as the planning consultant and city attorney, to receive $675 per month.

The fee, said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, would cover such things as small street jobs, small subdivisions and sewer agreements, but major projects would still be done on a contract basis through the firm of Bala and Strandgaard.

Balmer said he looks upon the change as a transitional step between the consulting engineer the city now has and a fulltime engineer he hopes the city will have in the future. He said he would like to recommend a fulltime engineering staff for fiscal year 1965-66.

Bala now receives $8.03 per hour. An overall figure of $10,000 was proposed to be budgeted for city engineer services. This would include the $675 flat fee and the remainder, $1,900, would be a contingency fund to take care of extra services which might be requested.

A full council was present at the discussion held at Municipal Golf Clubhouse. No final action was taken, the next budget session to be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in city hall.

Discussing streets, Mayor Michael Wornum said he would like to see the "seed fund," which he said seems to have disappeared, remain in the budget. The fund was set up last year to enable the city to assist citizens who wish to set up assessment districts for improving streets. Balmer said the money in the current budget was not spent and will be carried over.

Robert Rudebeck, one of about 10 in the audience, asked if it would be possible to have one street per year resurfaced, saying he sees "general deterioration" taking place in the streets.

Balmer said an overlay is planned this year on Sunnyside Avenue from East Blithedale to Miller avenues. Mayor Wornum said a great deal of money will be spent on Miller Avenue widening, East Blithedale Avenue extension widening, and the extension of Sycamore Avenue to the yacht harbor. The budget shows $94,362 for the street department.

Balmer said a study will be made during 1964-65 of contracts of districts being served by the Mill Valley sewer plant. "I feel the present ones are not good for the city," he said. Wornum suggested installation of flow meters to register how many gallons per month are sent from outlying districts such as Alto, Homestead, Almonte and Kay Park.

A 6 and one-half per cent increase is proposed in the budget for salaries for certain positions, Balmer said, but no action will be taken on salaries pending an appeal being made by the Mill Valley City Employees Assn. on a salary survey by the state cooperative personnel service.

The chamber of commerce has asked for $2,500 in the budget, a $500 increase. The junior chamber of commerce asked for $400, of which $300 would be spent for the Dipsea Race and $100 to complete a gravity car to be displayed at the fall arts festival in Old Mill Park and perhaps later, placed on permanent display in Lytton Square parking lot.

The council decided it will go into closed session, but set no time, to discuss the city manager's salary, now $12,500. (State law forbids closed sessions to discuss salaries.)

"We hope to come up with some modernization in the finance department such as machine accounting or centralized purchasing," said Balmer. He said Finance Director Thomas T. Behnke's title is being vacated temporarily to become chief accountant with added duties of the treasurer.

More money is being asked for the city attorney because of several court cases, Balmer said. "I believe with better administration we can keep things from going to court," he said.

Improvements in city hall, including moving the planning office downstairs, are estimated at $2,000. The civil defense budget is proposed at $95.

Some councilmen indicated they would like to keep the one-cent tax for drainage control. Balmer said he asked for none this year because he needed every tax cent he could get to pay for major improvements.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said he did not think the proposed $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation tax rate is "sacred."

Bonds for the new library were discussed but no decision made as to whether they would start being paid for in 1964-65 or the following year. Balmer said the first payment might come from the building site fund of $47,000, already in hand.

Capital improvements, totaling $868,545, include a final payment of $20,000 for the proposed second firehouse at Alto, a community center sewer line, Miller Avenue widening and planting, Old Mill Park improvements, rebuilding golf course greens, Sycamore Avenue extension, two new trucks and one police car, small craft marina work, street bulkheads, Manor Drive and Cascade Avenue sewer lines, and a Willow Avenue foot bridge.

The city manager urged an extra $100 in the city council fund so the council might take part in the National Municipal League Conference Nov. 18-21, at which there will be sessions with local agency formation commissions in California.

Park Madera Building Plan Gains

The Corte Madera Planning Commission last night approved a design review submitted by Robert A. J. Clark for a building across from the market in the Park Madera Shopping Center.

The building would include a coffee shop and small stores. The commission asked for a cash bond to assure landscaping.

The commission set a public hearing at the next meeting, July 13, on Ralph Giovanniello's appeal regarding a small residential lot. The board of adjustment ruled that the lot was too small for use as a home site.

Commissioners continued a public hearing on a proposed slope policy that would set size minimums for hillside lots and call for preservation of trees. The board also put off discussion of the design review section of the zoning ordinance and sign regulations until the next meeting.

Norman Eaton was elected chairman of the commission, to take office next month. He will replace Cecil W. Thomas. William Sheehan was elected vice-chairman, replacing Jennings Smith. Eaton and Smith were reappointed to the board of adjustment.

All commissioners except Thomas were present.

Supervisors Hold Back Fire Contract

Approval of a contract between the county and the federal government for fire protection in Muir Woods National Monument and Point Reyes National Seashore was held up for a week by the Marin County Board of Supervisors today at request of fire chief Louis J. Bloom.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said he would not be too happy with a contract which would provide merely for payment to the county of an amount to reimburse the actual fighting of individual fires.

He said he wanted instead an arrangement similar to that with the state, where a lump sum is paid for the year, regardless of the specific service.

County administrator Alan Bruce pointed out that the present arrangement would require no increase in equipment or staff, but Behr said the need for an improvement in service would come eventually.

Lord Beaverbrook, British Newspaper Giant, Succumbs

LORD BEAVERBROOK
Death At 85

LONDON (UPI)—British newspaper publisher Lord Beaverbrook died today. He was 85.

The Canadian-born publisher and statesman died at his English country home 15 days after his birthday.

Neither the cause nor the time of his death were immediately known at the Daily Express newspaper which made the announcement.

Beaverbrook, born in Canada, as Max Aitken, died at Cherkley, his home near Leatherhead in Surrey.

Just a few days before the 85th birthday party given by Lord Thomson of Fleet in his honor, Beaverbrook quipped that the Daily Express could have boosted its profits by nearly six million dollars a year "if it could get rid of me."

"I am constantly keeping the receipts down and the expenses up," he said cheerfully at the time.

But this was a view not shared by the colleagues of the last and most colorful of the "Press Lords" who dominated British journalism in the first half of this century.

From his wheel chair he kept four secretaries busy and maintained contact with his editors at the Daily Express, the Sunday Express and the Evening Standard, his three main newspapers.

Beaverbrook once credited "a tremendous capacity for work" with enabling him to hold seven government posts, write 12 books and make more than 10,000 speeches, in addition to achieving his brilliant business career.

He visited Britian in 1910 when he was 31, became interested in British politics and got himself elected as a Conservative member of Parliament.

Sometime later in the House of Commons, he met Winston Churchill and formed a lifelong friendship which had its effect on British history—particularly his unstinting efforts to produce the planes which helped win the Battle of Britian in World War II.

School District's Bond Issue Bought

SAN FRANCISCO —Crocker-Citizens National Bank and J. Barth and Co. have bid successfully for a Castro Valley School district bond issue of $615,000.

The bonds were purchased at a net interest cost to the district of 3.4163 per cent and were reoffered to investors with 3 to 5 per cent coupons to yield 2.55 per cent in 1966 out to 3.45 per cent in 1984.

Meeting Postponed

The Mill Valley Citizen Committee for Good Government postponed its meeting last night. Another date will be set, said co-chairman Robert R. Laughead today.

Tear Gas Used As Negroes Defy Officers

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (UPI) — Police poured tear gas into a Negro church today after civil rights demonstrators began smashing out windows and hurling rocks, bottles and furniture at officers.

At least 10 Negroes and one white policeman were hurt, none seriously.

Negroes poured out of the First African Baptist Church choking on the acrid gas and rushed into the downtown area 11 blocks from the church.

Police tried to contain them without success. Then officers began a methodical search of alleys and side streets rounding up the demonstrators.

An estimated 500 Negroes were packed in the church prior to staging a downtown demonstration. Protest marches have been held daily in this eastern Alabama university town, 50 miles southwest of Birmingham, but marchers have dispersed upon police orders in previous demonstrations.

Shotgun Is Missing From Belvedere Home

A shotgun, described "almost as a collector's item" and valued at $300, has been reported missing from the home of Grant Leibert of 5 Edgewater Road, Belvedere, according to the police.

The double-barreled Parker shotgun disappeared in the past three weeks from the house, which had been left unlocked, Leibert said.

OFF FOR FRANCE

Turkish Boy Inspires Marinites To Travel

By ALAN CUNNINGHAM

DANIEL R. DeKAY
On account of Ahmet

A Turkish boy's visit to America has inspired a Los Ranchitos teen-ager to go on a trip to France, with a first good look at his own country thrown in for good measure.

It sounds complicated, but it is an accurate description of the journey which began yesterday for 16-year-old Daniel R. DeKay of 14 Oakview Drive.

Dan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay, will leave New York June 30 for a two-month trip to France, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living.

In the meantime, he plans to take two weeks to see such cities as Chicago, New York and Washington, D.C., where he will call on Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.). He will celebrate his 17th birthday Friday in Chicago.

His longest stay will be in New York, where he will visit relatives and, of course, see the World's Fair. On June 26, he is to report at Putney, Vt., where Experiment officials will brief him and some 2,000 other young Americans on their forthcoming travels to 35 countries.

For the first month, if his trip follows the Experiment's usual pattern, Daniel will live in the home of a French family. But his parents say they do not yet have any idea to what part of France he will be sent.

After that, he probably will travel around France, accompanied by nine or 10 other Americans and, perhaps, young members of his host family.

Daniel's efforts to make the trip began last fall when he was one of several Terra Linda High School students who applied for a part in the Experiment.

But his mother feels the idea really had its origins a year before that when a Turkish teen-ager named Ahmet Esirtgen came into the DeKay home under another program, sponsored by the American Field Service.

Esirtgen spent the 1962-63 school year at Terra Linda, and he and Danield became good friends. They have kept in touch since then, and Ahmet, who lives in Istanbul, has promised to try to get to France to see Daniel sometime this summer.

Daniel's previous travels took him across the borders to Canada and Mexico, but no farther east than Nevada, his mother said, so his train ride to Chicago and New York will be nearly as much of an adventure as the European journey to follow.

Real Estate Tax Foe Makes Appeal

Daniel F. Deedy, secretary of the Marin County Real Estate Board, appeared before the county board of supervisors today to argue against a 3 per cent sales tax on real estate proposed by Supervisor Peter H. Behr.

Hit hardest by such a tax, said Deedy, would be the young man with a family buying a home. It would be one more burden, he contended, for the purchaser in addition to taxes, insurance and closing costs.

Supervisor Behr said the main intent of the proposed tax was to cut the property tax. He said there would have to be penalties applied to local taxing jurisdictions which raised their budgets after the tax was imposed.

Deedy said similar taxing plans have been killed in the state legislature. Behr retorted that the previous plans had simply been new ways to gain tax money, not ways of cutting property taxes.

Under Behr's proposal, the sales tax money would be divided among local taxing jurisdictions based on their average receipt percentage of locally collected property taxes for the previous five years.

Behr said the state legislature would have to approve the plan, and counties should have local option on whether to use the tax.

Deedy pointed out that most real estate sales in the county are made to customers already living in Marin. Behr contended that in terms of value, the major amount of money in real estate sales probably comes from outside the county for sales of large tracts of raw land.

Even so, said Deedy, the sales tax paid by the developer for the land would eventually become part of the cost of the home sold to a struggling Marin family.

Chairman William A. Gnoss said he would like to see persons over 65 years of age excused from paying school taxes.

The only way to cut the tax cost overall, commented Supervisor William D. Fusselman, is to cut spending.

Board Orders Vet Memorial Plans Started

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today approved a letter ordering the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation to start work on plans for a 1.7-million-dollar memorial building for the fairgrounds.

W. P. Duhamel, speaking for the veterans' committee promoting the project, said some disagreements still must be ironed out with the architect. He said he felt the problems could be solved before preliminary plans would be presented in September.

Duhamel said the architect is planning a 38,000-square foot exhibition hall, without a stage which could be used by the performing arts. He said the original intent was to have the building, although it had a flat floor, usable for performing arts.

Financing for the hall, approved previously, calls for joining of county-collected veterans' memorial tax funds and state pari-mutuel racetrack funds, with the building to be located on the fairgrounds.

Information On Wolfe Grade Proposal Sought

Directors of the Kentfield Civic League, at an informal meeting last night, asked league president Allen G. Wright to get more information from the Marin County Public Works Department on the proposed extension of Wolfe Grade.

Wright said directors do not want to take a stand on the proposal until they know more about it.

The group also discussed the 12-story retirement home approved last week by the Larkspur City Council on the hillside next to Marin General Hospital. Wright said directors agreed this was a Larkspur problem, but residents of Kentfield will be looking at the tall building.

Directors feared Larkspur's action might "open the flood gates" for similar developments, Wright said.

Crafts Program Change Supported

The Novato Unified School District board last night decided to support changes in the crafts program proposed by Principal Robert Wisgerhof for Novato High School.

This came after a complaint was registered by Mrs. D. W. Maitland og 63 Nova Lane, Novato. She wanted the crafts course continued through all four grades of high school.

Wisgerhof said his plan was to teach crafts to freshmen and then have students go into other courses such as painting, sculpture, etc.

At student request, a second year of crafts will be offered during the next school year, however, he reported.

Prison Gates To Open For Mill Valley Youth

Nevada State Prison gates will open in August, to free a 20-year-old Mill Valley youth who by then will have served 30 months for his role in the murder of a Reno grocer in 1961.

Jeffery Kelsey Connell of Mill Valley and companions Chester Blub, 20, and Frederick Worrell, 19, both of Reno, have been reaffirmed for parole by the Nevada State Parole Board, despite objections of Washoe County Dist. Atty. William Raggio.

Parole board members yesterday turned down Raggio's request that they reconsider their earlier decision to parole the youths.

The three youths applied for parole last November, but were turned down. Then the board cut short the usual 12-month waiting period and allowed the young men to be heard again last month — and granted parole.

Raggio said it was beyond his comprehension how they could be considered ready for release into society after serving such a small portion of their 10-years-to-life sentence. Parole board chairman Rev. Joseph Pritchard declared the board is concerned not only "with how much time an inmate has done, but what he has done with his time."

Rev. Pritchard said the board thoroughly investigated the case before unanimously voting for the release.

The three had attempted to rob Reno grocer Clarence L. (Jack) Griffis, 54, in his store on March 3, 1961. Worrell, armed with a .22-caliber revolver, fired two shots when Griffis resisted the stickup. The three youths fled.

The victim's widow, Mrs. Belva Griffis, was held in Reno's jail for four months, charged with the slaying. She was released when cleared by lie detector tests, shortly before the youths were arrested.

Connell had been living with his twice- divorced mother, Mrs. Betty Buckles, in Mill Valley. When arrested, he described how he had gone to Reno to see his father, but ran out of money. He encountered the other boys, whom he knew previously, and they decided on the stickup.

The term "bridegroom" comes from Anglo-Saxon England. It was the custom for the husband to wait on his bride at the wedding feast and he was called the groom, or servitor.

Hospital Group Picks Architect For New Building

Trustees of San Rafael General Hospital Foundation last night named Sausalito architect William Stephen Allen to design the proposed four-million-dollar hospital to be built in north San Rafael.

The new building will replace the present hospital on Mission Avenue that was built in 1892 and expanded in 1928.

Allen, with offices in San Francisco, was associated with the S. Robert Anshen, who died in the office May 24 after a mysterious fire in his Marin home the night before.

Allen was one of 26 architects who applied for the job and among nine interviewed.

The firm of Anshen and Allen designed the Good Samaritan Hospital in San Jose three years ago. The firm has won about 30 awards of merit and excellence in the past 13 years.

A TRIBUTE— TO OUR SCHOOL TEACHERS!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our schoolbooks, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-TA meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements!

Icepick Death Trial Starts —Robbery Count Plea Denied

Trial of Robert Lee Jones, 25, and John Lee King, 28, jointly charged in the March 27 brutal slaying of Donald G. Corbett Jr. of Sausalito, began today in Marin Superior Court with selection of a jury.

No jurors from the panel of more than 150 had been chosen by noon, however. Sixty-eight panelists were present when extra sessions court convened before Judge Joseph G. Wilson at 10:45 a.m. The remainder are scheduled to appear tomorrow.

Just prior to today's session, Judge Wilson in a private conference with defense attorneys denied a motion for severance of a joint robbery count from the murder count.

Jones and King, held without bond in Marin County jail since their Hawaii arrest, appeared in court today neatly attired in dark businessmen's suits and ties. Alone at the defense table while their attorneys — Peter Allen Smith, public defender for King, and Thomas P. Boyd for Jones — conferred in the judge's chamber, the pair chatted in relaxed and amicable manner for over half an hour.

Following the conference, defense attorneys said they have a joint peremptory challenge total—the right to reject potential jurors—of 20, and an additional five each, or a total of 30.

The body of Corbett, 30, was found in his apartment in an icepick and bludgeoning slaying. Trail of his credit cards led around the country and to Hawaii.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

Two men were fined $166 each in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving.

They are Everette Vernon Clarke, 42, of Petaluma, and Robert George Laidley, 32, of 34 Meadow Way, Fairfax. Clarke was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 on June 4. Laidley was arrested by the patrol on Golden Gate Bridge on May 9.

Tomales Faculty Depleted By Fourth

Members of the Tomales High School District board, their own numbers depleted to three, learned last night that a fourth of the teaching staff has resigned.

With a faculty of 12, it takes only three teachers to make one-fourth. Resigning are Margaret Fitzgerald, physical education and mathematics; Mary Richardson, English, and Max Pausch, mathematics.

Supt. Anthony Matulich, who is taking a sabbatical leave during the next school year, told the board the teachers will leave to take other posts.

Miss Richardson and Miss Fitzgerald had resigned earlier. Pausch submitted his resignation last night. He will teach next fall at Vallejo Junior College.

Only three trustees were present. John M. Mattos, recovering from pneumonia, was absent. Dr. Frederick Saam, who is moving out of the district, submitted his resignation a month ago.

Matulich told the board that three persons have asked to be considered as a replacement for Saam. They are Robert Giacomini and Richard Velloza Jr., both of Point Reyes Station, and Mrs. F. R. (Jean) Adams of Inverness.

The board scheduled a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Tuesday to interview these three applicants and select one to be recommended for the vacancy.

Trustees last night heard physical education teachers Carl R. Anaclerio and Edmuch Iacopi make a bid for extra pay for time spent at football, basketball and baseball games, and for noon duties at the gymnasium.

Anaclerio was asked to research policy at other schools similar to Tomales where coaching is done during the regular school period and the only extra duties come with coaching at games in the afternoon or evening.

Board president Louis Zanardi and clerk Roy Parks agreed that extra duty at games is part of the contract and should not get extra pay.

Matulich also opposed the extra pay request. But the board agreed to give the matter more study after seeing reports on other high schools.

Anaclerio said the time spent by coaches during noon supervision at the gymnasium should also receive extra pay and the money could come from the special community services tax. He contended coaches are not really getting a duty-free lunch period as required in the education code.

The board approved an agreement with Matulich on his sabbatical leave next school year. He will study at University of California at Berkeley, planning to complete work on a doctorate in school administration.

Knocknaboul Letter Will Be Discussed

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District will meet at 8 p.m. today at the Community Center to further discuss a letter to be sent jointly with the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District to residents of the Knockaboul area.

The letter was approved a month ago, but has been held up for changes by the recreation group, according to community services district secretary Annette Bode. The board is also expected to set a date for a budget hearing.

San Anselmo Artist Works Exhibited

An exhibition of drawings, watercolors and paintings by Charles Eckart of 51 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, is on display at Yosemite Park and Curry Co. at 55 Grant Avenue, San Francisco, through July.

Most of the works deal with Yosemite Park, where Eckart was reared. A few, however, portray San Francisco architecture.

Builder Booked For Bad Checks

Morland Leslie Turk, 37, of 126 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, was arrested by San Anselmo police at his home yesterday on a warrant charging him with writing two worthless checks totaling $100.64.

Turk, who said he was a self-employed contractor, was booked in county jail at 7:20 p.m. and released later on $1,650 bail to appear at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow in Marin Municipal Court.

Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani said Turk was charged with giving the checks in payment to two painters he had employed.

Trustees Agree Curriculum Report Needs Special Study

Trustees of Tomales High School District last night agreed that a special session will be needed to discuss a lengthy report on curriculum prepared by a citizen committee and university consultants.

Roy Parks, one of three trustees who met with the faculty on the report, said last night that some of the recommendations may go into effect next fall, while others will take more time. He said it must be decided what will be done first.

Supt. Anthony Matulich said teachers were interested in the recommended modification of the orientation course. This includes such things as driver training, first aid and health education.

The curriculum report suggested these be cut back, freeing more time for other subjects.

Matulich said teachers thought the time gained could be used for remedial reading, study hall or counseling.

The faculty also discussed the recommended cut in extra curricular activities. The report said "heavy pruning" of some of these activities might be helpful.

Trustees agreed to put the report on the agenda of a special meeting set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday. If there is time after other business, the board will discuss the report then.

Tomales High School District also:

1. Approved a preliminary budget of $260,050 for the next fiscal year. Current budget total is $246,809.
2. Learned from architect George Quesada that bids on the first phase of rehabilitation will be asked late next month or early in August. The auditorium and about 15 per cent of the main building will be repaired this summer and the rest of the main building and the shop next summer under a bond a program approved by voters.
3. Voted in favor of an approximate 5 per cent increase in salaries for non-teaching personnel. The action will boost the starting salary for a bus driver from $380 to $400 per month, for a clerk from $300 to $315, and for a cafeteria worker from $250 to $260.
4. Asked that a letter be written State Sen. Joseph A. Rattigan (D-Sonoma) thanking him for his opposition to the recently approved Unruh Bill, and another letter to Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) questioning his support of the bill.

Hospital Seeks Male Volunteers

Male volunteers are being sought by San Rafael General Hospital to serve in emergencies, disasters and in ways of interest to the new men's division of the hospital's volunteers.

"An invitation is cordially extended to any former corpsmen of the armed forces who retain an interest in the phase of work in which they participated while in the service," Arthur G. Burns, hospital administrator, said today.

Organizational meeting of the new group will be held at 7:30 p.m. next Monday in the hospital's dining room. Men wishing to attend the meeting are asked to notify the hospital, which is located at 1120 Nye Street, in advance, Burns said.

Mrs. Terwilliger's Acre Loses An Ugly Beer Can

Friends of Mrs. Elizabeth Terwilliger of Mill Valley gave her three surprises yesterday: an acre of land, a lunch, and an empty beer can.

The acre is not really Mrs. Terwilliger's. It is land which is to be called the "Elizabeth Terwilliger Acre" at the Audubon Canyon Ranch on Bolinas Lagoon. Friends of the naturalist-conservationist are contributing $800 for the land as part of the overall 885 acres of land yet to be paid for in full at the ranch.

The lunch was given by members of two hiking groups which Mrs. Terwilliger heads.

The beer can, fancily wrapped, was found in the middle of the acre and was described by J. Blount Mull, hiker, bird watcher and master of ceremonies, as "the first income from the acre." (Mrs. Terwilliger is known for insisting that beauty spots be kept clean and for leaving a camp area clean, or more clean, than it was on arrival.)

Mull, formerly of Colorado, said he and his wife settled in Marin after discovering its beautiful woods and sea areas and its number of nature and conservation groups.

"And then we came onto the strangest name, Elizabeth Terwilliger," said Mull. "After a while, I decided it was like a bird song, one of the most mellifluous combination of words I have ever heard."

Three years ago, the Mulls joined the Monday Hikers and, said Mull, "We haven't missed any hikes unless we were out of town or sick in bed."

Dr. Paul T. Wilson read from a bound inscription, given to Mrs. Terwilliger from the two hiking clubs, and described Mrs. Terwilliger as one who has "devoted so much time and effort to expansion and preservation of our natural resources." About 70 persons attended, slides were shown and Mull said the next such event would probably have to be held in San Francisco's Cow Palace.

DRAMA REVIEW

'Under The Gaslight' Is A Very Good Time

By KARL BARRON

Sausalito Little Theater's revival of Augustin Daly's melodrama "Under the Gaslight" is described on the program as "fun without vulgarity." It is just that.

The melodic strains of the nickelodeon, the virtuous heroine, the sinister villain, the peanuts and the olios take you back to the Gay Nineties and the simple life. A time when there was a good guy, a bad guy, you could tell the difference, and virtue always won out.

This magic was prestidigitated last weekend at SLT's Bridgeway playhouse, and will continue on Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 throughout the summer. An alternating cast allows the actors some free weekends.

Penny Vieregge's direction leaves no room for error. She has touched her players with a whimsical quality, achieved by having them play it with seeming sincerity — the dialogue itself sounds ridiculous enough today. Yet, "Under the Gaslight" in its day stood along with Boucicault's "Streets of New York" as a virtuoso piece of theater.

Hats off to Joan McKinney for her very funny, and very believable Old Judas, the villain's helpmeet, and to Martha Wax, who made the heroine a sweet and fragile young woman.

Neill Whitman's Snorky, the returned Civil War veteran, was a gem of characterization and makeup. The rest of the excellent cast we saw included Richard Reutlinger, Joanne Leahy, Miles Merians, Irene Pritzker, Jerry Sprague, Mark Hatfield, Stephanie Zucker, and Bonnie Trite.

Leonard Jared supplied the music on the tinny piano, and co-directed with Jetaun Fisher, the olios. The two entre-acts we caught introduced by Chuck Royster, were both show-stoppers. The Dunn Boys, Paul and Dick, sing up a storm of traditional whisky-drinking songs to guitar accompaniment, and Barbara Meilson, who also plays guitar, uses it to set a lyrical background for her delightful French songs.

Sets designed by Gerry Frye are a joy to see. The river scene complete with moving water and the villain rowing his boat ashore is hilarious and especially clever.

At one point it became a contest to see who worked harder — cast or audience. Both loved it, and by summer's end, "Under the Gaslight" should have produced a town full of accurate peanut throwers, and fast dodging actors.

NUMBER ONE AGRICULTURAL INDUSTRY—At the Smith Brothers Ranch, only five miles from downtown San Rafael, dairy worker Arlindo Bautisca milks more than 500 cows every afternoon using automatic milking equipment. Marin's dairy industry is 12th largest in the state and produces milk products valued at 10 million dollars a year from about 160 ranches spread over more than half of Marin's land area.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Marin A Bedroom Community? Well, Just Count The Cows And Sheep

Marin County, spread over about a third of a million acres, is frequently referred to as a "bedroom county."

But it could also be described as a "kitchen county"—for its 175,600 residents, in spite of continually increasing tract and subdivision developments, are concentrated in areas totaling something like a mere 50,000 acres.

All the rest, consisting of pasture and range land, forest and wood land, crop land and water areas, has more milk cows than people — about 27,000 of them. To this you can add another 13,000 dairy calves and heifers, maybe 4,000 beef cattle and calves, more than 20,000 sheep and lambs, and a comfortable supply of chickens and pigs.

According to Richard T. Straw, Marin County agricultural commissioner, this livestock industry constitutes over 90 per cent of the gross agricultural value of the county, of which 75 per cent is derived from milk products, it is his contention that the dairy industry will always be number one in our agricultural program. And that it will be a long, long time before some 283,000 acres of wide open spaces are entirely overrun by humans.

For the county's 160 dairy ranches, dairying is a 10-million dollar industry, making us the 12th largest milk producing county in the state. And California has some distinction itself in the national statistics, ranking fourth in milk production and fifth in number of milk cows on farms.

So when you're told this month that June is National Dairy Month, be reminded that it has particular significance for Marin.

MARIN REAL ESTATE sales continued upward in May, according to figures from the Multiple Listing Service which showed $6,279,684 for the month. This was about 7 per cent higher than May sales of last year, though there were slightly fewer sales in number.

J. MURRAY FOX of Tiburon has joined the Matson Navigation Co. freight division as special projects analyst. He was formerly Pacific Coast general sales manager for Sea-Land Service, Inc., and before that served with American President Lines and United States Lines.

REMODELING is just about wound up at Maggie Grant's ticket agency and book store in the Greyhound bus depot, Mill Valley. It's resplendent with new painting, retiled floor and new lighting fixtures. Mrs. Grant has reduced her supply of mass-circulated magazines and has expanded her department of paperback books.

MOTORCRAFT. James Douglas Cox, automotive specialist, and Joan J. Ryan, sales consultant — at Ames Ford Sales, San Rafael have been graduated from a retail selling course conducted by the San Francisco Ford Marketing Institute . . . Congratulations to Bianco Motors, Inc., San Rafael on the layout of its new used car lot at Fourth and E Streets. We'd been told Bianco had something special in mind in car lots, and must admit it was done in excellent taste . . . Customers of Lou Hernandez, wheel alignment and brake specialist won't find him on Lindaro Street anymore. His new shop is at 428 Woodland Avenue—right where it meets Bayview and B Streets.

SAM ROCKLIN of San Anselmo, who represents the liquor division of McKesson and Robbins in Marin County, tells this story about a new product given him to sell at bars, restaurants and stores—Newport vodka. The fact that it didn't have a Russian or foreign-sounding name concerned him at first—until at one place he happened to place a bottle on the back bar, with the label facing the mirror. The proprietor glanced at it hurriedly, caught the reversed letters in the reflection — and that did the trick. He ordered five cases.

Vigorous Late Rally Lifts Market Higher

Stocks met renewed buying power just above the 800-level in the Dow Jones industrial average and traders picked up stock which had been battered down in recent sessions.

The session started with a slight decline, steadied and turned mixed. Airlines began to rally at mid-session, and were followed gradually by other groups.

Trading was heavy in the final hour.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.2 million shares compared with 0.01 million yesterday.

Gains and losses of most key stocks ranged from fractions to about a point.

Airlines rallied from recent sharp losses. Northwest Airlines gained nearly 3; Western, TWA and Pan American more than a point each.

Gains of 2 or better were scored by Xerox, IBM, Polaroid and U. S. Smelting.

Texas Gulf Sulphur was the most active stock and in late dealings had recovered about 2 points of yesterday's 6⅜-point loss.

Down a point or more were such stocks as Consolidated Cigar, McLouth Steel, National Lead and Norfolk and Western.

Up about a point were Cerro, Central Data and Reynolds Tobacco.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Contracts Mean More Hiring

BURBANK (AP) — New and expanding programs will require hiring of several hundred workers in the next three months, say spokesmen for Lockheed Aircraft Co.

The new workers will include 400 to 500 engineers and scientists for the firm's supersonic transport program, spokesmen said.

Lockheed and Boeing Corp. of Seattle were the two airframe manufacturers awarded six-million-dollar government contracts for drawing board and wind tunnel work on the new super transport.

A spokesman for the International Association of Machinitst said the Lockheed plant is hiring about 300 structural assemblers and 100 office and miscellaneous workers.

Work Started On Huge Kiln

MILWAUKEE — Work has started on the longest cement kiln in the Western Hemisphere, a 622 foot tubular oven 18 feet in diameter, Allis-Chalmers has reported.

If it were to stand vertically, the steel shelled kiln would be 67 feet taller than the Washington National Monument.

Merton M. York, general manager of the Allis-Chalmers Process Equipment and Systems Division, said the kiln is being built at West Allis, Wis., for the Universal Atlas Cement Division, United States Steel Corp.

Tiburon Selects Attorney For City

The Tiburon City Council-elect held its second public meeting in the Del Mar School library last night, assisted by Peter Allen Smith, San Rafael attorney, whose services it has unofficially obtained as city attorney.

The councilmen selected Smith, president of the Marin County Bar Assn., on Sunday when they held two informal meetings to find a city attorney, the council's temporary chairman, Gordon W. Strawbridge, told the audience of 12.

Leland H. Jordan, also a San Rafael attorney, had agreed to act as temporary attorney, but only if a more permanent arrangement could not be made at once, according to Councilman Anne Ellinwood.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs was empowered to speak on behalf of the city-to-be on Tiburon planning matters scheduled this afternoon before the Marin County Board of Supervisors. Councilmen agreed they want a planning commission selected and ready to go when Tiburon becomes a city.

Hannahs said, "Even at bottom efficiency, it would be better than the county has been hitting lately." John S. Hoffmire and Hannahs are the subcommittee on planning.

A "freeze" on building activities has been favored by Miss Ellinwood and a "modified freeze" by Hannahs.

The council is considering appointing a temporary manager-advisor by June 23, with a permanent city manager to be named later. Councilmen Leo Souza and Miss Ellinwood comprise a subcommittee to seek a city manager.

The city clerk will most likely have to be a separate appointment, according to Smith, since the clerk must be a resident of the city.

Annexation rumblings have been heard from Belvedere, according to Strawbridge, who said he had heard from somebody, "This was going to be pushed through."

Smith advised the new council that a delay in the declaration of Tiburon as a new city would not affect the boundary dispute adversely.

In regard to "lawlessness," Miss Ellinwood pointed out that Tiburon is not leaving the county, it will still have the county services of welfare and health, for example.

Strawbridge said, Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol "phoned and said not to worry, they will continue patrolling and giving out tickets on Main Street."

Loma Verde Assn. Seeks Members On Novato Board

The Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. last night recommended two of its members to serve on the Novato Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission.

They are Warren M. Tracy of 425 Alameda Del Prado and Calvin P. Horn Jr. of 224 Calle De La Selva. The Novato city council had asked for names from that area as candidates for the commission.

The homeowners also voted to ask Paul Trousdale, Loma Verde developer, for a parcel of land for a Little League park and recreational facility. There are now 400 boys in Little League in Loma Verde and the present park will be taken with the expansion of the school.

The association also voted to write Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. asking for extended service to San Rafael.

Reed School Board Will Review Budget

Reed School District trustees will review the 1964-65 tentative budget tonight at 8 o'clock in the Del Mar School lecture-music hall.

Robert Gaw, principal of Del Mar, will report on next year's program for the seventh and eighth grades, and the board will tour the school, which is almost completed.

DOLORES GROSSI
West Marin's Queen

Livestock Show Queen Announced

Her sponsoring club, the Tomales Future Farmers, sold the most show tickets in her behalf in a contest with four other queen contestants. The contest ended last night.

Miss Grossi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grossi, plans to attend Sonoma State College next fall to begin her studies for a career in nursing.

She is a member of the Tomales High Student Council, Girls' League and Girls' Athletic Assn.

She and the four runner-ups, who will serve as princesses, will lead the West Marin Junior Livestock Show Parade down the center of Point Reyes Station June 28.

Other contestants and their sponsoring clubs are Susan Clapp, Point Reyes-Olema 4-H Club; Linda Dolcini, Nicasio 4-H Club; Kristine Eckenroad, Tomales 4-H Club, and Theresa Nielsen, San Geronimo Valley 4-H Club.

Even thieves prefer the reassuring clank of hard money. When a bank was robbed in White Sulphur Springs, Mont., the bandit lugged away 20,000 silver dollars. He made his getaway in a truck.

West Marin School Budget Will Go Up

Trustees of the West Marin School District last night approved a preliminary budget for next fiscal year of $162,000, well above the current total of $134,000.

The increase is due mainly to the addition of another teacher and a fulltime custodian.

The board adopted the budget as recommended by Supt. Howard F. Brose except for one $2,300 item which was deleted. This was for his recommended conversion of the breezeway at West Marin School into a library.

The board deleted the item after some discussion and objection which centered mainly on the temporary nature of the project.

Margaret Harris of Bolinas was employed to teach Spanish and remedial courses in the upper grades, at $5,825 per year. She recently returned from a job in Chile, where she taught English to Spanish-speaking students.

Mrs. Lois F. Mini, sixth grade teacher at West Marin, resigned to go to Colombia for two years of teaching in an elementary school there.

The board also accepted the resignation of bus driver Richard Sloan, who is returning to college to study for a teaching credential.

Trustees promised to see what could be done to continue the music program at West Marin School. Two weeks ago the board agreed the program would have to be discontinued. This was after the part-time teacher resigned and negotiations with other participating school districts broke down.

Two parents appeared last night to protest the discontinuance.

The board agreed to install a new fire alarm system at Inverness School, replacing one that has given trouble for some time.

Concert Tribute Set For Tiburon

First of a summer series of weekly concerts by television and recording artist Korla Pandit of Kentfield will include a tribute to the newly incorporated city of Tiburon and its city council.

The piano and organ concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Tiburon Playhouse.

Pandit, who moved to Marin County from Los Angeles five years ago, said he hoped to make the weekly concerts a permanent fixture.

Formation Unit To Be Topic For Mayors' Meeting

Richard Carpenter, executive director and general counsel for the League of California Cities, will speak on "Local Agency Information—The Commission and the Law" at a meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen June 24 at Sabella's Restaurant, Mill Valley.

This announcement was made last night by City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer at a meeting of the Mill Valley City Council on the 1964-65 budget.

"Will we invite the (Marin County Local Agency Formation) commission?" asked Councilman Albert E. White.

"I think that would be a good idea," said Balmer.

The commission last month turned down the City of Mill Valley's request to annex 255 acres of marshland between Camino Alto and Highway 101.

Burned Prisoner Off Critical List

San Quentin Prison inmate Cornelius N. Smith, 32, who doused his clothing with paint thinner and set himself afire Friday, was no longer on the critical list at the prison hospital today, according to Dale B. Frady, associate warden.

Smith, who suffered third degree burns on the shoulders, arms, head, face and neck, was in satisfactory condition today and "doing well," Frady said.

Felon Held For Robbery After Escape

The Indejendent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that Martin was returned to Soledad.

Martin was arrested by San Rafael police Sunday after he allegedly attempted to rob the Regal gasoline service station at Fifth and Lincoln Avenues with a toy pistol.

He was captured in a used car lot at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue minutes after the attempt, police reported.

Pigeons Average 47 MPH In Race

North Road Racing Pigeon Club members' birds averaged more than 47 miles per hour in last weekend's 300-mile race from Klamath Falls, Ore., despite a one-day delay in start due to bad weather.

First and second places in the first race went to birds owned by Dr. Robert Burke, 5 Indian Road, San Rafael. The second race was won by a bird belonging to Leo Enright, 7 Grove Avenue, Corte Madera.

Country Club Estates Group Objects To Subdivision Plan

Approximately 45 residents of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates last night protested the proposed tentative map for Marin Golf and Country Club Heights before the Novato Planning Commission.

The commission continued the item until its June 22 meeting. Commissioners agreed to take a trip over the area with representatives of the Marin Golf and Country Club Estates Homeowners Assn. at 5 p.m. today.

Residents objected to added traffic which would be generated by the proposed subdivision of 44 acres with a street connecting Capilano Drive and Eagle Drive. They also objected to the size of the lots, which would range from 10,000 square feet up to a half acre. Andrew B. Talbot submitted the tentative map of the subdivision.

Objections were also made by West Novato residents to the proposed master plan for planned single family development on 21 acres in Pleasant Valley. The item was continued until July 13.

A three-lot subdivision on Ridge Road 200 feet from Farvue Road, approved for R. E. Sarraille, Robert and Virginia Russell were granted rezoning from single family to multiple family for a lot at 1032 Fourth Street.

More Engineering For Bridge Before Novato Council

The Novato City Council will consider authorizing supplemental engineering for the Grant Avenue Bridge over Novato Creek when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Community House.

The council has authorized Carlos E. Gonzalez to do the engineering on the bridge at a fee of $2,000. He has asked $500 additional for alteration in the design to meet changes asked by the State Division of Highways, according to Lawrence A. Coleman, Novato director of public works.

Other items on the agenda include payment of overtime for work in excess of eight hours per day, and continuing the hearing on the Novato Cemetery.

Reed Schools Have Humanities Guide

The Reed School District today anounced the publication of its latest curriculum publication guide for grades seven and eight.

This guide, fourth in a series will be used by Del Mar Intermediate School humanities team teachers in preparing their lesson units, project coordinator Joyce Wilson said. The guide supple ments the state and county courses of study.

Dark Praises Pitchers; Marichal On Mound Tonight

Pitching, says Manager Alvin Dark, is the major factor in his San Francisco Giants' lead in the National League and he sends the No. 1 man of his staff against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight, 8:15, at Candlestock Park.

Right-hander Juan Marichal, with an 8-1 record and 2.32 earned-run average, opposes young Cardinal southjaw Ray Sadecki who is 5-4 and 4.18.

A slugging club the past few seasons, the Giants don't go as strong for the big bomb this campaign as they capture the close ones — 10 triumphs by one run.

"We gave up close to 30 home runs to get better defense and pitching," Dark declared yesterday before the Giants-Cardinals game was rained out. "We're going with what we've got.

A look at the list shows what Dark means. Even though Billy O'Dell's back trouble has sent his earned run average soaring to 7.31 so far, the staff has an average of 2.92.

Veteran reliever Billy Pierce leads with 1.50 appearing in 17 2-3 innings. Ken MacKenzie has been 1.70 for the 5⅓ he's worked since being recalled from Tacoma.

All the others have pitched 35 or more innings. Gaylord Perry has a 2.25 ERA, Bob Shaw 2.30, Ron Herbel 2.80, Bob Bolin 3.20, Jack Sanford 3.30 and Bob Hendley 3.34.

The Giants traded the home run potential when they gave up Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey in the trade with the Braves that brought Shaw and Hendley.

Compensating for the power, Shaw has been the relief mainstay with a 5-3 record. Hendley has been a starter and has a 4-4 mark.

"Perry has pitched good all year," says Dark of the 6-foot 4 right-hander who received an $80,000 bonus for signing in 1958 but hasn't previously lived up to his potential. Brother Jim, who didn't get the big bonus, meanwhile has been a longtime American League stalwart.

Herbel also received a bonus in 1958 and has labored in the minors since then.

"He's getting a chance to pitch and he's pitching well," explained Dark. Had O'Dell not been hurt, Herbel might not have had the starting chances which have already seen him turn in a pair of shutouts. Herbel and Hendley pitch in tomorrow's double header, making up for the rainout. They'll face Bob Gibson and Glen Hobbie.

Dark continues to look for his club to start hitting, explaining, "I keep thinking we're going to bust out and score eight or nine runs and beat somebody 8-2 or 9-2, but I don't know when it will be. It's a long time since it happened."

The last time the Giants won by more than three runs was when they beat Pittsburgh 8-3 on May 22. Since then they've won three games by one run, four by two and one by three.

Maybe managers don't win many ball games with brain work. There is no doubt they sometimes lose ball games by over-managing. In any event, Alvin Dark is entitled to a bow for the way he maneuvered against Gene Mauch at Philadelphia last weekend.

Dark used a total of 15 pitchers in the three games and every time he made a move it eliminated potent Philly batting power. He disposed of three powerful lefthanded bats in the first game of the series by strategic use of two of his southpaws, Bily Pierce and Ken MacKenzie.

Of course, it took Harvey Kuenn's two-out pinch single in the 11th of that game and a following triple by Chuck Hiller to produce the 5-3 win. But there might not have ever been an 11th except for Dark's maneuvering in the eight and ninth.

Pierce entered in the eighth and Wes Covington made his exit since that lefthanded swinger is no more successful against southpaw pitching than Willie McCovey. In the ninth, after Cap Peterson pinch hit for Pierce, MacKenzie entered the game and both Johnny Hernnstein and Clay Dalrymple bowed out as Mauch sent righthanders to the plate for them.

MACKENZIE HAD to pitch to Hernnstein's pinch hitter, rookie Danny Cater, and struck him out. But he didn't have to pitch to Dalrymple or Dalrymple's pinch hitter, Roy Sievers. As soon as Mauch sent Sievers to bat for Dalrymple, Dark brought Bob Shaw in.

The simplicity and beauty of Dark's moves lay in the fact that none was hurried or frantic. He had anticipated them by ordering bullpen warmups by Pierce and MacKenzie while Gaylord Perry still was on the mound in the seventh and doing a superb job.

"I NEVER saw Alvin manage a better game," said Chub Feeney. "Every move he made was the right one and more importantly every move turned out right. Usually, one of several moves will backfire on you."

It was a rare tribue because vice presidents of ball clubs normally take managerial moves in stride without comment.

As good as Dark's maneuvering was in the series opener against the Phillies, his use of four pitchers in the first inning of the finale was masterful. Bob Hendley, the Giant starter, hit the first Philly to come to bat, walked the next one, and was drilled for a single by the third.

IT LOOKED like the Phillies would break the game wide open in the first inning and Mauch tried to do it. There was one Philly run across and two on when Bob Bolin came to Hendley's relief. Bolin gave Richie Allen nothing good to hit while walking him to load the bags.

Mauch then sent Covington to bat for Cater. Dark brought in MacKenzie and the southpaw popped up Covington. Now, Dark brought in Perry to pitch to Sievers and Gus Triandos. Sievers tagged Perry for a run-producing sacrifice fly. But that was all the Phillies got out of that big potential first inning in the finale because Perry next struck out Triandos.

Thus, Dark kept the game under control and the Giants went on to win it in their third come-from-behind victory.

Ernie Nevers Scores Ace But Misses $17,000 Rolls

An ace at the wrong time? Don't bring up the subject to to Ernie Nevers of Tiburon, the ex-Stanford grid great.

Shooting a practice round yesterday for the Harrah's Club Invitational golf tournament, during a drizzle at the Paradise golf course at Stateline, Nev., Nevers knocked in a hole-in-one on the 212-yard second hole. He was using a 3-iron.

The tourney was scheduled to start yesterday, but rain, hail, snow and sleet stopped the proccedings shortly after it got started. So the golfers used the day for a practice round.

If the tournament had been played yesterday, Never's ace would have been worth a prize of a Rolls Royce worth $17,000.

Tournament officials hope to restart the tourney tomorrow. And as for Nevers, he'll just have to get another ace.

The Yankees will open their spring training exhibition season against Baltimore at Fort Lauderdale on March 14 and end it in Richmond, Va., on April 12.

Corinthian Y. C. Shows Off New Look At Open House

BY ELEANOR FREEMAN

The Corinthian Yacht Club of Tiburon held open house over the weekend commemorating the completion of its remodeling program. Club officers and members were host to hundreds of admiring guests.

Among those in charge of tours were Commodore Edgar Wade and Vice Commodore Charles White of San Francisco; Brooke Halsey, director, Tiburon; Ray Zimmerman, Corte Madera, membership chairman; and Rear Commodore Marin Matosich of San Mateo. Matosich is praised by fellow club members as: "Our financial man-of-know-how who had a lot to do with the success of this affair."

Second oldest club on the Pacific coast Corinthian Yacht Club is held in enviable esteem by many less fortunate geographically situated clubs. Rich in position on a point of land, it dominates the scene with white-pillared dignity. Girded by broad decks, every window frames a gorgeous for-real mural.

Ed Wade reminisced, "Considerable land has been added to that original purchase" and with a distant look in his eye, continued, "That first clubhouse was a rustic, cabin-like building. Membership was something like 50 boaters. Currently it stands at 357."

The present jubilation marks a dream-come-true; nowever, there are still some projected ideas to be completed. The building is strengthened, Halsey explained. The ballroom with its long upper deck, gleaming floors and stage, can now support the weight of 1,380 persons. The building actually contains 28,000 square feet of usable space. To this cubby-holes have been torn out and rededicated to the theme of spaciousness. Tenacles of inter-com are everywhere, producing music and a paging system.

Skippers are alloted feminine-free privacy in quarters of their own. They can shower anytime, day or night; or relax in comfort.

There are break-water protected berths and many spaces for dry-docking; also gear and clothes lockers.

Brooke Halsey is proud of the children's room. TV, magazines and an available snackbar keep the small-fry happy. "Young, interested boaters are the backbone of any yacht club," he affirmed.

"Decor credit goes to Audrey Emmons, partner-associate of Hooper Associates of San Francisco," said Halsey. "Her plans submitted to the board were completely acceptable and she was placed in full charge."

S.F. SEALS TO TRAIN AT THE COW PALACE

The San Francisco Seals will train at the Cow Palace this year and play two National Hockey League teams in exhibitions there.

Seals officials announced yesterday that they had arranged a game with the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs on Oct. 4 and a game with the Boston Bruins for a date to be announced later.

San Francisco also announced that it had sold wing Gerry Brisson to the Seattle Totems of the Western Hockey League and signed two promising rookies from Fort Williams, Ont. They are Lorne (Rocky) Caruso, 21, a defenseman, and Bob Ames, 21, a wing.

MISSES NO HITTER, BUT . . .

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sandy Koufax, the Los Angeles Dodger left-hander who makes a habit of being stingy with base hits, took a swipe at a second straight no hitter last night and for four innings of a 2-1 Dodger victory over Cincinnati, he had staticians scrambling for their record books.

Koufax retired the first 12 Reds he faced but No. 13, Deron Johnson, broke the spell with a home run. With the pressure off, Koufax gave up three more hits en route to his 100th career victory.

Sandy, whose third no-hitter came against Philadelphia last week, scored the tying run in the fifth when he forced Dick Tracewski who had walked, moved up on Maury Wills' single and scored on Willie Davis' hit.

Elsewhere in yesterday's abbreviated major league schedule, Milwaukee whipped Houston 5-3 as Hank Aaron tagged a two-run homer, Cleveland's Leon Wagner took the major league RBI lead with a two-run homer and a run-producing single as the Indians topped Los Angeles 6-3, Jim King smashed three home runs but Washington bowed to Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit outslugged Minnesota 10-5.

The St. Louis at San Francisco National League afternoon game was rained out.

Koufax, bringing his record to 7-4 with his third consecutive victory, also was touched for a ninth-inning single by Johnson and two hits by Steve Boros. Boros beat out a bunt in the fifth and singled in the eighth.

Besides trying for a second straight no-hitter, Koufax also was trying to set a record by striking out 10 or more batters in a single game for the 55th time in his career. The record of 54 is shared by Bob Feller and Rube Waddell. Koufax, however, struck out only five.

Felipe Alou opened the Braves' first with a double. One out later, Aaron connected off Hal Brown, 1-6, and Milwaukee never trailed. Alou collected two doubles and Lee Maye also had two hits while Dave Roberts slammed two doubles and a single for the Colts.

Tony Cloninger, 4-5, got the victory but needed ninth-inning relief help when Houston pushed across two runs.

8 Marin Swimmers Win Honors In Junior Olympics

Six swimmers from the San Rafael Swim Club and two from the Marin Pirates won honors in the finals of the Pacific Assn. Amateur Athletic Union Junior Olympic short course championships held this past weekend in Sacramento.

From the San Rafael club, Dave Poponce placed second in the boys 11-12 50-yard breaststroke (34.8); Robin Bachrach placed second in the 9-10 girls butterfly (34.4); Toponce took a fifth in the 100 breast (1:19.4), and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Mike McLennan, Dave Strauss, Denny Arms and Rick Tegeler took sixth for the 15-17 group.

Marin Pirates finalists were Deirdre Bullis who won fourth place for 11-12 girls 50-yard butterfly (31.8) and Teresa Carlisle who won second place in the 11-12 girls 50 breast (36.1) and third in the 100-yard breast (1:19.4).

Fullback Pat Donnelly of Navy was the top ground gainer in the classic Army-Navy game. He carried 17 times and gained 103 yards. He scored the Middies' three touchdowns in a 21-15 victory.

Young Fairfax Team Expects Big Things In Marin League

By RICK SKINNER

A showcase of local talent will be featured when the Fairfax Garage nine takes the field next Sunday to open the 1964 Marin Semi-Pro Baseball league season.

Dividing the coaching duties with Stan Geruphty for the Fairfax team, Ed DeMaestri "hopes to be up with the top" at the conclusion of league play.

The garage team is sponsored by Ed's father, Babe, and is made up of 17 Marin boys, almost all of them drawing from baseball teaching gleaned from county high schools and the College of Marin.

Babe DeMaestri, a veteran of many years as both a player and coach, says he will field a line-up almost entirely made up of .300 hitters.

Vince Pallavicini, Bob Ostaggi, Laddy Richardson and Gary Johnson will share hurling assignments for Fairfax. Ostaggi, rated "tops" by mentor DeMaestri, will be one of the factors in a Fairfax attempt for the championship, if he can come back from a two-year lay-off. He's a southpaw.

Pallavicini played outfield two years for Lakeland of the Florida League under contract with the Detroit Tigers. This year he participated in spring training in the California League for the New York Mets system, but was cut from the roster. An all-Marin Athletic League left-hander from Drake in 1961, Vince can pitch, hit and play the outfield with equal excellence.

Richardson, who lives in Woodacre, is a 1962 Drake High School graduate. He's a promising youngster with all the ability to make it big.

Johnson, a newcomer to the team, hails from Vallejo High School where he was All-North Bay League as a pitcher in 1961 and 1962.

Starting first baseman Bill Gallagher should bring back some pleasant memories. Bill was an ace basketball player for Drake in 1957 and 1958 and was named to the All-Star team in the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley both years. An alumnus of College of Marin, Bill showed his prowess was not limited to the hardwood when, after winning all-league honors in the North Bay League as an outfielder in 1958, he hit .350 in competition with the San Francisco Giant Rookies semi-pro team. After a stint in the service and four years on the University of San Francisco baseball team, Gallagher returns to the Marin sports scene with an abundance of talent and a lot of spirit.

Ray Little and Dennis Gerughty will split the duties behind the plate. Little attended both Marin Catholic and Drake while Dennis, also out of Drake, went on to play for College of Marin.

Dennis' brother Larry, all-league second baseman for the Pirates this year, is competing with Rich Curry of Fairfax for the keystone spot. Curry is described by DeMaestri as a "pesky ballplayer, always on the bases." He is given a slight nod by DeMaestri right now, but since he bats left and throws right, the right-handed Gerughty will be given a chance against southpaw pitching.

Hamish Tyler will hold down the third base spot. The Woodacre youth is now attending San Francisco State and was an all-league performer last year before his graduation from Drake.

Shortstops Al Bovee and Bill Finn are battling for that spot. Bovee, rated "a good competitor" by his mentor, can be counted on to play a hard game, Finn, a student at College of Marin, also did a little hurling this year for the Tars.

In the outfield, along with Ostaggi and Pallavincini, the Fairfax nine can call on either Keith Chapman or Al Ruoff Jr. to start.

Another DeMaestri, Danny, will give depth and spirit to the Fairfax team. Danny, a student at Drake, can take over short or second base duties and still hit around the .300 mark.

The team sports an average age of just 18, but almost every man on the squad has had at least one year of semi-pro ball under his belt.

This winter, in the San Francisco Recreation League, the Fairfax group finished fourth in a league of eight teams.

SURGERY FOR PODRES; OUT FOR SEASON

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Johnny Podres, a Dodger "clutch" pitcher for 10 seasons, will undergo surgery Thursday for an elbow injury and will miss most, if not all, of the remaining season.

An "ununited piece of bone" aggitated from its position in his left elbow when he was struck by a pitched ball April 25 in Milwaukee has permitted Podres just two brief pitching appearances early this season.

"He will be extremely fortunate if he can pitch again this year," said Dr. Robert Kerlan, who announced his decision last night to operate after weeks of treatment on the 31-year-old southpaw.

Ex-Spitball Pitcher Stricklett Succumbs

Boat Preparedness Can Be Helpful

CHICAGO (AP)—It's a good idea to carry a few basic tools and extra parts if you have an outboard motor boat. Engineers suggest pliers, screwdriver, spark plug wrench, drive pins, cotter pins, extra spark plugs and a spare propeller.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Not all leaders are born

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964.

It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six. 4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together—with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

June So Far Fine For Kite-Flying, Sailboating—But Not For Fishing

STEVENS

According to the poet, June is the month "When, if ever, come perfect days." Wonder if he meant kite-flying or sailboating? Sure didn't mean fishing around here. On Sunday the salmon boats took one look at the Pacific and returned to port. The bait boys after bass in the upper San Pablo stayed away in mobs, and the eager anglers who drove to the Delta region failed dismally.

The above doesn't mean, however, that the fish have left their former haunts. On Saturday the salmon trollers recorded an average of a fish-and-a-half per rod, according to Caruso's place at Sausalito. Bob Davison, head of the bait department did report, though, a fair to good live-bait job with striped bass in the Racoon Straits—nice fish to 18 pounds. Not a terrific run, but an estimated two-fish per boat.

THE NEWS is also good anent plug-casting from shore at Dillon's Point. Suetta Lagrone reported lots of fish being taken by pluggers that range from 7 to 15 pounds, but very few taken on bait. Frank Joseph of Joseph's at Rodeo reported the trollers, when able to get out after them, are making the grade. "Perhaps a bit less frenzied than it was, but still good near the Union Oil Wharf as well as in the deeper water," said Frank.

THE SOUTH BAY, in the general vicinity of Hunter's Point, and in the San Leandro Channel has continued yielding some good to excellent live-bait fishing as well os divided-leader trolling with jigs and pet spoons.

YOU WILL not by consulting your tide book that there was a one-foot-four minus this morning, will be a one-foot-eight tomorrow and again on Thursday; Friday a one-foot-seven and a one-foot-four on Saturday. You want a mess of abalones or clams? Then get out and get after them.

San Anselmo Tops Benicia Semi-Pros

Right-hander Russ Honeyman pitched a four-hitter, striking out fourteen and walking only two Sunday to give the San Anselmo Merchants a 7-0 victory over the Benicia Merchants in a practice semi-pro game at San Anselmo.

Second sacker Larry Kline handled eight chances flawlessly and collected two hits to share some of the spotlight with Honeyman.

Marin Star Now 5-2 In Cal League

Ron Cole of Mill Valley, pitcher for the Modesto Colts of the California League, picked up another victory hurling six innings of one game in the last reported week by Player Periscope of Novato.

The victory boosted his win-loss mark to 5-2 in 49 innings pitched. He has allowed 38 hits, 17 walks and has struck out 42 batters. His earn run average is 3.12.

Ron Blum of Larkspur, shortstop for St. Cloud, Minn., of the Northern League, batted .262 for the week to bring his average up to .222 for the season. He had 11 hits 42 at bats, with one triple and one double.

Gerry Ard of Fairfax, shortstop for the Modesto Colts, batted .269 for the week, (7 for 26) to bring his average to .230 on the year.

KEITH KRIEGER

USC Leads Miss. In NCAA Opener Halted By Rain

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — The NCAA baseball tournament resumes today in the middle of a game which was interrupted by yesterday's rainstorms.

The Trojans were holding a 3-1 lead over Mississippi after 4⅓ innings last night. Officials ruled the game would continue from that point tonight.

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Keith Krieger, a boy who sat out last track season with a broken ankle and this year placed seventh in the California Interscholastic Federation meet's mile run, has been selected Prep-of-the Week by the Independent - Journal sports staff.

Krieger, a senior at Tamalpais High School, is looking toward graduation next Sunday with the fine feeling of knowing he's one of the top milers among the state's prep distance men. He ran a 4:27.0 mile last Saturday for seventh place, but ran a 4:17.5 the day before in a qualifying heat, The state meet was held in massive Los Angeles Coliseum.

"This boy has a great future ahead of him," says his coach at Tam, Bruce Grant. "I am positive he will be a four-minute miler."

It was actually the first track and field season this year in which Krieger participated. His freshman and sophomore years at Tam he competed on the swimming team. Last year a broken right ankle kept him out of action, so he finally got around to competing on the Tam track and field team this year. He had participated three years on the Indians' cross country team, however, and was one of the best in the county.

Keith, who will be 18 on June 26, doesn't confine his talents to the athletic field. A scholar with a 3.0 grade point average at Tam, he has won a grant from the California State Scholarship Commission, a scholarship that will pay the tuition at the college or university of his choice in California.

"It's between USC or UCLA," said Keith. "I still have two weeks to decide."

And as far as track is concerned, those two universities always have strong cinder teams, so the coaching staffs must be keeping their fingers crossed in hopes of landing such a good mile prospect.

And to stay in shape, Krieger plans to do a lot of running during the summer. If he keeps up his rate of improvement as he did during the track and field season, he'll start getting near that four-minute mark.

Keith was born in San Francisco where his family lived before moving to Mill Valley nine years ago. The family home is at 148 Sycamore. Keith's father, Harry, is a shoring carpenter for Stanley Flowers Co. in San Francisco.

He also is interested in golf, but when questioned about his scores, he simply answered with a smile.

His golf scores don't have to be very hot, for his times running the mile make up for any high scores he may encounter on the golf course.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Many parties are being given for Martha Claire (Marty) Tobener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tobener of Corte Madera. Marty will be married to James Brodie Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith of Red Bluff June 20. Marty went with Mr. and Mrs. Smith to attend the graduation of her fiance from Portland University and Mrs. Smith gave a large tea at her home for her future daughter-in-law.

Marty's sister, Mrs. Joel Kiff (Rennee Tobener) will give a luau Friday at her new home in Corte Madera, honoring the bride-elect. A luncheon and shower were given in Marty's honor by Mrs. Michael O'Brien of Mill Valley and Miss Gerry Wicks of Corte Madera, who will be bridesmaids at the wedding. The party was held at the O'Brien home. Mrs. Frank Buscher of Larkspur was hostess at a large party at her home to honor Marty. One of the guests, Mrs. F. Martyn (Chris) Meech, whose husband is the Canadian consul, told of exciting experiences when they lived in Ghana. Mr. and Mrs. Meech, who have been staying in Larkspur, leave July 1 for Ottawa.

Thomas Walsh, Robert Larrison, Aldino Bargieni, Misses Linda Olson, Joyce Ruggeri and Nancy Bargieni. When Anthony and his bride return from their honeymoon trip they will reside in San Anselmo.

LAST WEEKEND was party time in Marin. I enjoyed mine, however, not in Marin but as the guest of Mrs. Milton (Bertha) Tonini, formerly of Ross, at her delightful Princeton Inn in El Granada, San Mateo Co. The inn is right on the Pacific shore and a five million dollar breakwater protects the small craft from the ocean. From the windows of the inn I had a marvelous view of the Pacific and watched the fisherman as they brought in their catches, many nets were filled with crabs. Big parties were given each night at the inn, with an orchestra playing for dancing. Bertha promises she will return to Marin to arrange a garden tour to benefit Ross Branch, Needlework Build, for which she worked so hard for many years.

The Fred Scatenas of Ross entertained at a cocktail party Sunday afternoon and Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jones of Kent Woodlands gave a large cocktail party Saturday night.

MR. AND MRS. HENRY EDDY of Ross gave a brunch Saturday at their home honoring their daughter, Barbara, member of this year's graduating class from Redwood High School. The 24 girls told of plans for the summer. Natalie Lewis, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John G. Lewis of Ross, will go to Europe. Natalie, who has just graduated from Katharine Branson School, will travel through western Europe with her parents, her brother, Ed, who attends Trinity College in Connecticuut and Steve, who has just graduated from Ross School. Eldest son of Captain and Mrs. Lewis, John, who has another year of study at Brown University, Providence, R.I., will not go to Europe now. He will be married in September to Sheila Heydt of New York City.

Another RHS graduate at the party, Michele Bettette of Larkspur, will go to Austria, in the Experiment of International Living. Betsy Crawford, a graduate of Dominican Upper School and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Crawford of Ross, and Barbara Eddy will go into the High Sierra this summer. Other Redwood graduates at the brunch were Candy Cain of Greenbrae and Laurel Macauley of Ross, who will make their debut at the Marin Ball in December, Janet Ostaggi of Ross and Barbara Beard of Belvedere.

THE LESLIE TURNERS of San Rafael are flying to Europe Thursday. Their plane will land in England and they will go on to tour Holland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, Monte Carlo and France. While they are away their son, Dean, who will be a sophomore at San Francisco State College will be at home for the summer vacation.

Egypt, Nile Highlights Of Bakers Two Month Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Baker Jr. have returned to Sausalito after two months of travel.

One of the highlights of their trip, was Egypt and the upper Nile. They particularly enjoyed their cruise on the adriatic to Greece and its islands up to Istanbul and the countryside at Delphi, Crete and Rhodes.

"In Athens we saw Irene and Victor Wollmann, who will probably not return to Sausalito until the end of the year, and in London we were staying with relatives who took us to a performance of the complete 'Swan Lake' at Covent Garden, and sitting right in front of us were the James Smiths from Sausalito."

The Bakers spent several weeks in London and Scotland and also were in Copenhagen.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

I suppose almost every mother worries about thumbsucking at one time or another. But most experts agree that if not overdone, it's perfectly normal, rarely harmful. Things that may cut down excessive thumbsucking:

If a young baby sucks his thumb lustily, it could be that he needs more time at breast or bottle.

There's Threat Of Danger If Pay-TV Ban Is Voted

Should Pay-TV be treated as a "public utility" and subjected to governmental control?

At least one member of the California Public Utilities Commission thinks so.

We cannot agree with him.

The guarantee of these freedoms constitutes recognition of the absolute necessity for freedom of thought and freedom of expression and freedom of communication, if our form of representative self-government is to serve us best.

Some years ago in the dawn of our electronics age there was serious thought given to "piping" your daily newspaper into your home (if you wished to subscribe to and pay for the service).

It would arrive via a telephone line and appear as a facsimile on a machine which would convert the electronic impulses into a visible likeness of a newspaper.

"Instant newspaper" might best describe it in the current idiom.

All the technical problems involved were not overcome, but they unquestionably could be now that technology has advanced so far.

If by some fluke California voted next November to ban Pay-TV, would the ban extend to the electronic distribution of newspapers and therefore violate the spirit of our constitutional guarantees?

If Pay-TV is to be considered a public utility subject to all sorts of governmental regulation, would the same regulatory bodies under the same authority be able to regulate newspapers distributed by identical means?

We think there is a very great danger inherent in banning or unnecessarily controlling a means of communication —which is all that Pay-TV really is.

We hope this danger comes to be more generally recognized before Californians go to the polls in November to vote on the possible elimination of this means of communication.

BOOM OR BUST

California To Test Controversial Pay TV In Homes, At Ballot Boxes

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The biggest pay-TV gamble of all is approaching its scheduled opening date—July 1—amid such sound and fury, political repercussions and a huge dream of a new era in entertainment.

It will not be merely a hit or a miss, but rather a boom or a bust. For the West Coast operation — in Los Angeles and San Francisco—is a multi-million-dollar business aiming for eventual national saturation.

IT ALL DEPENDS on whether the public will buy the programs—with baseball the big come-on — and on whether anti-pay-TV voters have enough strength to ban it in November. If Subscription Television, Inc. (STV), fails, big-scale pay-TV may well be hard to resurrect for a long time.

The San Francisco operation, which is not as far advanced as the Los Angeles setup, may not get under way until mid-August.

STV has its main headquarters in Santa Monica, not far from Los Angeles. Its boss is Sylvester (Pat) Weaver, the creative former president of NBC.

The pay-TV firm hoped to have about 20,000 homes wired (it does not operate over the airways) by July 1, but various complications are expected to cut this opening number to between 7,000 and 8,000.

THE AREA THAT is being wired is an indication that, at least at the start, STV is not really going to depend heavily on cultural attractions to bring in the loot. Though there may be a number of these attractions, down-to-earth programming is the immediate requirement because the area in question is not what might be termed the high-rent district.

The battle of pro- and anti-pay-TV forces has been truly fierce, encompassing advertising, petitions, letters-to-the-editor and name-calling.

Proponents of pay-TV argue that this is a free enterprise venture and has a right to be accepted or rejected by the public as any other business. They claim it will have little effect on the programming of commercial television.

OPPONENTS MAINTAIN that viewers will soon wind up paying for what they now get free because the huge financial potential of pay-TV will lure the biggest stars and shows to the new medium.

These opponents, who include the theater owners who once vociferously opposed commercial television, defend the current system as "free-TV."

The opponents have succeeded in getting enough signatures to put a proposed initiative which would outlaw toll television in California on the November election ballot.

The Screen Actors Guild is for pay-TV, envisioning new jobs and perhaps a renaissance of the movie business, with costs recouped in a single showing of a film.

"Each month subscribers will receive a program guide listing in detail the program offered on each of STV's three channels," says an STV ad. "The cost of each program will be indicated, along with a 'sample period' during which the viewer can look at a portion of the program without charge, and decide whether or not he wants to pay admission. . . .

"At the end of the sample period, the program selector will 'query' each set to determine which, if any, channel is in operation; and a central computer will record the subscriber's name and charge. Billing will be monthly, by mail, like the telephone or water bill. No coins, meters, tapes or servicemen."

10 YEARS AGO

Chairman William D. Fusselman said the Marin County Board of Supervisors might complete purchase of 50 acres in Santa Venetia and take an option on the remainder of a 140-acre site for a county fairgrounds.

After more than seven years of debate, the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board authorized preliminary architectural survey for sncotruction of a $100,000 shop-warehouse building near the toll plaza.

20 YEARS AGO

Rev. Reginald D. Rosson was named rector for St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere.

Marin County Real Estate Board members voted all-out support to put the county "over the top in record time" in the Fifth War Loan campaign.

Marin College Site And The Assessor

Editor, Independent-Journal:

A recent news article revealed that the College of Marin is in the process of acquiring 333 acres of land in northern Marin . . . at a total cost of $860,000. This seemed like a staggering sum to pay for undeveloped land and stimulated a little investigation.

We noted that the board of trustees of the College of Marin had been seeking land for three years.

Going back to 1960-61, we found that the original 437 acres, which includes the 333 acres, had been assessed at no more than $10,120 land value (based on an appraisal of approximately $44,000), and taxed at less than $1,100 a year. Suddenly in 1963-64 the assessed value went up to $155,250 (appraised at $675,000) and the tax became $14,000. . . .

I doubt if any among us think that the land value actually jumped from $44,000 to either $675,000 (assessor's appraisal) or $860,000 (sale price) overnight.

. . . In this particular case there were several years during which the landholder's tax should have been increasing as his land value went up —i. e., the community which created this increase should have been benefitting from it tax-wise. Instead, when the tax suddenly jumped up to a realistic value, the owner dumped the property . . . at over $800,000 more than the value on which he had been paying taxes. And who does he sell it to? The taxpayers of Marin, the very people who created the increased value of the land. If the tax had been climbing in proportion to the increasing land value (as the law intends), not only would the owner have been interested in selling sooner to the college, but he would have sold at a far lower price. . . .

It is gratifying that when our own county assessor, Mr. Bert Broemmel, appraises property he does it well. We must back him fully—and so must the board of supervisors . . . when land owners seek to exert pressure for unjust lower assessments.

We must do more! We must strongly urge Mr. Broemmel to seek effective ways of regularly adding the yearly increases in land values to the assessed roll. One means of doing this might be to decrease the personnel assigned to assessing new improvements . . . using the men thus freed for appraising land.

Another method . . . would be the use of computers. . . .

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Some time ago you published a fine editorial pointing out some of the problems of the San Rafael Canal. It drew attention once again to the apathy of the city council and the county board of supervisors to this waterway. It is distressing to note that, because of the lack of interest by the local government, it has been necessary for a few of the businessmen along the canal to press the federal government for funds to even maintain the canal.

It is possible that many of the local citizens do not realize the benefits that San Rafael and the county receive from this heavily used waterway. In addition to the demand for waterfront real estate for residences, there are many businesses whose lives depend upon this waterway being kept usable.

The many boat shops, the marine service stations, the boat sales organizations and the boat berthing harbors, through their own expenditures and their employees' purchases, contribute tremendously to the area. In addition, local stores, real estate brokers, automobile service stations, etc., all receive business from out-of-towners who come to the canal businesses for their boating needs.

In addition, the city and county receive good incomes from taxes on real property, personal property and sales taxes. With almost a million-dollars-a-year value of boats sold by the various boat sales offices adjacent to the canal, the city receives a considerable sum from sales taxes alone.

It is about time that the boating industry and the recreational boaters receive some direct return for the taxes they pay. Therefore, in my opinion, it behooves the city and county government to include the San Rafael Canal in their planning and to include expenditures not only to maintain the channel but to improve it.

Marin County has a wonderful waterfront area and the efforts being made to preserve it are commendable. The growth and development of the San Rafael Canal, a long - established waterway that produces both good recreational area and a revenue return, deserves first consideration. Anything that your paper can do to encourage local government participation would be worthwhile and a real civic endeavor.

George's Vote Counts Stir Tiburon Critic

Editor, Independent-Journal:

"George" should hide his head, instead of boasting about his "fine job" and "lack of challenge" in tabulating election results. And I mean both George IBM 1401 and George County Clerk Gnoss.

All morning June 3, our five winning Tiburon Council candidates were announced on KTIM as Strawbridge, Hoffmire, Ellinwood, Nash and Souza, in that order. The results were provided by the two Georges. By noon, we understand, our local newspaper editor, Mr. Abrams, had caused much double-checking because of discrepancies between county and local totals.

The Georges had erred in three men's totals—Mr. Megan, Mr. Nevers and Mr. Nash. The changes moved Mr. Nash from the winners' circle and put Mr. Souza and Mr. Hannahs up to spots 4 and 5.

One of the Georges also was forced June 2 to correct his running errors in our precinct lists; voters inside our incorporated limits were being denied ballots and outsiders given them. Both Georges owe public apologies to Mr. Nash and Mr. Hannahs for teasing them into and out of the council that morning.

Foregoing that, at least the Georges could stop bragging about their "flawless performances."

E. D. ASSELIN tells about a superstitious Vermonter named Homer who had a horror of Friday the thirteenth, broken mirrors, spilled salt, and the like. He also had a dead crow hanging on a nail above his barn door. "It keeps the poisonous reptiles off my place," he explained. "But, Homer," protested a visitor, "there isn't a poisonous reptile within hundreds of miles of this spot."

President Aims Heavy Guns At Goldwater's Claim We're Weak

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, far in advance of the political conventions, in effect opened his presidential campaign with a speech on American might last week.

It served three different purposes: It was a warning to the Communist world, a reassurance to allies, and a reply to Sen. Barry Goldwater, who has been consistently critical of American defenses.

It was so detailed, Johnson's talk can be considered a basic reply to any attacks the Republican Party may try to make when the campaign gets going.

In talks Goldwater has made since the start of 1964 and most recently in a booklet—"Sen. Goldwater Speaks Out on the Issues"—the senator has attacked this country's defense set-up in general and its missiles in particular.

The Johnson administration wasted no time going after Goldwater when he began his attack last January with the statement that U. S. intercontinental ballistic missiles were "undependable."

He got a fast answer from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, whom Johnson has blessed consistently. McNamara called Goldwater "politically irresponsible" and his statement "damaging to national security."

Goldwater has attacked him ever since. But on the same day Goldwater made his statement, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said he is confident the United States has "just as good missiles as there are in the world."

Goldwater, acknowledging the importance of missiles, complained this country is getting rid of its manned bombers and by the 1970s will be relying on missiles alone.

He said: "We cannot put our sole reliance on missile systems as against a mixed force—missiles, manned aircraft, and naval vessels of all types."

Johnson said this country has more than 1,000 fully armed ICBM and Polaris missiles fired from submarines ready for retaliation, and he added: "The Soviet Union has far fewer and none ready to be launched beneath the seas."

"We have more than 1,100 strategic bombers. . . . The Soviet Union, we estimate, could with difficulty send less than one-third of this number over targets in the United States."

And Johnson made this sweeping statement: "In every phase of national strength America today is stronger than it has ever been before. It is stronger than any adversary or combination of adversaries. . . ."

Goldwater said, "We are lagging behind in weapons technology and in the development of new systems."

Johnson said: "In the past several years we have begun many important new weapons systems." He listed some of them.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Cover-Up Claimed On Embassy 'Bug' Fuss

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—The State Department is keeping from Congress and the public the most shocking part of the hidden microphones in the U. S. embassy in Moscow.

ON DIRECT ORDERS from Secretary Dean Rusk, the department's security officers have clamped a lid on evidence showing that the Kremlin's deep penetration of our embassy was the worst security disaster suffered by the U. S. since the Korean War; all U. S. secret codes and policy papers dealing with U. S. - Soviet relations were compromised.

Every secret decision made by President John F. Kennedy during the 1962 Cuban missile confrontation was known by Premier Nikita Khrushchev hours, and at times days, before they were implemented or made public.

"Khrushchev didn't need a 'hot line' during the Cuban missile crisis," one security officer reported after making the investigation. "All his agents had to do was intercept the cables being sent to Ambassador Foy D. Kohler by Secretary Rusk outlining the courses of action planned by the president. To confirm his decoded findings, the Soviet leader could listen in on the conversations of U. S. embassy officials over the hidden mikes."

When the present building was turned over to the U. S. authorities in 1952, the Russians retained about one-third of it for their own use. They moved a tremendous amount of electrical equipment into "their part of the U. S. embassy."

THIS COMPROMISING situation, never revealed to either Congress or the public, was tolerated by such noted ambassadors as Charles E. ("Chip") Bohlen and Llewellyn Thompson until the Russians finally agreed to move out of the building in 1962.

At a cost of $150,000 to American taxpayers, the Russians then rebuilt "their" wing, loading it with cameras and secret listening devices, some of which are still within the walls.

Although U. S. security officers already have uncovered 65 hidden microphones, their inspection of the building is still less than 50 per cent complete. They still must take apart the ceilings and floors.

The State Department's investigators stress that Secretary Rusk is suppressing their findings to protect the public images of Ambassadors Bohlen, Thompson and Kohler, the top U. S. Soviet experts whose policies have supposedly baffled the Russians the past 12 years.

"IT WOULDN'T look very good to admit that . . . these experts really never baffled Khrushchev," a security officer pointed out. "The recommendations of these ambassadors were recorded by the Russians when they dictated to their secretaries. They were known to Khrushchev before the messages were coded and cabled to Washington."

The Russians let Finland bring in its own material and labor to construct its embassy, but would never grant the U. S. the same concession.

Universe Is Very Big, BIG Place

BOSTON (UPI) — So you wonder just how big the universe is? Well, Hayden Planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science gives you an idea with the following facts:

There are 100 billion stars (including the sun) in our Milky Way galaxy.

The nearest star to earth, other than the sun, is Alpha Centauri. If you were traveling 600 m.p.h. in a jet airliner, it would take 4.7 million years to reach it.

To reach the nearest spiral galaxy beyond our Milky Way would take more than two million years if you were traveling at the speed of light (186,000 miles per second).

Writer's Mother Gets High Praise For Continuing Interest In Life

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The greatest tribute a child can pay to its parents for the gift of life is to outlive them.

I have existed beyond my father a quarter of a century, but I doubt I can outwear my mother.

SHE GETS STRONGER with the years.

Going on 77, she is fair-complexioned as a milkmaid, still delicate of ankle, but so rotund and robust that it is all her loving children can do to put their arms around her.

She came here from Ireland when the world was young and fair, was ambushed by love, bore five kids without loss—all over 40 and complaining — and has survived the inroads of an Irish temper, a touch of diabetes, and four decades of high blood pressure in good health. Her current foe is rheumatism—and she has a low opinion of it.

"Some days I can hardly move," she remarks, "but where do I want to go anyway except to stay here?"

ONE OF THE THINGS I admire most about my mother, who only went to the third grade in Ireland but educated herself by enjoying people and reading the Kansas City Star, is her human deftness. She is the finest philosopher and most sure-footed family politician I ever knew.

She doesn't just sit on the fence. She patrols both sides of a situation. Any situation.

When she was younger if something displeased her, she fixed her eye on the ceiling and denounced the floor in loud tones.

BUT NOW SHE says, "You must learn to live with life."

Now she says, no matter what happens, "Well, considering the people involved, what else could a sensible person expect?"

Now she says, no matter what her children do, "Well, I brought you up this far. Now you're on your own."

Her children are now too old and dull to attract her keen attention, and she bends her ever-youthful mind to what happens to her grandchildren.

"PLEASE, GRANDMA," they say—when she asks too much about what they are doing. But it is her interest in the young that keeps her from being old.

Perhaps the thing I admire most about my mother is her utter individualism.

Neither God nor the devil can control her mind. She is warm-hearted but free-speaking. What she thinks she says, and what she says she thinks.

LIFE FASCINATES her, but she is unafraid of the truth that long existence has brought her nearer to death.

This last Memorial Day, I visited with her at the cemetery where my father and some other members of the family are buried. The place was alive with remembrance and fragrant with flowers.

My father is buried near a roadway, and the turf above him and his kin is rather thin from the tread of strangers.

"They have to walk across our people to get to theirs," my mother said.

'Mayor' Of Ignacio Takes Minor Setback On San Jose Sign Issue

THE INDEFATIGABLE booster of Ignacio, the unofficial mayor, Frank Galli, has been taking somewhat of a ribbing lately. He succeeded in getting the name of the realigned portion of San Jose Boulevard named Ignacio Boulevard.

That is, it was approved by the Novato City Council and appears so on the new city maps. However, the wheels in the Division of Highways turn very slowly and the plans for the present overpass were drawn up long before the change.

NOW THE STATE is erecting signs indicating the overpass as "San Jose Boulevard." So Frank is getting kidded again that the signs indicate San Jose, and not Ignacio.

But his work was not in vain. The Division of Highways will change the signs from San Jose Boulevard Exit to Ignacio Boulevard Exit, according to Frank. It may take a few weeks, but the change will be made, he said.

THERE IS A NEW sport starting in Novato, and we hope that it doesn't go too far until some place is set aside for it. As yet, it has no official name, but if it did, it would probably be called "skate board water skiing."

The way it works so far is this—one takes a board, similar to the ones mechanics use to crawl under cars, and puts old roller skates on it. Then a water ski rope is tied to a motor scooter. The person stands on the board and "board skis" behind a slow-moving scooter.

So far, no accidents have been reported with this, but we can see a potential danger in it. A motorist would see a scooter and perhaps not the person being towed behind it. Or the scooter would go through an intersection in front of a car, only to have the person being towed pulled in front of the car. The possibilities of such a sport being dangerous are many.

LET'S HOPE THAT it does not get too popular until some place off the public streets is found for it.

Well, it's final now. The Novato High School band is not going to march in the Western Weekend parade, said Robert Wisgerhof, principal of the high school.

"I'VE TALKED to the band leader and the student band leader and they have decided against it," Wisgerhof said. He said it was a combination of little things that prevented the band from marching.

"I suppose we could have thrown the doors open and let some of the kids march, but we would rather not have them march than do a poor job," he said.

That is going to take a lot of fun out of the parade, both for the students, who like to march in it, and the parents, who wanted to see their children in the parade.

Now, had Shakespeare lived in Marin County, he might have written: "There's something rotten at Hamilton Air Force Base."

Well, logic would say that there was, because the Defense Surplus Sales Office on June 2 advertised that it had "bones and meat trimmings, and cooked grease" to be sold on bid sale. Said bones and meat trimmings and cooked grease could be inspected until June 19.

Now, in that three weeks' time—pheeewww!!!

Dog Films, Slides Will Be Shown

Australian industrialist and all-breed dog judge William Spillstead and his wife will be guests of the Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club at its June meeting tonight.

The Spillsteads will show slides and movie films they have taken of dog shows in their trips around the world. The meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. at the Marin County Civic Center, in the third-floor chamber of the planning commission.

when it comes to writing letters? Why fight it. It's easier and faster and more fun to pick up the phone and dial a Long Distance call. It's really appreciated, too. For nothing says YOU like your voice.

... about financial success. The first step towards this much-sought-after goal is the basic protection of the family through Life Insurance.

Should you buy now? Or can it be put off safely if both husband and bride are working? The wise thing is to buy now. Postponement till you're older means higher premiums and the risk of poor health striking in the meantime. Someday too, that second income may stop, making it doubly important that a new mother be guaranteed a living income—an income enabling her to devote full time to raising that precious new addition.

The best buy for the young family is permanent insurance. It provides that most important guarantee of family income. In addition, it's a savings plan providing cash in an emergency and funds for long-range objectives such as a university education for a son.

Call the Man from Manufacturers about financial success through insurance. You'll find him a competent and friendly adviser.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, June 9, the 161st day of 1964 with 205 to follow.

The moon is new; the morning stars are Jupiter and Saturn; the evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1943, Congress passed an act providing for "pay-as-you-go" income tax deductions, authorizing employers to withhold income tax payments from weekly salary checks of their employees.

In In 1948, President Harry S. Truman touched off a controversy when he labeled the 80th congress "the worst we have ever had."

A thought for the day—novelist Victor Hugo said: "The sublimest song to be heard on earth is the lisping of the human soul on the lips of children."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

The advantage of studying foreign languages is that you know how to say "Goodbye" in the proper language if the person standing next to you happens to fall overboard.

It might be even better to study something else (perhaps a bridge column) to prevent the accident altogether.

Opening lead — ♣ Q

West opened the queen of diamonds, and East signalled encouragement with the five. This was a polite gesture, but West was overboard.

REFUSED DIAMOND

South refused the first diamond, won the second, and drew three rounds of trumps. He ruffed dummy's last diamond and ran the three clubs, ending in dummy.

With the stage thus set, declarer led a heart from dummy. East played low, of course, and South played the nine.

West was now beyond rescuing. If West led hearts, South would win a trick with the king. If West led anything else, dummy would ruff while South got rid of a heart. Either way South would lose only two hearts and one diamond.

MUST ADMIT

We must admit that East was polite at the first trick. If East were vigorous and effective, he would play the king of diamonds on his partner's queen.

This play would prevent West from falling overboard.

ONE HEART

West takes one heart trick with the Jack and exits safely with a club or diamond. South must eventually give up two more heart tricks.

Even if South wins the first diamond trick, he must lose a diamond later. East makes sure to win this with the ten in order to lead a heart.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts.

This forcing raise shows strong trump support (four or more) with a total count of 13 to 16 points. You have 11 points in high cards and should count 3 points for the singleton.

Charming Older Home
Absolute Privacy

Listed this Friday — this charming 3-bedrm., 2-bath home is set on a wooded, yet open and sunny lot, with a magnificent view of wooded hills. The patio is most unusual and peaceful. Wisteria vines, small waterfall, red brick, old gnarled tree trunks are some of its ingredients. If desired the home could quite easily be converted to 2 living units, and would show an excellent return.

FLAME IN STONE — This is sculptor Donald Starr's sketch of stone carving of "eternal flame" which College of Marin student executive council proposes to place on campus as a memorial to John F. Kennedy.

Eternal Flame Sculpture Due College

The College of Marin will have a sculpture of the eternal flame on President John F. Kennedy's grave if plans of sculptor Donald Starr work out.

The college's student executive council has approved Starr's sketch of the flame, and the proposal is to be considered by the college board of trustees.

Starr lives at 61 Foothill Road, San Anselmo, and has been a Marin resident about 10 years. Before coming here, he was art teacher at Roseburg (Ore.) High School. He has been a professional sculptor.

He has offered to donate time, labor and materials for the project. The flame-in-stone, he said, will be four to five feet high.

Student leaders hope the sculpture will be placed under a Japanese Elm on the campus, where a temporary memorial plaque for the late president is located.

WATCH FOR DOWNBEAT—Winifred Baker, conductor and founder of the Winifred Baker Chorale, raises her baton at a rehearsal for the June 17 performance of Elgar's oratorio "The Dream of Gerontius." It will be performed in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael, at 8:30 p. m.

Chorale Sets Premier Work

On June 17, the Chorale will present the Marin premiere of a major choral work written in 1901 by Sir Edward Elgar, "The Dream of Gerontius," based on a poem by Cardinal Newman. It will be performed at 8:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall, Dominican College, San Rafael.

Last February, the Chorale gave the West Coast premiere of Menotti's "The Death of the Bishop of Brindisi," and their program for 1964-65 calls for another in addition to the Elgar work.

Featured in "The Dream of Gerontius" are baritone Cary Barford of Fairfax, singing the Priest and the Angel of the Agony; San Francisco tenor Orva Koskinson as Gerontius; and soprano Margery Tede as the Angel. Two years she was the sorceress in the Chorale's performance of "Dido and Aeneas."

Tickets will be available at the door, from members of the chorale and at various Marin County book and music stores.

College Of Marin Expects Record Of 2,200 Students

A record 2,200 fulltime students are expected to enroll for fall semester classes at the College of Marin. Of that number, 1,550 have already reserved their classroom seats.

The flood of students is expected to put particular pressure on science laboratories, special purpose classrooms and cafeteria and parking facilities, President Stephen E. Epler said.

The college will hire 16 more teachers to handle the increase of students. Four general classrooms, two in the new physical education complex and two adjoining the new photography laboratory, will be available. Greater use may also be made of the seven classrooms in the college's San Anselmo center.

Classes will continue to be redistributed, with more scheduled for late afternoon and at noon. More fulltime students also are expected to enroll for noon, late afternoon and evening classes.
